Chestertown Transcript.

THURSDAY, JUNE 30, 1881.

How have you been getting along with your self-binder?

Next Monday is the 4th. Chestertown will probably not celebrate.

Hot weather struck in again on Monday. Getting ready for the fourth.

The Institute has made the school teacher very plentiful in Chestertown during the last three days.

The Democratic State Central Committee for Kent county is M. deK. Smith, David Jones and John F. Beeks, reappointed.

An Excursion is booked for Chestertown to-day, per steamer Matilda, given by Chatsworth Independent Methodist Church, Baltimore.

Excursion to Cape May.—The Chestertown Methodist Protestant Sunday school will have an excursion to Cape May, on Wednesday, the 27th day of July.

Crabs will not be a Chestertown diet this season. We have not heard of a single crab being seen in Chester river. This time last year they were plentiful.

Graduated.—Miss M. S. Wethered and Miss Addie G. Kennard, of Chestertown, graduated at the close of last term, from the Burlington (N. J.) Female Institute. Both the young ladies graduated with honor, Miss Wethered being the valedictorian of her class.

A Desirable Residence for Sale.—Charles H. Baker, Esq., will offer at public sale, in front of the court house, at 11 o'clock A. M., on Tuesday next, July 5th, one of the most desirable residences in Chestertown. See advertisement elsewhere in this issue.

Religious Notice.—We are requested to say that preaching and Sunday school service by the Methodist Protestant congregation of Kennedyville will, until the repairs now being made to the church are completed, be held in the Presbyterian church.

Thompson's Line.—In another column will be found advertised the new schedule of Thompson's freight and passenger line. The steamer L. G. Cannon has been put in good running order, and in her fresh, bright coat of paint makes quite a handsome appearance.

The Comet has brought out many amateur astronomers. It is yet visible, though it is said to be traveling away from us at the rate of 300,000 miles per day. This is comforting when we remember that mother Shipton had fixed up a plan to destroy the world during this year.

A Queer-looking Insect is infecting silver maples in some parts of the county. At a short distance it has the appearance of a cluster of white feathers attached to the twigs of the trees. Nearer inspection shows that the feathery appearance is the covering of insects which have legs and are in almost continual motion. The older insects develop wings.

Fishing on the Bridge has been pretty good for the last few days, and of evenings a great many anglers visit the bridge. The fish caught are mostly white perch, and though rather small just yet, they bite quite lively at the proper stage of the tide. Shrimp is the favorite bait, and sells at the commencement of the season at 25 cents per hundred. There are parties who make a business of shrimp-catching, and it is said to pay very well.

Baltimore Grain Market.—Tuesday, June 28.—Receipts to-day 440 bushels Southern Wheat; 1200 bushels Southern Corn; Stocks in Elevators 880,958 bushels Wheat and 513,612 bushels Corn. The arrivals of Southern Wheat are small, and the market is steady and firm. A lot of 240 bushels new Virginia Fultz sold at $1 30, and a carload old Fultz at $1 25. Southern Corn is offering in small lots only, and the market is steady to firm; white sold at 60a61 cents and yellow at 58 cents.

Population of Towns in Kent.—Bulletins just issued from the census bureau at Washington, give the population of towns and villages in this county as follows: Galena 347; Millington 444; Sassafras 200; Chesterville 48; Kennedyville 149; Still Pond 194; Chestertown 2,359; Broad Neck 255; Fairlee 109; Georgetown 181; Sandy Bottom 157. Population by districts—first, 3,975; 2d, 3,191; third, 2,631; fourth, 4,126; fifth, 3,681. Total 17,604.

Towns in Queen Anne's are given as follows: Sudlersville 199, Templeville 101, Church Hill 230, Centreville 1,196, Stevensville 124, Crumpton 312, Ingleside 71.

The Teachers' Institute for Kent county, met and organized last Monday morning. Prof. Newell arrived about mid-day by the Tolchester line. On Monday evening, the public turned out largely to listen to essays and readings by the teachers and to an address from Prof. Newell. Mr. Pinkind read an essay upon perseverance as an element of success in the teacher's calling, and Miss Victoria Power read a pathetic selected poem. Prof. Newell's address was entitled "A plea for the children." He drew a very clear distinction between real teaching and sham teaching, and illustrated the difference between the two by numerous anecdotes of cases that had come under his observation. The choir of the M. E. Church sang between parts, some very pleasing selections.

On Tuesday evening, Miss Smith read an essay, and Miss Alice Crane read a humorous selection from Josiah Allen's wife, relating how Josiah Allen's wife and Josiah resolved to buy a sewing machine and an organ, and the time they had with the agents. Mr. Chaplain, school examiner for Talbot county, delivered the address. The address treated generally upon the teacher's calling. The exercises were varied by music from the Kent Cornet Band, which played a number of choice selections.

On last evening, James A. Pearce, Esq., of Chestertown, was to deliver the address. We go to press too early to get last evening's proceedings.

The Closing Exercises last Friday, at the Chestertown public school, consisted of readings and music, and the announcement by the principal of the reports for promotion in the different grades. The scale of merit ranges as follows: 100 excellent, 90 very good, 65 poor, &c.; an average of 75 is required to pass a scholar—that is, to promote from one grade to another. The following includes the names of those pupils who have received an average of 80 per cent. and above at the annual examination for the past year:

First Seventh Grade—Annie Crouch 94, Maggie Fowler 88, Lillie Baker 85, Walter Chapman 81, Mary Bowers 80.

Second Sixth—John Roberts 87, Walter Usilton 85, Fred. Usilton 84.

First Sixth—Emma Davis 83, Anna Welch 81.

Second Fifth—Laura Thomas 93, Lizzie Fowler 92, Walter Perkins 86, Helen Welch 81.

First Fifth—Emma Usilton 83, Dollie Crew 80, Sallie Hewitt 80.

First Fifth A—Alice Crew 87.

Second Second—Bessie Miller 83, Gussie Cannan 82.

First Second—Annie Russell 88, Tom Perkins 86, Clara Usilton 86, Harry Simpers 86, Stella Jones 85, Obey Crew 85.

First Grade—Annie Platt 87, Hope Sappington 86, James Rasin 81.

Orphans' Court, Tuesday, June 28, 1881.—present, Judges Nicholson, Shallcross and Willson.

Benjamin D. Quimby, administrator of Melvina Brooks, deceased, returned his first and final administration account, which was examined, passed as stated, and ordered to be recorded.

[COMMUNICATED.]

Base Ball.—A game of base ball will be played to-morrow, July 1, on the college grounds. It will be a class game. The Seniors and Freshmen will be arrayed against the Juniors and Sophomores. A good game is anticipated, although the regular college club, which is decidedly the best nine on the shore, will be much broken up. Mr. George Godwin, who is marshal of the club, will provide comfortable seats for those wishing to witness the game. The public are cordially invited to attend.

"NOTES BY THE WAY."

CLOSING EXERCISES AT STILL POND ACADEMY—COMMENDABLE ACT—DEATH OF AN OLD COUPLE—A "WHITE MAN'S" REPUBLICAN PARTY—HARVEST—SELF-BINDERS—PEACHES, ETC., ETC.

The closing exercises at Still Pond Academy last Friday evening were very interesting, and reflected great credit on teachers and scholars. The exercises were opened with prayer by Rev. J. B. Merritt and singing by the school. The address of welcome, by Joseph Harper. An essay, titled "Withered flowers on the river of life," by Miss Fannie Wilson, assistant teacher. "Tell me, ye winged winds," by Bessie Norris. "The mule that wouldn't kick," by T. L. Norris. "The Dutchman," by Willie Watts. "Is it anybody's business, by Gertie Beeks. "The rival speakers," by Charles Harper and Augustus Krusen. "Keep cool," by Daniel Jones. The whole programme was carried out in a creditable manner. At the close of the exercises Mr. Starkey and Miss Fannie Wilson were each presented with a purse by the patrons of the school, after which refreshments were served to all. Patrons and friends of the school are gratified at its flourishing condition, and the interest manifested by teachers and scholars.

A short time ago, just as a Magistrate's trial was to take place in Worton, a Minister of the Gospel stepped in, reconciled the parties, (who were strangers to him) and paid the costs. This act is worthy of imitation. "Blessed are the peacemakers." Matt. 5: 9.

Mr. John Bryan died on Friday, and his wife on Sunday: both in their seventy-fifth year. Mr. Bryan died from cancer of the stomach; Mrs. Bryan of paralysis. They were both well known and highly esteemed citizens. Having known each other from childhood, and having been married fifty-two years ago, they were separated on earth but a short time.

It is rumored that a number of prominent Republicans in this county, have organized a new party, to be known as the "White Man's party."

Harvest is about half through with. A great deal of the wheat has been cut green, which will necessitate stacking, and remaining some weeks before it will thresh.

The self-binder is doing nice work, and is certainly a God-send to this county. Where they have failed to give satisfaction, has been owing to their not being put up right, or carelessness on the part of those who run them.

The Osborn, Champion and Wood are running in this section, and giving satisfaction.

The comet that has made its appearance is not the one that is to do mischief to our earth. The one that we must suffer by, makes its appearance about the first of October. By that time most of our crops will be marketed, and we will not have to sow any wheat. Won't it be ruinous to the phosphate dealers?

Peaches have stopped falling off at last. Some of us have over a half a crop, others not so many. There will be enough to give city people a taste, and to make the canners' eyes sore. The scarcity of peaches this year will enable the packers to get rid of their old stock.

Mrs. Latham, (residing on E. P. Janvier's farm in Worton,) died Saturday evening, of malignant diphtheria. It is rather singular that this terrible disease should be confined to Worton district. It has been very fatal in that section during the past year, while in other sections of the county it has been of a mild type.

LETTER FROM WORTON.

Teachers and pupils alike are happy with the thought of being relieved from the toils of the school room for two months. In business transactions some education is almost indispensable, and we hope pupils have availed themselves of the excellent opportunities furnished them. In ancient days a woman appeared before a Roman king with nine books for sale. He did not want them and she was dismissed. After destroying three volumes she came back, but the price was the same, which caused her to be more angrily sent off. Yet once again with only three—for she had another three—she comes and on bended knees and with tearful eyes she entreats him to take her wares. He bought, and found them of priceless value. If you defer to learn in boyhood you will be taught by sad experience, but the price, unlike the books, will be increased. The gorgeous temple of the wisest of monarchs was erected without sound of ax or hammer, and thus silently do teachers accomplish a great work. They claim two of the attributes of a certain sewing machine—its silence and its power. In the physical economy of nature the mightiest agencies are the stillest.

Your satire on the efforts of young collegians is well deserved and was pointedly applied. Why don't they choose some humbler subjects. How heavily they draw on Classic authors. "A mouse can drink its fill at a well as well as at the ocean." Sometimes they make things muddy, as we have seen a frog do when plunging into a pool. An idea not gold seems to be the most malleable of things.

We suppose the distinguished Prof. M. A. Newell is presiding over the Teachers' Institute. To hear him read is a rare feast, an intellectual treat.

Parties interested in the Quaker school gave a sumptuous picnic, on the Quaker Green, the 18th instant. All present seemed to enjoy themselves hugely. Mr. Meier is the acceptable teacher. Yours, OCCASIONAL.

JOTTINGS BY THE WAYSIDE.

BALTIMORE, June 22, 1881.

It will perhaps be in order to begin with the tremendous rain storm we were out in recently on the cars. At one time of the storm,—it seemed misnomer to call it rain,—it was only a sheet of water thrown against you, with an impetuosity that was almost overwhelming. Now this is no figure of speech, but as near the truth as we can put it. Even down Madison avenue, when we were on the hills, the streets were rivers of water, and no car track was visible. When these blasts would come against the sides of the horses the poor animals would turn aside from the track three or four feet in spite of all efforts of the driver to hold them on the track. Of the damage done the papers have told you before this, and with this our personal experience of the greatest storm we ever witnessed, we shall pass to other things.

It seems singular to me at first sight, how the packers and dealers in fruits and vegetables over here in the city can tell better regarding the supply than can the grower. And yet it is easily explained when understood. As the growers do not act together, and even if they do so, do not go about it by relying upon trained minds, and educated head and eyes, as does the dealer. He has brought it down to such fine points as to allow of no such thing as hopes and fears to influence his judgment. He has a record of the seasons, carefully kept, and knows how many heavy seasons we have had, and how many light ones; the variations of climate at and since these times, and their effects upon the crop; and then last but not least, how many have retired from the business and how many have been added to it; in fact, how many trees there are in existence, and their condition and location. In other words they have reduced the thing to a mathematical problem, so as to know how many trees they can afford to lose from the crop and still know what will be its product. Extensive preparations are being made to handle a heavy crop of fruit. As an example of how they can handle fruit, we know one firm that has two vessels loaded with pine apples at their wharves, at a time, and keep several carts hauling away pea hulls. We think pea hulls light and trifling things, yet these firms can find employment for a team in hauling them away.

Things are done big here now. As old painter Jones used to say, we are getting more and more like New York every day. In building the new elevator we don't know how many men were employed. We only know that there were and are now, we believe, 500 carpenters at work upon that house at one time, at $2.50 per day, and they still want more. We are told that any man who can hammer and saw straight, is taken and put between two carpenters to work, and paid the same as they. What a chance for some of our Kent county fellows.

We find Tolchester growing in favor with Baltimoreans; enquiring of us all about it, as they find "we've been there," and many telling us that since going and seeing for themselves they are better pleased than they expected. It is the most popular resort now out from Baltimore, and the sentiment seems a growing one. Well they deserve success, as the company seems to have energy and life enough to make it popular. One of the worst things Tolchester had to contend with was the "Bourbonism" of Kent countians who were afraid it would so corrupt the morals of their people, and who had made up their minds it was a humbug, because begun by New Jersey Yankees and was in Kent county. They questioned, "can so much good come out of Nazareth?" But this has all passed away now, and there will soon be other routes there to rouse your people up to guard their old sentiments. Opposition is the life of trade, and the talk now is of wanting a railroad finished, so as to make connection and adopt your Kent county Cape May route by way of Tolchester.

There are many things of interest to your people over here, that I might tell you, but for want of time. Time counts over here. Not long ago, in coming up the street, we heard the fire alarm, and in 7 seconds the engine was upon the street, fire burning, men mounted and horses in full trot for the fire. Those may doubt it who please, we state facts as we saw them. How is it done, do you ask? In some places the whole thing is by electricity. The fuel in the engine is always ready to be lighted, the horses always harnessed. By electricity the alarm is given, the horses at the same time unhaltered, the doors opened, clock stopped. The horses rush full speed to their place at the engine. Four clasps are pressed by two men, and they are gone. Only four clasps to put the horses to the engine. If the men or any of them are up stairs, they cannot take time to descend the steps, but slip down a pole, and off they go, at night looking like the devil taking a ride by gas light.

Berries have been plentiful and cheap. Strawberries at from 2 to 10 cents a quart, at your door, and nice fresh ones at that. And now whilst writing we hear them crying raspberries, black-cap, at 12 cents a quart. Soon they'll be cheap. Not much money, we think, in raising berries at such prices, but nice to enjoy.

GOOD LOGIC.—A word to those who neglect to avail themselves of the business opportunities we offer. For nearly thirty days we have largely supplied the retail demand for Men's, Boys' and Children's Clothing in this city and State satisfactorily. The class of clothing we make is too fine for dealers in small towns to keep and is much better than is generally found in large cities. If you want a good article at the lowest possible price call upon C. N. OEHM & SON, Pratt and Hanover streets, Baltimore.

IMPORTANT TO TRAVELERS.—Special Inducements are offered you by the BURLINGTON ROUTE. It will pay you to read their advertisemen to be found elsewhere this issue.

To the Democratic Voters of Kent Co.

AT the earnest solicitation of many friends, I hereby offer myself as a candidate for the House of Delegates at the coming nomination. Thankful for your hearty support and kind co-operation, trusting that I have not been a faithless steward of the people, I hope that I can confidently ask the people for a renomination, pledging myself to a faithful performance of the duties of a Representative, to do the will of the people, and work for the interest of the commonwealth. I also tender the pledge to support the successful nominees.

Respectfully, WM. H. FORD.

WILL YOU TRY!

WE are willing and anxious to have those, who are not convinced by never seeing the Ohio Chilled Plow work, to take one and try it in competition with any chilled plow in the market. You will try the Ohio for good work and lightness of draft.
