OUR MADONNA.

The following touching and tender reminiscence of May Alcott, by her sister, Louisa M. Alcott, is from the Woman's Journal:

A child, her wayward pencil drew
On margins of her book
Garlands of flowers, dancing elves,
Bird, butterfly and brook,
Lessons undone, and play forgot,
Seeking with hand and heart
The teacher whom she learned to love
Before she knew 'twas Art.

A maiden full of lofty dreams,
Slender and fair and tall
As were the goddesses she traced
Upon her chamber wall.
Still laboring with brush and tool,
Still seeking everywhere
Ideal beauty, grace and strength
In the "divine despair."

A woman, sailing forth alone,
Ambitious, brave, elate,
To mould life with a dauntless will,
To seek and conquer fate.
Rich colors on her palette glowed,
Patience blossomed into power;
Endeavor earned its just reward,
Art had its happy hour.

A wife, low sitting at his feet
To paint with tender skill
The hero of her early dreams,
Artist, but woman still,
Glad now to shut the world away,
Forgetting even Rome;
Content to be the household saint
Shrined in a peaceful home.

A mother, folding in her arms
The sweet, supreme success;
Giving a life to win a life,
Dying that she might bless.
Grateful for joy unspeakable,
In the brief, blissful past;
The picture of a baby face
Her loveliest and last.

Death, the stern sculptor, with a touch
No earthly power can stay,
Changes to marble in an hour
The beautiful, pale clay.
But Love, the mighty master comes,
Mixing his tints with tears,
Paints an immortal form to shine
Undimmed by coming years.

A fair Madonna, golden-haired,
Whose soft eyes seem to brood
Upon the child whose little hand
Crowns her with motherhood.
Sainted by death yet bound to earth
By its most tender ties,
For life has yielded up to her
Its sacred mysteries.

So live, dear soul! serene and safe,
Throned as in Raphael's skies,
Type of the love, the faith, the grief
Whose pathos never dies.
Divine or human still the same
To touch and lift the heart;
Earth's sacrifice is Heaven's fame,
And Nature truest Art.

FASHION NOTES.

Parasols of fine plaited straw are odd and pretty.

Scarfs or rows of beaded lace make most charming lace bonnets.

A fashionable mourning cap of cream lace and point d'esprit is ornamented with bows of claret satin ribbon.

Indian cloth is like rough-dried mull muslin, with delicately-tinted ground, enlivened with Oriental designs.

Parasols in black or white straw are lace trimmed and have a cluster of small feathers or a bunch of roses at the top.

Parasols this season are as varied in form, material and decorations as any other part of a woman's wardrobe effects.

Dotted and sprigged white and cream colored muslins trimmed with Italican lace make beautiful, inexpensive summer dresses.

A few daring young New York ladies have appeared on the streets with the dainty walking canes which are carried abroad by English girls.

Muslins with borders of shaded stripes and borders worked in colored silk are newer than those which have wreaths of flowers running the length of the web.

Spanish jewelry showing large leaves and flowers tinted in colors of pale pink and emerald green and studded with fine sparkling gems is just now in great demand.

Colored muslin gowns are made up over silesia of the same hue, but a little deeper in color, so as to produce shaded effects. The ribbons are a little lighter than the muslin.

Alpaca braid in several shades, carefully graduated from dark to light, is used to trim woolen suits. The rows are set close together, so as to look like a wide shaded band.

THE conservative tendency of the popular vote in Switzerland received confirmation on the 3d of July, when a law passed by the Great Council for the election of Judges by universal suffrage was vetoed by a large majority of the electors.

THE little Principality of Monaco has recently celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversity of its Prince's reign. The Grimaldi dynasty has now reigned over Monaco for one thousand years.

THE present harvest prospects throughout southern Russia are so brilliant that, if they should be realized, the farmers think they will be able to dispense with any harvest during the next four years.

ROCHEFORT began his article on Dufaure thus: "M. Dufaure has died, aged 83. Buffon never said that crocodiles were wont to live so long."

DURING the last six months there were, according to the official statistics, 63 murders and 530 robberies in the beautiful island of Sicily.

ANOTHER monster war iron-clad has had its keel laid at Naples. The Italians say that the Mediterranean must be under their supremacy.

There is a rumor that Gladstone is to be raised to the peerage with the title of Earl of Oxford.

A little earning is a dangerous thing—to a man who cannot keep sober.

To be brief is a virtue.

THE COMET.

Mercy love us!
Far above us!
See the comet slashin' round;
Fifty million
Million billion
Billion miles above the ground.

With a tail,
Like a whale,
See it scoot and whiz and rear;
With its flipper
In the Dipper,
How it rolls the Major Bear.

Now it's tryin'
For O'Ryan,
(Irish chap that killed the bull),
And the moon,
Pretty soon,
Gives the comet's tail a pull.

Here and there,
Everywhere,
Restless sprite of sky ideas;
Awful pert,
See it flirt
With Helen Potter's Pleiades.

Unbeliever!
Famine, fever,
Plague and pestilence and war;
Fret and worry,
Trouble, hurry,
That is what a comet's for.

Lots of debt,
Too much wet,
Rain and hail and sleet and flood;
Burning drought,
Torrid south,
Sun-baked fields and seas of mud.

Blood and bones,
Tears and groans,
Gnashing teeth and horrid cries;
Howls and yowls,
Frowns and scowls,
That's about the comet's size.

Everything
It will bring
That is bad beneath the sun;
How it hums!
Here it comes!
Goodness, gracious, let us run!

—Burlington Hawkeye.

GEORGE I., on a journey to Hanover, stopped at a village in Holland, and while the horses were getting ready he asked for two or three eggs, which were brought to him and charged 200 florins.

"How is that?" said his Majesty. "Eggs must be very scarce at this place."

"Pardon me," said the host, "eggs are plentiful enough, but kings are scarce."

THE Fijian name for a doctor, on being translated, turns out to be "carpenter of death;" and Miss C. F. Gordon Cumming, in her work, "At Home in Fiji," says that Dr. Macgretor, who is practising the healing art in that part of the world has substituted a new term, signifying "man of life," though how far it has superseded the original is not known.

Special Notice!

SOMETHING LONG NEEDED SUPPLIED AT LAST!

WM PERKINS has fitted up his Lady's Parlor, for the Winter; and ladies from the country, or elsewhere, will find a warm room, when they come to town with their husbands or friends, and do not wish to wait in the stores, or to call on friends, while their gentlemen companions are attending to business matters, in which they can sit, and read, and pass away their time; free of charge.

Lunches Served at All Hours.

He also has an upper room, properly fitted up, in which dinner and supper can be privately furnished at all times, at short notice, and moderate prices.

P. S.—All meals served in the upper saloon will be at an extra charge.

CHEAPER!!
CHEAPEST!!!

THE subscriber is now selling his best Ice Cream for $1.25 per gallon; 75 cents per half-gallon; 40 cents per quarter gallon; 25 cents per one-eighth gallon; plates 10 cts. It is now pronounced to be the very best that was ever in this market—so declared by ladies and gentlemen from New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore. The Cream furnished by the undersigned to the Odd Fellows' anniversary, at the Court House, April 29th, was said, by the two hundred or three hundred ladies and gentlemen who partook of it, to have been the best they ever ate; which, of itself, is a good advertisement.

Picnics, Festivals and Excursions will be allowed a discount on all orders of and above five gallons.

All orders must be accompanied by the cash.

The Ladies' Parlor will be open after next Monday.

Thanking the public for all favors conferred in the past, and hoping for a continuance of liberal patronage, I promise to do my best to please all.
