THURSDAY, MARCH 24, 1881.

Death of a Respected Citizen.—Robert J. Lusby, a well known and highly respected citizen of the upper part of Kent county, died at his home, last Monday, in the sixty-fifth year of his age.

Personal.—The friends of Mr. Thomas P. Dixon, President of the Board of County Commissioners, will be glad to learn that his symptoms are much better. We are informed that on Monday he was able to be out of his bed.

Grain Market.—Last Tuesday, in Baltimore, good Fultz wheat sold at $1 20½, and prime to choice is quoted at $1 22 for Fultz and $1 27 for long-berry. No. 1 Maryland red sold at $1 25. Southern corn was again firm for white and lower for yellow, with both selling at 57c.

Capt. J. B. Wilson, of the Chester river police sloop, arrested on the 6th instant, for dredging in forbidden waters, the schooner "Swan" and pungy "Anna K. Duke," and on the 7th the pungy "Nabob." These make fourteen recent arrests by this vigilant officer for violations of the oyster law.

A Handsome Residence.—H. W. Vickers, Esq., State's Attorney for Kent county, recently purchased of Mr. H. W. Carvill, forty acres of land lying between the roads leading from Whaland's mill, upon which he designs building a handsome residence. The price paid for the land was $50 per acre. The site is a beautiful one for building purposes.

Boxed Himself.—Aaron Comegys, a gentleman of color, stole some clothing on last Saturday evening, from the house of Mr. Thos. Parsons, living beyond Worton Fair Grounds. The Sheriff was notified and was on the look out for Aaron. On last Tuesday Aaron came to town, visited the jail, and asked permission to call on his friend Sanders, who was recently committed for stealing corn. The sheriff kindly permitted him to go up and see his friend. While he was engaged in conversation with his friend Sanders, the sheriff gently locked the door, thus insuring him that his visit would not be speedily interrupted. Comegys has been in the penitentiary twice for stealing. He stands a reasonable chance of making his third trip across the water

T. R. Hubbard & Son, whose advertisement will be found elsewhere, have their factory in full operation, manufacturing their brand of fertilizer to supply the spring demand. We went through their factory on Monday for the first time, and were surprised at the extent and completeness of the machinery used in manufacturing their goods. They were at the time grinding bone tankings, bone and nitre cake. These ingredients were first passed through a powerful bone-crusher, and afterward through a mill that reduced them to a meal state. They have already quite a large quantity of their standard made up, and are still mixing. They claim to manufacture in every respect a first-class article, and they say that farmers who used their goods last spring are much pleased. They anticipate a brisk trade this spring.

In Refutation of Ingersoll.—Bishop Wayman, of the African M. E. Church, lectured at the colored church corner of Calvert and Kent streets, on last Tuesday night, in reply to the doctrines of Col. R. G. Ingersoll. Seats were reserved for white people, and there were forty or fifty of that color present, who were brought out by a desire to know what the colored Bishop might have to say in reply to Colonel Ingersoll. His lecture evidenced considerable theologic learning and investigation. He said that Ingersoll has rejected the Bible, because he claims that its teachings are in many respects contrary to morality. He—Ingersoll—claims that the Bible encourages intemperance, polygamy and slavery, and is inimical to the rights of women and children? The speaker met these claims by showing that the evils of intemperance, polygamy and slavery have always been and are yet much greater in heathen and unchristianized countries, than in countries that live under Bible teachings: and that the rights of women and children receive more consideration in Christian lands, than in those lands that are anti-christian. The court house has been granted, and the lecture will be repeated there next Tuesday evening.

Lively Times in Chester River.—On Friday night of last week there was a very serious conflict in Chester river between the oyster police sloop Nannie Merryman and a fleet of oyster-dredgers that had sailed into the river early in the evening. The dredgers were trespassing on grounds forbidden to them under the law, one of the provisions of which is that there shall be no dredging beyond the headlands of the rivers and estuaries of the bay; and another provision of which is that the dredgers must cull their oysters on the natural or legal grounds whereupon they were taken. The dredgers in the Chester river combat seem to have broken both these features of the statutes. They sailed up the river during Friday, when a heavy fog hung over the Chesapeake. They made their way up the river without any trouble, but late in the afternoon several of the fleet ran down and capsized the tongers who were at work along the stream. The tongers, who are the irreconcilable enemies of dredgers, saw a chance for revenge, and so sent a delegation of their men across Gray's Inn Neck to the captain of the Nannie Merryman, who at once headed for the mouth of the river to lay in wait for the dredgers. Just previous to midnight the schooner Eugene slipped down, and was hailed by the captain of the Nannie, who ordered her to come to. The captain of the Eugene, John Wilson, a big, stalwart fellow, was steering his boat, and he paid no attention to the call. He kept his course before the wind, and in a moment more the Nannie was alongside of him. The Nannie gave him a broadside from her swivel, and the Eugene answered with a big ducking gun. As the vessels fouled the Eugene jibed her main boom, which carried away the shrouds of the sloop and smashed her port-light. After this the pursuit was not kept up, and the Eugene took her course for Baltimore, where she went into port on Saturday afternoon. The police sloop continued her cruise in the river, and during the remainder of Friday night had a running engagement with the schooners Merrick, Cambridge, Kite and Petrel. The Merrick and the Kite were captured, and the police sloop took them before a Kent county magistrate where they paid their fine and were released. The boats were not brought up to Chestertown as stated in the Baltimore papers.

Queen Anne's Items.

From the Centreville Observer.

Work on the Kent Island narrows has been resumed.

Two reports are current as to the horse that was recently found drowned and floating down Tuckahoe creek with a saddle on him. One report is that the horse was stolen and turned loose, and was drowned in endeavoring to cross the stream on his way home. The other report is that the rider was drunk, and endeavored to ride his horse over a tressle work bridge, and that both horse and rider were drowned. No body of the supposed drowned man has yet been found.

Judge D. C. H. Emory, a native of Queen Anne's county, but since 1852 a legal practitioner in Baltimore city, died at his home near Baltimore, on last Saturday, in the 74th year of his age.

ARMORY, CHESTERTOWN, MD., March 22d, 1881.

The Kent Guards assembled in full dress uniform last Tuesday evening, and after an hour's drilling, proceeded to the annual election of officers. Capt. H. W. Vickers was not present, being detained at his home. Ex-orderly sargeant T. J. Joiner, was called to the chair.

The resignations of Capt. H. W. Vickers, 1st Lieut. T. S. Bordley and 2d Lieut. Thomas G. DeFord were tendered the company, but were refused, and by a unanimous vote the same officers were re-elected for the ensuing year. The resignation of John W. Bordley as secretary of the company was accepted, after considerable discussion, and George S. Vickers was unanimously elected to fill his place.

On motion nominations were made for sargeants, to be voted for two weeks hence. The following names were put in nomination: For 1st sargeant, Robert R. Calder—no opposition. 2d sargeant, Henry Krusen and Wm. F. Wroth; 3d, Chas. W. Kennard, J. N. Wheatley, T. J. Wroth, T. J. Joiner, Frank Duyer; 4th, J. W. Bordley, W. A. Wheatley, J. N. Wheatley, W. A. Biscoe, J. Frank Connelly; 5th, Walter Beck, Jesse Copper, John Chapman.

E. H. Allcott, W. S. Twilley and Amos Kelly applied for membership, and were unanimously elected. V.

"NOTES BY THE WAY."

WHEAT AND GRASS—DEATHS—SHEEP KILLED—BEAUTIFUL HEDGES—SICKNESS, ETC.

The vernal showers and mild weather of the past week has started the wheat and grass to growing, and the buds to swelling.

The grim monster death has cast its baneful shadow over two homes in our midst. John Thompson died on Thursday, and Robert J. Lusby this morning.

Mr. Thompson was a good citizen and worthy man. Still Pond people miss him. He leaves a wife and three children. Concussion of the brain was the cause of death. His remains were interred yesterday at Middletown, Del.

Mr. Lusby died of typhoid pneumonia, at his late residence near Chesterville. Few men pass away leaving such spotless characters behind them. For integrity and moral worth he had but few equals. During his illness he was anxious to get well, but said he was ready and willing to die if it was the will of Providence. His funeral will take place at his late home Thursday morning, at 10 o'clock. Interment in Chester Cemetery.

Mr. John Polk has sold all his evaporated peaches (about eleven thousand pounds) for twenty eight and twenty-nine cents per pound. At these prices there is more money in evaporating than shipping peaches.

George W. Rodenhizer had seven valuable sheep killed by dogs, last Thursday night. It is too bad that worthless curs are allowed in a community.

Edward Hepbron has a Clydesdale horse, three years old, 17 hands high and weighs 1700 pounds. This county has long needed a horse of this size. For work our natives are too small and they are gradually degenerating. If we continue to breed as we have been doing, it will soon take four horses to haul a half ton of hay, like it does in Sussex county, Del.

E. B. Pennington, near Chesterville, dug up a breech-loading rifle on his place some time ago. Probably a relic of the early settlers of this peninsula. It is a curiosity.

Fishing Hawks returned on the 14th, three days earlier than usual. Some think their early appearance is the harbinger of the earth's destruction this year.

L. C. Justis, near Kennedyville, has model Osage Orange Hedges.

Sickness is on the increase. Measles and pneumonia are the prevailing diseases. It is trying weather on the old and infirm.

TECUMSEH.

Lynch's, March 21, 1881.

Lippincotts' Magazine.—Lippincott's Magazine for April presents a very varied list of contents, yet all of a light and vivacious character. "A Peep at the North of Ireland," by W. Geo. Beers, and "Characteristic Dances of the Wor'd," by Amelia E. Barr, entertainingly written and well illustrated, are otherwise sufficiently described by their titles. The first of a short illustrated series of papers on "Zoological Curiosities," by Dr. Felix L. Oswald, treats of Mountain Sheep. "On a California Ranch," by Louise Coffin Jones, is a capital descriptive sketch; J. Brander Matthews writes critically, and with ample knowledge, of the "Present Tendencies of the French Drama;" Lizzie W. Champney has an anecdotical paper, from unpublished sources, on the American Loyalists who, after the Revolution, found new homes in the province of New Brunswick; and Frank D. Y. Carpenter gives a very amusing sketch of "Wash Lo," the typical Chinaman of the present day, in distinction from Ah Sin, who is now all but extinct.

A new serial story, with the quaint title of "Craque-o'-Doom," opens well, the characters being novel and yet life-like, the movement rapid, and the style crisp and spirited. Of the short stories, "John Henry," by Sydney Chase, is laughable, while in "Sister Weeden's Prayer," by Sherwood Bonner, there is a mixture of humor and pathos. The poems are by Maurice Thompson, Howard Glyndon, and Charlotte Bates, and among the good things in the "Monthly Gossip" is a notice of Carlyle which describes his person, manners, and conversation in the surroundings of his own home.

Eclectic Magazine.—The Eclectic for April is a "George Eliot number," containing the most important of the articles that were called forth in England by the death of the famous novelist. Among these are: "George Eliot: A Personal Sketch," from Blackwood's Magazine, making some interesting disclosures regarding her early relations with the Blackwood house; "George Eliot: A Critical Study," by Leslie Stephen; and "George Eliot: Her Moral influence," by One who Knew Her. No one interestd in the career and character of George Eliot should fail to read these articles.

The remaining contents of the number are of the usual variety and interest, comprising an interesting paper on "Thomas Carlyle;" "A Day with Liszt in 1880," by Rev. H. R. Haweis; "A Persian Apologue," by Austin Dobson; "Some Facts about Fishes," by W. S. Dallas, F.L.S.; "On Some of Shakespeare's Female Characters. H. Portia," by One who has Personated them (Helen Faucit Martin); "Old Marriage Customs;" "The Bishop Astray," a piquant comedietta; "Et tu in Arcadia Vixisti," by R. L. Stevenson; "Kith and Kin," a novel, by Jessie Fothergill, author of "The First Violin;" "Lord Campbell's Memoirs," by A. Hayward; "Woman's Claim," by Emily Pfeiffer; "Frank Buckland, the Naturalist," by Spencer Walpole; "Mr. Whymper's Ascent of Chimborazo;" "The Tractarians," by James Anthony Froude; "Athletics and Education," by Hely Hutchinson Almond; "Fat-behind-the Eye," by Julius Beerbohm; Literary Notices; Foreign Literary Notes; Science and Art; and Miscellany.

Published by E. R. PELTON, 25 Bond Street, New York. Terms, $5 per year; single copy. 45 cts.; Trial subscription for three months, $1.

Cut This Out.—It is presumed that barely one-fourth of the purchasers of clothing are fair judges of their purchases; and it is therefore important to know where you can buy with confidence, that you may get your money's worth. C. N. OEHM & SON, 230 W. Pratt St., through to 55 Hanover St., have been in the business in Baltimore for over a quarter of a century; they manufacture every garment sold by them. Their experience enables them to give satisfaction in quality, price, material and workmanship, and no one in want of clothing should neglect to call upon them. It will pay you.

"A horse! a horse! my kingdom for a horse!" when K ng Richard spoke these words of Bosworth field, he undoubedly meant a horse which had been using ROBERT'S CELEBRATED HORSE POWDERS, as no other animal would have conveyed him to a safe place in the quickest possible time. Price 25 cts.—sold every where.

Marriages have increased 40 per cent. since young men have learned of the soothing effect of SINES' TAR, WILD CHERRY and HOARHOUND, upon babies. Young men if you keep a bottle on hand for an emergency, you are safe in bringing things to a climax.

The Independent.

"The foremost religious newspaper of the United States."—JOSEPH COOK.

THE INDEPENDENT seeks the patronage of the public on these grounds, as follows:

1st. It is the largest weekly religious newspaper published in the world.

2d. It employs as contributors more able writers, at home and abroad, than any other weekly newspaper.

3d. It gives its readers a wider range of topics and more and fuller departments than they can find elsewhere in any journal.

THE INDEPENDENT consists of 32 pages, neatly cut and pasted. It is printed from clear type (we stereotype the pages weekly, and hence, every issue is really printed with the new type) and on good paper, and mechanically it is unexcelled.

There is no question of prominence in religion, politics, science, education, finance, or any other department of human knowledge which THE INDEPENDENT does not discuss. It has regular departments devoted to Biblical Research, Missions, Religious intelligence, Book Reviews and Literary News, and Sunday school, Education, Science, Sanitary questions, Fine Arts, the movements of ministers, Personalities, News of the Week, Financial and Commercial matters, including Weekly Prices Current, Market Reports, Cattle Market, Dry Goods Quotations, Flowers and Farming, and Insurance. In its religious department it gives news and statistics of all denominations of Christians, everywhere. In fullness, accuracy, and comprehensiveness this department is unequaled. Several pages of stories and poems adapted to Old and Young are given every week, with a column of Puzzles. From time to time Sermons by eminent ministers are published. The current topics of the day are discussed in our editorial columns freely and vigorously. We are not afraid to state our opinions.

Eclectic Magazine

OF

Foreign Literature, Science and Art,

ENLARGED and IMPROVED.

The ECLECTIC MAGAZINE reproduces from foreign periodicals all those articles which are valuable to American readers. Its field of selection embraces all the Foreign Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, and the tastes of all classes of readers are consulted in the articles presented. Its plan includes Science, Essays, Reviews, Sketches, Travels, Poetry, Novels, Short Stories etc., etc.

With the number for January, 1881, the ECLECTIC MAGAZINE will be enlarged to such an extent as will give about

Two Hundred Pages additional reading-matter during the year.

This increase of space will afford the opportunity not merely for an increased quantity but for a much greater variety of reading-matter; and the publisher confidently promises that the opportunity shall be so utilized that the ECLECTIC will be more valuable, more readable, and more satisfactory than ever before. The same pains will be taken as hitherto to exclude articles which are trivial in character, or of merely transient interest; but larger space will be assigned to articles of a popular and entertaining cast, and with ample materials of the best quality at command, the ECLECTIC will be made the ideal Family Magazine.

The following list of contributors to the periodicals from which the ECLECTIC is selected will give some idea of the value of its contents: Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Alfred Tennyson, Professor Huxley, Professor Tyndall, Richard A. Proctor, B.A., J. Norman Lockyer, F.R.S., Dr. W. B. Carpenter, E. B. Tylor, Prof. Max Muller, Prof. Owen, Matthew Arnold, E. A. Freeman, D.C.L., James Anthony Froude, Thomas Hughes, Anthony Trollope, Wm. Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Turgenieff, Miss Thackeray, etc.

☞ The English periodicals are the great storehouse from which are drawn many of the best and most pupular books of the time. The ECLECTIC reprints this material fresh from the authors' hands, and at a price far lower than its costs in book-form.

The Sun for 1881.

Everybody reads THE SUN. The editions of this newspaper throughout the year to come everybody will find:

I. All the world's news, so presented that the reader will get the greatest amount of information with the least unprofitable expenditure of time and eyesight. The Sun long ago discovered the golden mean between redundant fulness and unsatisfactory brevity.

II. Much of that sort of news which depends less upon its recognized importance than upon its interest to mankind. From morning to morning The Sun prints a continued story of the lives of real men and women, and of their deeds, plans, loves, hates, and troubles. This story is more varied and more interesting than any romance that was ever devised.

III. Good writing in every column, and freshness, originality, accuracy, and decorum in the treatment of every subject.

IV. Honest comment. The Sun's habit is to speak out fearlessly about men and things.

V. Equal candor in dealing with each political party, and equal readiness to commend what is praiseworthy or to rebuke what is blamable in Democrat or Republican.

VI. Absolute independence of partisan organizations, but unwavering loyalty to true Democratic principles. The Sun believes that the Government which the Constitution gives us is good one to keep. Its notion of duty is to resist to its utmost power the efforts of men in the Republican party to set up another form of government in place of that which exists. The year 1881 and the years immediately following will probably decide this supremely important contest. The Sun believes that the victory will be with the people as against the Rings for monopoly, the Rings for plunder, and the Rings for imperial power.

Our terms are as follows:

For the Daily SUN, a four-page sheet of twenty-eight columns, the price by mail, post paid, is 55 cents a month, or $6.50 a year; or, including the Sunday paper, an eight-page sheet of fifty-six columns, the price is 65 cents a month, or $7.70 a year, postage paid.

The Sunday edition of The Sun is also furnished separately at $1.20 a year, postage paid.

The price of the Weekly Sun, eight pages, fifty-six columns, is $1 a year, postage paid. For clubs of ten sending $10 we will send an extra copy free.

The attention of Housekeepers, Farmers and others is called to the above Useful and Valuable Preparation for Whitewashing and Sanitary Purposes. It costs less in comparison than Common Whitewash, or the unslacked lime, and its durability and beauty are two-fold greater. It never loses its strength. It can be kept for years. When applied, it forms a surface as smooth as calsomine, without glue or plaster. It can be used conveniently and economically in making Mortar, Finishing Insides, and for all purposes in which sand and lime are employed. We solicit a trial. We refer to the Knickerbocker Ice Co., and others. Sold at wholesale, by the barrel, and in smaller packages, at the Manufactory.

Ohio Chilled Plow.

For lightness of draught, durability and superior work, this Plow cannot be equaled and has never been by any yet introduced; this may be considered by some a broad claim, but a trial will soon convince as to the correctness thereof. All who purchased of us last spring were so much pleased that they seem to delight in talking about them to their friends, and this fact alone has made for us a number of sales even this early in the season, hence it can be truly said that the OHIO CHILLED advertises and sells itself.

Farmers' Favorite Grain Drills.

The PIONEER DRILL of AMERICA.

Perry Spring Tooth Harrow.

Improvements in agricultural implements having finally reached the Harrow, we now present to our friends and patrons, claiming for it the great advantage of being both a time and labor-saving implement. Our neighbors of other States and counties of this State inform us that they are fast taking the place of the old solid tooth and from their representation and our own judgement, we firmly believe that ere long they will have entirely displaced all the old ones ever amongst us. Try one and judge for yourselves.

THE late crops where the above were used are the strongest possible testimonials, and it is with pleasure we can say that our goods have equalled, and in may cases, surpassed any article in the market, and along side the old standard brands they have been proven to be of the most superior quality.

The low price at which we sell is alone attributable to the fact that we pay no commission to agents, and are satisfied with a close margin ourselves.

Our Factory is always open to the farmers, and a cordial invitation is extended them to visit us there and inspect for themselves.

We also carry a full line of chemicals which with any special mixture desired we will furnish at Baltimore prices.

We might insert numerous testimonials, but prefer to hold them at our office subject to the perusal of all, and simply add the names of a few who have used our goods and to whom we respectfully refer as to their merits:
