HEDGE-PLANTS FOR THE SOUTHERN STATES.

Several correspondents in the Southern States have asked which are the plants best suited for hedges in their climate. We would suggest to these that there is a more important question than the kind of plant—do they want a hedge at all? There is so much to be said on both sides of the hedge question that we do not propose to discuss it now. Whatever the kind of live fence, it requires, in order to keep it in serviceable condition, more or less yearly care. Hedges differ in the amount of attention they demand, but all must have some, and the ability to give this must be taken into the account, in deciding whether or not to establish a hedge. We assume that our correspondents refer to hedges as barriers to turn stock, and not to those for ornament.—When a mere screen is required, or it is desirable to separate the lawn or ornamental grounds from the kitchen garden and the like, ability to turn animals is not looked for; a hedge in such a place should be evergreen, that it may appear at its best all the year round. There are many shrubs and trees which may be employed for such a hedge, of kinds not hardy in the Northern States. The European Laurels, Japan Euonymus, Cape Jessamine, Laurestinus, Pittosporum, and others, known with us only as greenhouse shrubs, will make hedges beautiful for flowers as well as for foliage. But to make a thorny barrier, the number of plants is much less. The two most useful plants in the Northern States, Osage Orange and Honey Locust will answer in southern localities also, but are open to the objection that they are not evergreen, and of too vigorous growth. The late Mr. Affleck, of Texas, who gave much attention to the subject, regarded the Osage Orange as inferior to several other plants for southern localities, and his objections to that—the amount of care it must have—would apply with more force to the Honey Locust. One of his favorite hedge plants was the Evergreen or Pyracanth Thorn (Cratægus Pyracantna.) from the south of Europe. This has fine dark persistent foliage, and abundant white blossoms succeeded by a profusion of red haws. As it is naturally a bush, it does not require severe cutting to form and keep it as a hedge. It is not surely hardy north of Virginia, but its white-berried variety is said to be much more hardy, and to endure the winters of New York State. That which was preferred by Mr. Affleck to all others as a general hedge-plant, is the Cherokee Rose (Rosa Sinica). This is of Asiatic origin, though long supposed to be a native. It makes shoots 20 to 40 feet long, which are very thorny and clothed with shining evergreen leaves, and bearing large, single, pure white flowers. This is not cut back to form a hedge, but the long shoots are heaped up and form an impenetrable barrier. Upon rich soil this rose is too rampant, and Mr. Affleck in such cases, preferred the Macartney Rose, another foreign species. We know that the Pyracanth Thorn is offered at the nurseries, and suppose that the Roses may be had also. The Thorn is propagated by cuttings and from seeds, while the Roses are almost wholly raised from cuttings. Being very hard-wooded species, they strike root slowly, hence they are set in beds in the open air in autumn, and are allowed to grow a year before planting them.—American Agiculturist for February 1.

To prevent lamp smoking soak wick in strong vinegar twenty-four hours.

Moths in Carpets.—Iron all around edges with hot flat-iron over a newspaper.

To remove grease from wall paper place over spot several folds of blotting paper and hold hot flat iron over it.

Waterproof Liquid for Boots.—Pint linseed oil; eight ounces suet; six ounces beeswax; one resin; melt together.

To polish furniture apply, with flannel, equal parts boiled linseed oil and kerosene—rub dry with another flannel.

Equal parts of pulverized sugar and borax, mixed and spread about on papers will destroy flies.

Sugar Cake.—Two cups of sugar three eggs, one cup of butter, one cup of milk or water, flour enough to make a batter.

Stuffed Cabbage.—Select a fine-large cabbage, strip the outer leaves off the stalk, scoop out the heart, and fill with mince, bread crumbs, onions and seasoning. Tie in a cloth and boil for one hour.

Rich Griddle Cakes.—Into twelve ounces of flour rub one large spoonful of butter, and three eggs, with as much milk as will make the dough the consistency of paste.—Roll it out thin. Make into cakes and bake them on a griddle.

Beefsteak.—A beefsteak chopped up fine, and baked with flour and yeast in the form of a meat bread-loaf, is the latest dietetic sensation. It is asserted that meat thus treated entirely disappears during the process of baking, the nutritive principles becoming incorporated with the bread.

Good Coffee.—Good coffee can be made in a common coffee-pot by observing the following rules: Use the best old Java, and allow one tablespoonful for each person that to drink, then pour on boiling water in the proportion of a pint in each taspoonful, and break an egg into the pot, throwing in the shell also. If you think it extravagant to use an egg for this purpose, a fish-skin as large as an old-fashioned cent will settle it well. Boil about half an hour, and just before serving pour out a little of the coffee and return it to the pot, and set it in some place where it will stand even, but not on the stove.

Apple Dumpling.—2 lbs. apples 4 eggs, 1 teacup milk, little sugar, a few drops of lemon, 2 ounces butter and some bread crumbs. Mince the apples and mix with the other ingredients, form balls, and boil in hot water slightly salted. Serve with wine or fruit sauce.

LITTLE LAURETTE.

BY MORTIMER COLLINS.

Little Laurette was sitting beside
Her dressing-room fire in a dream alone!
A mignonne mixture of love and pride
She seemed, as she loosed her zone.

She combed her tresses of wondrous hair,
Her small white feet to the fire peeped out,
Strangely fluttered her bosom fair,
And her lips had a wilful pout.

Whoever had seen that Little Laurette,
Looking so innocent, tender and sweet,
Would have long'd to make her his own own pet,
To lie at her fair young feet.

Is it fear dwells in those weird blue eyes
For it is not love, and it is not sorrow,
Ah! little Laurette, from your dream arise,
You must be married to-morrow.

Married to one who loves you well,
Whose wealth to your life will a glory be,
Yet I guess you are thinking—who can tell?—
Of Frank, who is over the sea.

How happy they were, that girl and boy,
On the garden terrace, by moonlight met,
When to look in his eyes was the perfect joy
Of that little darling Laurette,

How wretched they were, that boy and girl,
When for the last, last time they met,
And he carried away a soft bright curl,
And the heart of little Laurette.

Pooh, pooh. her heart? Why, she hasn't a heart;
She waltzed that night with Sir Evelyn Vere.
Into the greenhouse they strolled apart—
He's got twenty thousand a year—

A house in Park Lane—a chateau in France—
A charming villa on Windermere.
She made up her mind in that very first dance
She'd like to be Lady Vere.

The news will go out by the Overland Mail;
In a month or two poor Frank will hear
That London has nothing to do but to hail
The beauty of Lady Vere.

She'll be Queen of Fashion, that heartless elf,
Till a younger comes and the world grows cool,
And as to Frank—will he shoot himself?
Well, I hope he's not quite such a fool.

A BALLADINE.

CORNELIA SEABRING PARKER.

She was the prettiest girl, I ween,
That mortal eyes had ever seen;
Her name was Anabel Christine,
Her bangs were curled with bandoline,
Her cheeks were smoothed with vaseline,
Her teeth were brushed with fine dentine,
Her lace was washed in coaline,
Her gloves were cleaned with gasoline,
She wore a dress of grenadine,
Looped over a skirt of brilliantine,
Her petticoat was bombazine,
Her foot was shod with a kid bottine,
Her wounds were healed with cosmoline.
She sailed away from Muscatine,
In a ship they called a brigantine;
She flirted with a gay marine
Till they reached the Republic Argentine,
Where they were married by the Dean,
And lived on Oleomargarine.

☞ Little Johnny got himself into a scrape last week. De Smith, Johnny's father, does not like his mother-in-law. There is a coolness between them. One morning who should come in but Mrs. De Smith's mother, with a drayful of baggage, with the avowed purpose of staying a few months, stating that Johnny had been to her the day before and invited her to do so. Johnny's ma took Johnny aside and asked him what he meant, as he had never been requested to convey any such invitation.

"I know you did not tell me to invite grandma to come over," he responded.

"Then why did you do it?"

"You didn't let me go to the suckus, did you?"

"What has that got to do with it?" asked the irate mother.

"It's got heaps to do with it. I made up my mind then to bring things to a crisis, and I've done it. We will have a suckus in the house now three or four times a day. "I'm a kind boy to my parents, but it won't do to trample on me. I'm not much of a Sunday school boy either, but I am a terror to plan."

Elijah Q. Allen is a very absent-minded man. A friend went to Houston the other day and when he got back Elijah asked him: "How is old Major Bones coming on? Has he changed much of late?" "Changed! Why, I should smile! He has been dead more than three years." "That's a fact! I was one of the pall-bearers at his funeral. I was thinking of old Major Snooks, who died about the same time. Has he changed much of late?—Galveston News.

NOTHING ON EARTH SO GOOD.

Certainly a strong opinion, said one of our reporters to whom the following was detailed by Mr. Henry Kaschop, with Mr. Geo. E. Miller, 418 Main St., this city: I suffered so badly with rheumatism in my leg last winter, that I was unable to attend to my work, being completely helpless. I heard of St. Jacobs Oil and bought a bottle, after using which I felt greatly relieved. With the use of the second bottle I was completely cured. In my estimation there is nothing on earth so good for rheumatism as St. Jacobs Oil. It acts like a charm.

The Nordenskjold, the largest torpedo boat in existence, was recently launched at Copenhagen. She measures 215 feet in length and 42 feet in breadth. She can make fifteen miles an hour. Her steel armor is four inches thick, and she carries an unusually large breech-loading Krupp gun.

☞ Some youngster recently dropped the following note, written in a sprawling hand, on brown paper, into one of the letter boxes at the post office: "My dear Santa Clause: Won't you please bring me for crismas a nice tourch lite prossession on horseback so i can ride myself."

☞ "And how does Charlie like going to school?" kindly inquired a good man of a litttle six-year-old boy. "I like going well 'nough," replied the boy ingnuously, "but I don't like staying after I get there."

☞ An article going the rounds of the press is entitled, "Why is Life a Disappointment?" We suspect it is because the other fellow got the most votes.

Where true religion of the heart has prevented one crime, false religion of the head has afforded pretext for many.

☞ In 36 counties in Georgia gold is found, and in 36 diamonds. Whiskey is found, however, in all.

☞ Remember the poor, and, if possible, do something to make them remember you.

Literary Revolution and Universal Knowledge.

An Encyclopædia in 20 Volumes, over 16,000 Pages; 10 per cent more matter than any Encyclopædia ever before published in this country, and sold, handsomely and well bound, in cloth for 10, in half morocco for $15, and printed on fine heavy paper, wide margins, bound in half Russia, gilt top, for $20—an enterprise so extraordinary that its success, beyond all precedent in book publishing, may be fairly claimed to inagurate a Literary Revolution.

The Library of Uciversal Knowledge is a reprint of the last (1879) Edinburgh edition of "Chamber's Encyclopædia," with about 40 per cent. of new matter added, upon topics of special interest to American readars, thus making it equal in character to any similar work, better than any other suited to the wants of the great majority of those who consult works of reference, and altogether the latest Encyclopædia in the field.

Specimen Volumes in either style will be sent for examination with privilege of return on receipt of proportionate price per volume.

Special Discounts to all early subscribers, and extra discounts to clubs. Full particulars with descriptive catalogue of many other standard works equally low in price, sent free.

Leading principles of the AMERICAN BOOK EXCHANGE:

I—Publish only books of real value

II—Work upon the basis of present cost of making books, about one half what it was a few years ago.

III.—Sell to buyers direct, and save them the 50 to 60 per cent. commission commonly allowed to dealers.

IV.—The cost of books when made 10,000 at a time is but a fraction of the cost when made 500 at a time—adopt the low price and sell the large quantity.

V.—Use good type, paper, etc., do careful printing, and strong, neat binding, but avoid all "padding," fat and heavily-leaded type, spongy paper and gaudy binding, which are so commonly resorted to to make books appear large and fine, and which greatly add to their cost, but do not add to their value.

VI.—To make $1 and a friend is better than to make $5 and an enemy.

WILLIAM PERKINS, Propriet or

HELP Yourselves by making money when a golden chance is offered, thereby always keeping poverty from your door. Those who always take advantage of the good chances for making money that are offered, generally become wealthy, while those who do not improve such chances remain in poverty. We want many men, women, boys and girls to work for us right in their own localities. The business will pay more than ten time ordinary wages. We furnish an expensive outfit and all that you need free. No one who engages fails to make money very rapidly. You can devote your whole time to the work, or only your spare moments. Full information and all that is needed sent free. Address Stinson & Co., Portland, Maine.

W. Register's MARBLEWORKS,

Chestertown, Md.

ALLOW ME to tender my sincere thanks for the past patronage of the public, and hope to receive their approval and patronage this present year. I am prepared to cut and finish every design in the marble business.

I have a very handsome assortment of my own finished

TOMBSTONES.

Some of the Latest Designs,

HANDSOMELY FINISHED,

Copied from the Late Paris Exhibition.

A large assortment for children, different patterns, some as low as $6.00, lettering included. Some fifty different patterns for grown persons, handsomely finished, some of them as low as $15.00, lettering included. Also, a fine line of different patterns, expressly for the very thick and heavy and handsomely finished of the best marble.

Marble Posts, marble Vases with Pedestal, Marble Coping, Tombstones and Monuments, of all sizes and styles.

Marble or Sandstone worked to order. I warrant all my work not to color or blister—time has no effect on it. I set up all of my work, thus relieving the purchaser of all trouble or risk.

Come one, come all, that are in want, and examine my work and learn my prices. I will be thankful. Don't send the money out of your own neighborhood.

Call and see me. I do not like to canvass for work, for I think it too sad a business to barter with relatives or friends.

My work can be seen in all the cemeteries of Kent and the adjoining counties.

CHEAP! CHEAPER!! CHEAPEST!!!

The subscriber is now selling his best Ice Cream for $1.25 per gallon; 75 cents per half-gallon; 40 cents per quarter gallon; 25 cents per one-eighth gallon; plates 10 cts. It is now pronounced to be the very best that was ever in this market—so declared by ladies and gentlemen from New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore. The Cream furnished by the undersigned to the Odd Fellows' anniversary, at the Court House, April 29th, was said, by the two hundred or three hundred ladies and gentlemen who partook of it, to have been the best they ever ate; which, of itself, is a good advertisement.

Picnics, Festivals and Excursions will be allowed a discount on all orders of and above five gallons

All orders must be accompanied by the cash.

The Ladies' Parlor will be open after next Monday.

Thanking the public for all favors conferred in the past, and hoping for a continuance of liberal patronage, I promise to do my best to please all.

VOSHELL HOUSE.

THE UNDERSIGNED takes this method of terdering his heartfelt thanks to his old friends and the public generally for the liberal support and sympathy so generously extend to him under the recent adverse circumstances by which he has been surrounded, and takes great pleasure in informing them that the house, in a few days, will be in r st-class condition, the repairs and improvements thereto being made un der his own supervision.

THE STABLING,

which is commodious and in excellent condition, is now under his control, and those entrusting their horses and carriages to his care may rest assured that they will be faithfully attended to by trusty and experienced hostlers.

THE TABLE,

as heretofore, will always be found supplied with substantials and delicacies of the season, and will be under the experienced management of his wife, who will see that no pains are spared to make it, in every respect, first-class.

With the xed purpose of leaving nothing undone on my part which will conduce to the comfort of my guests, I respectfully solicit the patronage of the public.
