Chestertown Transcript.

THURSDAY, JUNE 23, 1881.

Raspberries are taking the place of strawberries in the local market.

The Glorious 4th is not far ahead. It is about time to lay out your celebration.

Farmers are harvesting. With fair weather there will not be much wheat standing in Kent Saturday night.

As August the 13th draws nearer county politics wax warmer. After August the 16th a cooling off spell.

Kennedyville Festival of the M. P. Sunday school was a financial success. Cleared not far short of $200.

Teachers' Institute for Kent county commences next Monday. Prof. Newell is expected to be present.

Wanamaker & Brown will be found elsewhere in a large new advertisement of their great clothing house, "Oak Hall." Through business enterprise and systematic advertising, the name of Wanamaker has grown as wide known as the name of Stewart.

The Kent county small boy will soon be happy. To-morrow evening his troubles cease. Saturday morning's sun will rise, to him, with new glory in his beams. No more school for two montns! Give him a fair show, and in the next eight weeks he will grow as wild as Buffalo Bill.

Three Colored Excursions have visited Chestertown during the present week. On Sunday, the Theodore Weems brought over from Baltimore 800 citizens of African ancestry, and the steamer Chester 400. On Monday the Keyport came over, bringing another colored excursion. There was no noticeable disorder.

Prof. Ford, of Wilmington, gave some elocutionary readings at the Court House Monday evening. The weather was bad and the audience slim. The Professor, in his opening remarks, told what wonders might be accomplished by persistent culture of the voice. A little more of persistent culture would, perhaps, not do the Professor any harm.

Deepening the Channel.—Col. W. P. Craighill, United States Engineer, who made a survey of Chester river from Spry's landing to Kirby's landing with a view to deepening the channel, has received a proposal from G. H. Ferris, of Baltimore, to do the work for 38 cents per cubic yard, measured in scows or in buckets, to begin October 15, 1881, and complete the work July 1, 1882.

Sale of the Blackiston Property.—Messrs. Richard Hynson, James A. Pearce and Michael Bannon, trustees, sold at Masseys on Thursday last, the real estate of Mr. D. C. Blackiston, as follows: Davis' Industry, 150 acres, to D. M. Cochran, for $6,675; Willow Hill, 72 acres, to R. C. Johnson, for $3,600; Benson's Lot, 17 acres, to D. M. Cochran, for $988.17; Home Farm, 180 acres, to Samuel Hurlock, for $10,023.65; Forest Wood Lots, $238.50—total $21,530.32.

At the Primary Election held in the second district on Saturday, the following resolution was passed:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this meeting that our delegates to the nominating convention to be held in Baltimore on the 23d instant, be instructed to use all honorable means to nominate the Hon. Thomas J. Keating as Comptroller.

Delegates in favor of Mr. Keating were elected in all the districts of the county, and in Tuesday's convention there was not a vote in opposition to him.

Dissolution and Re-organization of Partnership.—It will be seen by advertisement elsewhere, that the firm of Kennard & Co. have dissolved partnership by mutual consent.

Messrs. J. Frank Connelly and Thomas G. DeFord organize a new firm for manufacturing fertilizer at the old stand, Chestertown, under the firm name of Connelly & DeFord.

Messrs. C. W. Kennard and H. C. Chase organize a new firm under title of C. W. Kennard & Co., for the manufacture of fertilizers, at Masseys. They will also have an office and warehouse at Chestertown, where one of the firm will constantly be found.

Capacity of Bay Steamers.—Messrs. Lowry and Saville have made up a list of steamers to whom permits have been granted and handed it to the customs authorities for their use. The list is as follows: Steamer Chester, 500 passengers, from Baltimore to points on the bay and tributaries; Van Coilaer, the Trumpeter, 216 passengers, Sassafras to Tolchester; B. S. Ford, 650 passengers, Baltimore to Chesapeake bay and tributaries; F. C. Latrobe, 1,075 passengers, to Chesterwood; Wenonah, 600 passengers, to Cambridge; Nellie White, 900 passengers, to Tolchester Beach; L. G. Cannon, 400 passengers, Chester river to Baltimore; Pope Catlin, 290 passengers, and Theodore Weems, 800 passengers, from Baltimore to points on the Chesapeake and tributaries; Pilot Boy, 600 passengers for 60 miles and 650 for 15 miles; Matilda, 800 passengers, to points on the Chesapeake and tributaries; Samuel J. Pentz, 800 passengers for 80 miles; Keyport, 700 passengers for 75 miles. The permits of the Pope Catlin and Keyport run for 30 days, the B. S. Ford and Theodore Weems 60 days and the others 90 days.

From Chestertown to Galena.—We accepted an invitation and rode to Galena last Thursday. The route to Galena is a sixteen mile stretch through some of the finest wheat and corn growing lands in Kent county or in the State of Maryland. The wheat fields were just beginning to take on a golden hue, and the drooping, heavily-laden heads gave promise of a bountiful harvest.

There were few people stirring in Kennedyville and Locust Grove as we passed through. Around the M. P. Church of Kennedyville there was an appearance of recent festivity or of festivity about to be. Above Locust Grove, we passed the farming lands of Col. George W. Spencer. Col. Spencer has 250 acres in wheat and will use four reapers in saving his crop. Allowing a yield of 25 bushels to the acre, which is perhaps too little, the Colonel will store 6250 bushels.

We found Galena almost as quiet as we found Millington on a former occasion. The chief matter of excitement (excitement?) in Galena was the preparation for the new town hall, being built by the Odd Fellows. The old building had been torn down, and the basement was being enlarged to suit the enlarged building to be erected. Galena people look forward to the new hall with much pride.

Galena stretches out a long way toward Georgetown. Many very pretty houses have been built out on the Georgetown road. We had a strong desire to see Georgetown, but the day was hot, and as the only mode of getting there was to walk there, we took a vote on the question, and decided by one majority that we couldn't go.

One of the industries that gives life to Galena, is the manufacture of machinery by Hyland & Co. We paid a visit to the factory, and were politely shown through by the senior of the firm. Messrs. Hyland & Co. employ fourteen workmen, and turn out a great deal of agricultural machinery. They have a casting foundry connected with their factory, and mould all of their iron work, with the exception of reaper blades. They manufacture a wheat reaper of their own patent, corn shellers, and a number of other machines. Mr. Hyland informed us that he had received from Dr. Edward Eldridge, living as far away as Savannah, Georgia, an order for three of Hyland & Co's. manufacture of corn rollers.

Galena seems to be much infested by drummers. We do not remember ever before to have seen so many drummers at one time, in so small a place. We counted six. We were informed by a gentleman whose acquaintance we made, that he took us for a drummer. We never before knew that we impressed people as being so cheeky.

Though our stay in Galena was a little longer than was altogether comfortable, yet we take some pleasure in remembering the trip, and mean to make another on some convenient occasion.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION.

The delegates elected at the several district meetings last Saturday, assembled in the Court House in Chestertown, on Tuesday morning. M. deK. Smith, Esq., chairman of the State Central Committee, called the meeting to order, when, upon motion, Col. George W. Spencer, of the first district, was made chairman, and William B. Usilton, of the fourth district, secretary.

The following delegates were present:

First District—Richard F. Moffett, C. S. Hurlock, George W. Spencer, John Benson, J. H. Thomas.

Second District—D. U. Dewees, William Archibald, William S. Busick, Garrett Foxwell, James R. Staveley.

Third District—Robert L. Usilton, James S. Harris, L. Jeff. Usilton, Isaac Duyer, Dr. J. B. Merritt.

Fourth District—Wm. B. Usilton, J. M. J. Byron, John W. Loud, Chas. Estes, H.M. Stuart.

Fifth District—James B. Willson, Earle R. Strong, Dr. J. H. Price, Wm. Stevens, Morgan Brown.

A ballot was had, and the following gentlemen were elected to represent Kent county in the State convention to nominate a candidate for Comptroller of the State Treasury: Delegates,—Col. Richard C. Johnson, Richard Hynson, Esq., and Dr. Samuel G. Fisher. Alternates,—William S. Busick, L. Jeff. Usilton, William S. Walker.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That this Convention has the utmost confidence in the honesty and capability of the Hon. Thomas J. Keating, Comptroller of the State Treasury, and the delegates elected to the State Convention this day are hereby instructed to vote for and use all honorable means to secure his nomination for said office.

GEO. W. SPENCER, Chm.
WM. B. USILTON, Sec.

E. T. Comegys, of Locust Grove, advertises that he will pay highest cash price for wheat. Read his advertisement.

Baltimore Grain Market.—Tuesday, June 21.—Receipts to-day 3,000 bushels Southern Wheat; 68,000 bushels Western do.; 4,000 bushels Southern Corn; 59,600 bushels Western do. Stocks in Elevators 821,326 bushels Wheat and 273,383 bushels Corn. Southern Wheat is very quiet, with prices moderately firm. The bulk of the arrivals is stored in Elevators. Fultz is quoted at 1 20a$1 26, and a small lot prime longberry sold at $1 31. Southern yellow Corn is steady, but white is again lower; sales of the latter at 58a61 cts. for fair to good and 62 cts. for prime, and of the former at 58 cts. for prime.

Kicked to Death by a Mule.—On last Thursday, Alfred Cooper, living with Mr. Charles Miller, above Urieville, was thrown from a mule, which he was riding, and kicked to death. Cooper was a lad of sixteen years, and stout for his age. He had been cultivating corn, and together with other hands took out at half-past eleven to go to dinner. The gears were hooked up on the mule, and the lad mounted him to ride in to the stable. On the way the mule became frightened, and threw him. His feet became tangled in the gears, and he was thus dragged over two hundred yards, the mule kicking him repeatedly. When the young man was finally loosened, and the other hands had come up, he was found to be insensible. His head, face and shoulders were greatly mutilated by kicks from the mule. Mr. Miller was haloed for, and was soon on the spot. He carried the young man to the shade of a tree, and bathed his head and face with water. The lad revived slightly and was taken to the house, and a doctor summoned. The injuries which he had sustained however proved mortal. He died on Saturday evening.

He was a youth of good character and was well esteemed by those who knew him.

Orphans' Court, TUESDAY, June 21, 1881.—present, Judges Nicholson, Shallcross and Willson.

Thomas F. Garey, administrator of Owen Connelly, late of Kent county, deceased, returned his first administration account which was examined, passed as stated, and ordered to be recorded.

Marion deK. Smith, executor of Mary L. Johnson, deceased, returned his account of sales of the personal estate of said deceased, which was received and ordered to be recorded.

Harrison W. Vickers, administrator of Geo. Vickers, filed list of debts due said deceased, which was received and ordered to be recorded.

Mary L. Rasin, guardian to Thomas Lusby, returned her guardian account for said ward for the year 1880, which was received and ordered to be recoreded.

Queen Anne's Items.—Mr. Wm. McKenney of Centreville, expects to harvest this year 40,000 bushels of wheat.

A two year old child in Centreville fell out of a second-story window on its head and shoulders, without sustaining any serious damage. This yarn is pretty rough on Centreville. It must be true, however, as it appears in the Observer.

Two Hall's X Roads calves ate a pound of Paris Green and died.

William E. Thompson of Centreville, together with W. Harper McFeely of Chestertown, have organized a firm for the manufacture of phosphate. They expect to build about one quarter of a mile out of Centreville, on the Ruthsburgh road.

Queen Anne's primaries went for Keating last Saturday without opposition.

"NOTES BY THE WAY."

SCARCITY OF FARM HANDS—PERNICIOUS READING—ATTENTION TO PEAR TREES—HARVEST—DEATH BY ACCIDENT—CHILDREN'S DAY, ETC.

The scarcity of labor at the present time is enough to make farmers sick. There is scarcely a farmer in this section that has enough labor. One of two things have got to be done by another year—the introduction of foreign labor or a change in our system of farming—stock raising instead of grain growing. Labor at present cannot be depended upon. We have them to-day, and to-morrow they are in New Jersey. At present farming is unsatisfactory and unprofitable.

Novel reading is one of the evils of the day. Works of fiction are pernicious, especially to the young. The so-called religious novels of the day are as pernicious as any; they give the young people a taste for light literature that follows them to their graves. It is claimed that the moral is good; so it is in almost all works of fiction. A novel is a novel, just as much as a lie is a lie. They are all pernicious, because they give the reader a distaste for solid reading. The young people should be discouraged from reading all works of fiction, no matter how good the moral.

Young shoots should be kept growing from the trunks of pear trees, so that if the tree blights, it can be cut off, and the shoots will soon make another tree, which seldom ever blights. This is the season for blight, and it should be removed as fast as it makes its appearance.

Wheat harvest will begin this week.

A great deal of clover hay has been damaged by the late rain.

Corn is generally looking well.

A young man named Cooper, in the employ of Charles Miller, near Urieville, was thrown from a mule one day last week, receiving internal injuries from which he died on Saturday.

Children's day was celebrated at Still Pond M. E. Church last evening. The exercises were very interesting. The Bird Song, by Miss Venie Baynard, charmed the audience. There were about five hundred persons present.

Commencement at Still Pond Academy takes place next Friday evening.

Mr. G. W. Crossley is delivering the Revised New Testament through this section.

June 20th, 1881.

IMPORTANT TO TRAVELERS.—Special Inducements are offered you by the BURLINGTON ROUTE. It will pay you to read their advertisement to be found elsewhere this issue.

Eclectic Magazine.—The July number of the Eclectic begins a new volume, and is embellished with a very beautiful steel engraving, entitled Ophelia. This engraving is a companion-piece to Marguerite, which appeared in the January number, and which has been universally pronounced the finest and most attractive picture that ever appeared in the magazine. Ophelia is not inferior in either interest of subject or skill in execution.

As regards the literary contents the number is unusually rich, containing about twenty-five articles, many of them of first-rate interest and importance. The list is as follows: The Earl of Beaconsfield; Bimettalism, by Prof. W. Stanley Jevons; The 'Sunbeam' in a Storm; an Extract from Mrs. Brassey's Diary; Fortunes of Literature under the American Republic, by George E. Woodberry; Babies and Science; Tract XC. and its Consequences, by James Anthony Froude; Sonnet on the Deaths of Thomas Carlyle and George Eliot, by Algernon Charles Swinburne; Rambles Among Books: II., Autobiography; The Permanence of Continents, by J. Starkie Gardner, F.G.S.; Kith and Kin, a novel, by Jessie Fothergill, chapters XIV. to XVI.; On Novels and Novelmakers, by an Old Novelist; The Love of the Past; The Origin of Religion Considered in the Light of the Unity of Nature, by the Duke of Argyll; Thackeray as a Poet; A Story of the White Czar; William Blake, by Frederick Wedmore; Lost; What is a Molecule? The Morality of the Profession of Letters, by Robert Louis Stevenson; One Year in a German Cookery School; Presages of Approaching Ill; Girton and Newham Colleges for Women; Memory's Song; Literary Notices; Foreign Literary Notes; Science and Art; and Miscellany.

Published by E. R. PELTON, 25 Bond street, New York. Terms, $5 per year; single copy, 45 cts.; trial subscription for three months, $1.

Lippincott's Magazine.—Knebworth, the ancestral seat of the Bulwer-Lyttons, is the subject of the opening article in the July number of Lippincott's Magazine, written by Mr. William H. Rideing, to whom ample facilities for the purpose were afforded by Lord Lytton. The house and grounds, besides the interesting associations they possess, are among the most beautiful and richly ornamented in England, and the illustrations, which represent the principal rooms, the chief exterior views, the gardens, the mausoleum, etc., are finely executed and exceedingly attractive. For the numerous admirers of the brilliant novelist, whose works were nearly all written at Knebworth, this article will of course have a special interest.

In "Zoological Curiosities" Dr. Oswald, continues his very entertaining account of "Our Four-Handed Relatives," with some piquant illustrations. "Palmetto Leaves," by Rev. Robert Wilson, is a capital sketch of Charleston, S. C., describing both its permanent features and present aspect and condition. "Ranch-Cure," by Alfred Terry Bacon, may be regarded as supplementary to Dr. S. Weir Mitchell's well-known paper on "Camp-Cure," which appeared originally in Lippincott's, Mr. Bacon having tried the experiment described in his article at Dr. Mitchell's suggestion. In "A Trip to Brighton and the Goodwood Races," J. A. Dickson gives a lively account of the characteristic incidents and scenes of an English race-course, and of the journey by stage-coach from London, with pleasant glimpses of the country traversed. Mrs. Mary Treat's "Observations on a Colony of Slave-Making Ants" exhibit the close study of animal life that distinguishes the trained naturalist, and will be found both curious and entertaining.

"Across the Gulf," by Rebecca Harding Davis, is in the best vein of a writer whose stories are never weak or common-place. The other short stories in the number are "Harcourt's V'line Mango," by S. A. Shields, and "Six Views of Miss Starr," by Elyn Dukywood, both clever character sketches evidently drawn from life. The serial, "Craque-o'-Doom," maintains its interest while drawing to its conclusion, and the editorial departments are as well filled as usual. The whole number is especially suitable for summer reading, and begins the second volume of the New Series.

GOOD LOGIC.—A word to those who neglect to avail themselves of the business opportunities we offer. For nearly thirty days we have largely supplied the retail demand for Men's, Boys' and Children's Clothing in this city and State satisfactorily. The class of clothing we make is too fine for dealers in small towns to keep and is much better than is generally found in large cities. If you want a good article at the lowest possible price call upon C. N. OEHM & SON, Pratt and Hanover streets, Baltimore.

We have in stock and are constantly receiving Fresh Drugs, which we secure from only reliable and first class wholesale dealers

Our PRESCRIPTION DEPARTMENT cannot be surpassed in this county for reliability or promptness.

We also keep on hand the most reliable Patent Preparations.

In connection with our Drug business we propose this year to push our trade in Stationery, Books and Fancy Articles. Our large sales the past season encourage us in giving special attention in this direction.

We shall continue to give personal attention to every department of our business, and leave no effort untried to give perfect satisfaction to all who favor us with their patronage

To the Democratic Voters of Kent Co.

AT the earnest solicitation of many friends, I hereby offer myself as a candidate for the House of Delegates at the coming nomination. Thankful for your hearty support and kind co-operation, trusting that I have not been a faithless steward of the people, I hope that I can confidently ask the people for a renomination, pledging myself to a faithful performance of the duties of a Representative, to do the will of the people, and work for the interest of the commonwealth. I also tender the pledge to support the successful nominees.
Respectfully, WM. H. FORD.
