Farm and Household.

A pinch of cayenne, or red pepper sprinkled over the exposed parts of cabbage plants is sure death to the cabbage worms.

A successful sheep raiser says that if a bell be put on one of the stoutest of the flock it will protect the sheep from dogs.

An English grape-grower stopped the profuse bleeding of a thrifty young vine by forming a sort of hard cement over the cut ends by repeated dusting at short intervals with Portland cement.

Hogs are sometimes troubled by disordered stomach. The best antidote is charcoal. Aside from charcoal, charred corn cobs, or charred corn have a good effect.

An Indiana farmer gathered old bones and reduced them by placing them in alternate layers with ashes and the next year used the mixture on a melon hill, and raised the largest crop of melons he ever saw.

There is nothing easier than to remove warts from a cow's teat. Pull a hair out of a cow's tail, tie it around the neck of the wart as close to the teat as you can get it. In a few days the wart will drop off.

Potatoes or any other root crops, may be grown in a young orchard. It would not do any injury to grow corn, but grain crops should not be attempted. They take from the soil the very elements which the trees require.

A Farmer who has experienced with poultry, well-rotted cow manure, barn manure and bone dust for melons, reports that the best yield was obtained when the bone dust was applied.

The tent caterpillars appear to grow less numerous in locations where a determined effort is made to exterminate them. Every good orchardist will see to it that not a single colony in his orchard escapes destruction.

Cisterns should be immediately cleaned out on the first discovery of any unpleasant odors. These are not unfrequently caused by dead insects or vermin, and charge the water and the atmosphere alike with the germs of disease.

The Paris Figaro says: Do not waste your orange peel, but make an incision round it midway, and remove carefully in two halves. Take the two cups and place them hollow downward, one on the grass and the other among the plants and vegetables. At the end of a few days you will be rid of all slugs, black or gray. Every morning you will find that they have taken refuge under the cups of orange peel, and can be destroyed.

To keep apples, says the Germantown Telegraph, the fruit must be free from bruise or blemish. The fruit must be spread out on shelves or packed in barrels, and kept in an atmosphere of from forty to fifty degrees, better from forty to forty-five—that is at a temperature as equable as possible. Some cellars are just the thing, and preserve them beautifully; others are too moist.—Where this is the case a few bushels stone lime should be used. Sliding shelves, six inches apart, latticed bottom, with a single layer of fruit, are extremely convenient, as they allow a constant examination without disturbing the fruit.

Milk for Chickens.—Sloppy food is unfit for chickens. Their stomachs are formed to grind hard substances, and if given soft food the gizzard, a portion of the stomach—which is multible in fowls as in cattle—is weakened, and does not perform its partial digestive functions. Milk may be given with coarse corn meal, both being scalded together until it is a stiff mess, or it may be curdled and separated from the whey, and given dry. But it must not be sour. Sour food is sure to bring on intestinal disorders and prepare such a weakened condition of the system as will offer favorable opportunities for contracting infectious diseases, as poultry cholera.

Lemon juice will allay the irritation caused by bites of gnats and flies.

A weak solution of carbolic acid in rain water will cure pimples and simple eruptions.

Ammonia, saleratus water, and other alkaline washes are the usual remedies for bee stings. A fresh tomato leaf crushed and rubbed on the puncture is recommended as an easy and sovereign cure.

Sponge Cake.—Beat four eggs, two cups sugar, two cups flour (with two heaping teaspoonfuls baking powder sifted in) all together thoroughly; then add a little lemon and two thirds cup of boiling water. Beat well and bake, and you will have as fine a cake as was ever eaten.

When water has once been made to boil, the fire may be very much lessened, as but little heat is required to keep it at a boiling point.—There is no advantage whatever in making water boil furiously; the heat will escape in steam, without raising the heat of the water.

Cold-water Cake.—One teacupful of sugar, piece of butter the size of an egg, one-half teaspoonful of cream of tartar in a coffee-cupful of sifted flour, one fourth teaspoonful of soda in one-half teacupful water, whites of two eggs, beaten to stiff froth, and put in last; flavor to taste.

Raisin Cake.—One cup white sugar, four tablespoonfuls melted butter, stirred together, eight tablespoonfuls sweet milk, one cup flour, one teaspoonful baking powder; flavor with lemon; stir in last the beaten whites of four eggs; bake in layers; for filling, add a little water to one cup of white sugar; put it on the stove to boil; chop one cup of raisins and beat the whites of one egg; take the sugar off and stir the egg and raisins in.

Orange Cake.—Four eggs, two cups sugar, half cup butter, one cup milk, three cups flour, one teaspoon yeast powder, to be baked in four layers. For filling—One orange, one lemon; the grated rind and inside of both beat with the whites of two eggs.

"THE HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT."

A CURIOUS ACCOUNT OF THE ORIGIN OF THE WELL KNOWN NURSERY STORY.

As the occupations and pleasures of childhood produce a powerful impression on the memory, it is probable almost every reader who has passed his infantile days in an English nursery recollects the delight with which he has repeated that puerile jingling legend, "The House that Jack Built." Very few, however, are at all aware of the original form of its composition or the particular subject it was designed to illustrate. Fewer still would suspect that it is only an accommodated and altered translation of an ancient parabolical hymn, sung by the Jews at the Feast of the Passover, and commemorative of the principal events in the history of that people. Yet such is actually the fact. The original, in the Chaldee language, is now lying before me, and, as it may not be uninteresting to the readers of the Congregational Magazine, I will here furnish them with a literal translation of it, and then add the interpretation as given by P. N. Leberect, Leipsic, 1731.

The hymn itself is found in Sepher Haggadah, volume 23:

1. A kid, a kid, my father bought
For two pieces of money;
A kid, a kid.

2. Then came the cat and ate the kid
That my father bought
For two pieces of money;
A kid, a kid.

3. Then came the dog that bit the cat
That ate the kid
That my father bought
For two pieces of money;
A kid, a kid.

4. Then came the staff and beat the dog
That bit the cat
That ate the kid
That my father bought
For two pieces of money;
A kid, a kid.

5. Then came the fire and burned the staff
That beat the dog
That bit the cat
That ate the kid
That my father bought
For two pieces of money;
A kid, a kid.

6. Then came the water and quenched the fire
That burned the staff
That beat the dog
That bit the cat
That ate the kid
That my father bought
For two pieces of money;
A kid, a kid.

7. Then came the ox that drank the water
That quench'd the fire
That burned the staff
That beat the dog
That bit the cat
That ate the kid
That my father bought
For two pieces of money;
A kid, a kid.

8. Then came the butcher and slew the ox
That drank the water
That quench'd the fire
That burned the staff
That beat the dog
That bit the cat
That ate the kid
That my father bought
For two pieces of money;
A kid, a kid.

9. Then came the angel of death and killed the butcher
That slew the ox
That drank the water
That quench'd the fire
That burned the staff
That beat the dog
That bit the cat
That ate the kid
That my father bought
For two pieces of money;
A kid, a kid.

10. Then came the Holy One, blessed be He,
And killed the angel of death
That killed the butcher,
That slew the ox
That drank the water
That quench'd the fire
That burned the staff
That beat the dog
That bit the cat
That ate the kid
That my father bought
For two pieces of money;
A kid, a kid.

The following is the interpretation:

1. The kid, which is one of the pure animals, denotes the Hebrews. The father by whom it was purchased is Jehovah, who represents Himself as sustaining his relation to the Hebrew nation. The peices of money signify Moses and Aaron, through whose mediation the Hebrews were brought out of Egypt.

2. The cat denotes the Assyrians, by whom the Ten Tribes were carried into captivity.

3. The dog is symbolical of the Babylonians.

4. The staff signifies the Persians.

5. The fire indicates the Grand Empire under Alexander the Great.

6. The water betokens the Roman or the fourth of the great monarchies to whom the Jews were subjected.

7. The ox is a symbol of the Saracens, who subjected Palestine and brought it under the Caliphate.

8. The butcher that killed the ox denotes the crusaders by whom the Holy Land was wrested out of the hands of the Saracens.

9. The angel of death signifies the Turkish power, by which the land of Palestine was taken from the Franks, and to whom it is still subject.

10. The commencement of the tenth stanza is designed to show that God will take signal vengeance on the Turks, immediately after whose overthrow the Jews are to be restored to their own land and live under the government of their long expected Messiah.—London Congregational Magazine.

There is said to be a man at Jericho, Vt., who is always called upon to break the news to the family when anybody is accidentally killed there, and he does it in such a neat manner that they are almost glad it happened.

A man asleep at the top of a telegraph pole was a recent spectacle in Boston. He was a drunken repairer, who had grown drowsy at his work. A great crowd gathered, but nothing was done to arouse him, and he finally awoke in safety.

A boy was carrying two pounds of powder and a fuse in a cigar box, at Gibraltar, Pa. The end of the fuse protruded, and a practical joker was at hand to light it. The explosion killed the boy.

"Father, I heard you say in the rail-car yesterday that you were in favor of low fairs."
"I am."
"I thought so, when I saw you kiss our short servant girl, this morning."

The valley of the Mississippi has 1,257,000 square miles of territory. Its waters make about 10,000 miles of navigation, and its valleys give level routes to a vast system of railways.

Literary Revolution and Universal Knowledge.

An Encyclopædia in 20 Volumes, over 16,000 Pages; 10 per cent more matter than any Encyclopædia ever before published in this country, and sold, handsomely and well bound, in cloth for 10, in half morocco for $15, and printed on fine heavy paper, wide margins, bound in half Russia, gilt top, for $20—an enterprise so extraordinary that its success, beyond all precedent in book publishing, may be fairly claimed to inagurate a Literary Revolution.

THE LIBRARY OF UIVERSAL KNOWLEDGE is a reprint of the last (1879) Edinburgh edition of "Chamber's Encyclopædia," with about 40 per cent. of new matter added, upon topics of special interest to American readars, thus making it equal in character to any similar work, better than any other suited to the wants of the great majority of those who consult works of reference, and altogether the latest Encyclopædia in the field.

Specimen Volumes in either style will be sent for examination with privilege of return on receipt of proportionate price per volume.

Special Discounts to all early subscribers, and extra discounts to clubs. Full particulars with descriptive catalogue of many other standard works equally low in price, sent free.

Leading principles of the AMERICAN BOOK EXCHANGE:

I—Publish only books of real value.
II—Work upon the basis of present cost of making books, about one half what it was a few years ago.
III.—Sell to buyers direct, and save them the 50 to 60 per cent. commission commonly allowed to dealers.
IV.—The cost of books when made 10,000 at a time is but a fraction of the cost when made 500 at a time—adopt the low price and sell the large quantity.
V.—Use good type, paper, etc., do careful printing, and strong, neat binding, but avoid all "padding," fat and heavily-leaded type, spongy paper and gaudy binding, which are so commonly resorted to to make books appear large and fine, and which greatly add to their cost, but do not add to their value.
VI.—To make $1 and a friend is better than to make $5 and an enemy.

PERFECTLY SAFE IN THE MOST INEXPERIENCED HANDS!

For Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cramps, Cholera, AND ALL THOSE NUMEROUS TROUBLES OF THE STOMACH AND BOWELS SO PREVALENT AT THIS SEASON,

No Remedy known to the Medical Profession has been in use so long and with such uniformly satisfactory results as

PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER

It has been used with such wonderful success in all parts of the world in the treatment of these difficulties, that it has come to be considered

AN UNFAILING CURE FOR ALL SUMMER COMPLAINTS

and such it really is when taken in time and according to the very plain directions inclosing each bottle.

In such diseases, the attack is usually sudden and frequently very acute; but with a safe remedy at hand for immediate use, there is seldom danger of the fatal result which so often follows a few days' neglect.

The inclination to wait and see if the morrow does not bring a better feeling, not infrequently occasions a vast amount of needless suffering, and sometimes costs a life. A timely dose of Pain Killer will almost invariably save both, and with them the attendant doctor's fee.

It has stood the test of forty years' constant use in all countries and climates, and is perfectly safe in any person's hands.

It is recommended by Physicians, Nurses in Hospitals, and persons of all classes and professions who have had opportunity for observing the wonderful results which have always followed its use.

THE BEST EVIDENCE:

I have long used the medicine known as PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER in my family and would not on any account be without it. When Cholera was last epidemic here, I used no medicine of any sort but the Pain Killer, and although myself and several members of my family were attacked severely, I am happy to say that the Pain Killer was equal to every emergency. I consider I should not be doing my duty to the community did I not say this much. If I were attacked by the Cholera to-day, Pain Killer would be the only remedy I should use. I have thoroughly tested it, and know it can be relied on.
F. E. BERGINSEND, Galena, Illinois.

Messrs. PERRY DAVIS & SON:
I know you need no testimonial to convince you that your medicine is all that you claim for it, but I cannot restrain the impulse to communicate to you the fact that in my family it has truly done wonders. I administer it to my children (one eighteen months, and the other three years old) with perfect success. It regulates their bowels, and stops all diarrhœa. Myself and wife resort to it in all cases, both for internal and external use. I've used it in my family for five years, and will not be without it. Feeling myself under much obligation to you, in many times being relieved from pain, I am very truly yours,
L. F. MOORE, Bangall, Dutchess Co., New York.

No family can afford to be without it, and its price brings it within the reach of all. The use of one bottle will go further to convince you of its merits than columns of newspaper advertising. Try it, and you will never do without it. Price 25c. 50c. and $1.00 per bottle. You can obtain it at any drug-store or from

VOHELL HOUSE.

THE UNDERSIGNED takes this method of tendering his heartfelt thanks to his old friends and the public generally for the liberal support and sympathy so generously extend to him under the recent adverse circumstances by which he has been surrounded, and takes great pleasure in informing them that the house, in a few days, will be in r st-class condition, the repairs and improvements thereto being made under his own supervision.

THE STABLING,
which is commodious and in excellent condition, is now under his control, and those entrusting their horses and carriages to his care may rest assured that they will be faithfully attended to by trusty and experienced hostlers.

THE TABLE,
as heretofore, will always be found supplied with substantials and delicacies of the season, and will be under the experienced management of his wife, who will see that no pains are spared to make it, in every respect, first-class.
With the xed purpose of leaving nothing undone on my part which will conduce to the comfort of my guests, I respectfully solicit the patronage of the public.

RAMBO LIME.

LAST year I purchased from Nathan Rambo the Blue Quarry upon the lands devised to him by his father, the elder Nathan Rambo. It was out of this Quarry that the Limestone came which gave this Lime its high reputation.

This, and this only, is the GENUINE RAMBO LIME.

I own ALL of the land on which this stone lies. This Quarry was discontinued only because a vein of earth cut off the face. I have cut through this and re-opened these Quarries upon the original stone which old Nathan Rambo quarried as long as he could find it.
WE CHALLENGE ALL TESTS.
R. McCOY & CO.

Robert McCoy bought of me my Blue Quarry—I have seen it since he re-opened it, and am satisfied that he works on the blue stone worked by my father in his lifetime.
NATHAN RAMBO.

This Lime will be shipped by railroad or water to all stations and landings in Maryland and Delaware. For Prices and Terms apply to

DEALER IN
GRAIN, LIME, COAL, WOOD, PEACH CRATES AND BASKETS.
Schuylkill Lime a Specialty.

Mr. B. F. Fleming: I used Mogee's Schuylkill Lime on corn last spring. It slacked more to the bushel, acted quicker, and gave me the best satisfaction of any Lime I have ever used.
GEORGE H. SNITCHER.

Mr. B. F. Fleming: We have used Mogee's Lime for three successive seasons. It slacks more, contains less core, acts quicker, and we believe it is the best Lime in the market.
