REALITIES.

The longing of an age that gives
Hope to every man that lives;
The passion of an age that binds
Innumerable hearts and minds:
These are the pulses, sweet and strong,
That beat, as blood beats, in a song.

I stand before this age as one
Before the rising of a sun;
I see the splendor of its might,
Like an ascendant dawn of light;
And, as a child may feel, rejoice
To hear the thunder of its voice.

All that I look on now is real,
Yet beautiful as some ideal;
And life, in vast and protean forms,
Earth, stars, and worlds, and fires and storms,
Outshines the fancy as mid-noon
The pallid day-gleam of the moon.

To know the human soul, to learn
Truth, in whatever way we turn;
To march amid the rush of time,
Driven by death, and still sublime;
To love in face of hate, and dare
The destiny that brings despair;

To live the eager life of men,
To burn with deathless courage when,
Full of a noble faith, they praise
The glory of our later days,
Or when, with prophet-sight, they try,
To pierce the wonder of the sky;

To watch the consecrated face
Of nature, till each simple grace,
Each winter glow or tropic bloom,
Each shadow, hinting of the gloom,
Translates its meaning into words
Like sound into the song of birds:—

These are realities, whereof
I speak as one may speak of love;
And these, like precious things, are wrought
Into the music of my thought,
Which may be wild and sad, or fill
The measure of whippoorwill.

—Geo. Edgar Montgomery, in the Bazar.

The Wall Street Estimate of Gen. Grant.

'How did it happen,' asks the N. Y. Times, 'that the Marine Bank trusted Ward with millions of dollars?'

Simply because the President of the Marine Bank thought the firm of Grant & Ward was making enormous amounts of money out of Government contracts secretly obtained through the influence of Gen. Grant.

This explanation has been offered by Capt. Ambrose Snow, one of the directors of the bank. We quote his words:

"Ward told him the story about the Government contracts, and he believed it and left it to Ward. Fish had his real estate to look after and he relied on the Government contracts which he supposed were obtained through Gen. Grant's influence."

The supposition that the gold mine of the firm consisted in Government contracts procured through the influence of Gen. Grant was entertained not only by Mr. Fish, himself a partner in the firm, but by the customers also.

Mr. Work, one of the counsel of the concern, is a notable example. 'He had seen the books of the firm,' says the Tribune, 'in which the record of the profits on the supposititious contract was kept, and knew that vast sums were being reaped. These books were conclusive arguments in more cases than one to persons who were solicited to invest their money with Grant & Ward.'

In fact, Wall street bit eagerly at the bait of official corruption which Grant & Ward held out.

Everybody knew that any exercise of influence which would put enormous profits out of Government contracts into the pockets of Ulysses S. Grant would be grossly improper, if not criminal. Yet hundreds, not to say thousands, of intelligent people seem to have assumed that Gen. Grant was a man who would thus prostitute his influence for the sake of gain. They entertained no doubt that he was willing to do wrong, and they rushed in with their money to obtain a share in the fruits of his wrongdoing.

Such is the shameful estimate which Wall street formed of Gen. Grant. He was believed to be willing to make money out of the national Treasury by improper means. His friends, Fish and Work, rated his character no higher in this respect than comparative strangers. So long as they regarded him in the light they did, it was not strange that others should share their belief.

We are assured now that this belief was incorrect, and that Gen. Grant had no knowledge or suspicion of the uses to which his name was being put.

If such is the fact, Gen. Grant will do well to publish the evidence on the subject without delay.—N. Y. Sun.

Negroes One Meets in the South.

A correspondent of the London Times writes from Jacksonville, Fla.: As our party have journeyed steadily southward we have had ample opportunity to study one of the phenomena of American life—the inability of the Irish and the negro to get on together. New York was swarming with Irish, but in Washington the Hibernians were few, and negroes numerous. South of Virginia an Irishman is rara avis, excepting in the newly settled towns of Florida. The negro monopolizes the labor field of the Carolinas and Georgia, and does his work as listlessly and slowly as it is possible to perform it. The negro women in fact, seem to be more vigorous than the men. They hoe with energy, chop firewood with vim, and go about the streets 'toteing' their baskets and bundles on the top of their heads, while their dusky lords are endeavoring to find the warmest sunshine or the softest plank for a siesta.—There can scarcely be imagined a more deliberate or slow-moving machine than a Southern negro hotel servant. Their minds have to work with evident difficulty to comprehend the whole duty involved in transferring your breakfast order from the kitchen. The vein of humor runs through them, and contact with modern civilization has taught the value of 'tips.' But the guest must be on his guard in childing the negro's shortcomings, for he is as proud as Lucifer—is a 'man and brother'—enjoys the right of suffrage, and may have been during the recent days of the 'carpet bag' rule a 'member of the Legislature' or 'Justice of the Peace.' It does not take much sometimes to enrage an 'honorable member' or a 'judge,' and if the egg is overdone or the coffee cold it is the part of prudence to speak of it in gentle phrase, and thus avoid a small riot. The Southern negroes, like most of the whites, and, indeed, the whole aspect of the country, have a languid, ever tired air. It is in sharp contrast with the completeness of everything in England and the energy and enterprise displayed in the Northern States of the American Union.

DEALERS IN Agricultural Implements!

Evans' Two-Horse Corn Planter

Is the only Machine with a successful Phosphate Attachment for dropping in the hill. The Evans is a strong, simple machine; excelled by none as to quality and price.

BUCKEYE RIDING CULTIVATOR!

This implement is well known in Kent County. It excells all other machines in the following points:

It has Rotary Shields, the best and only practical shield made. The shovels are strong, scour well, are adjustable to throw earth to or from the corn. Depth is regulated from the seat without stopping the team. Has high wheels, and will pass over corn in the last plowing. Is worth twice its cost in preparing fallow and corn ground for wheat.

Is easier to manage than any other Cultivator now before the public.

Buckeye Twine Binder

Appleby Binding Attachment, Wrought Iron Drive wheel, Strong Frame.

Handy Double Adjustable wheel, B shaped cutter box.

Easily managed, perfectly automatic.

The Buckeye is an old standard machine, and was as near perfect three years ago as other Binders are to day.

TO FARMERS

We say don't buy a delicate Self Binder, it may do nice work one year but you will have need of sympathy about the second or third year you use it. Buy a Standard machine, one that won't rack to pieces in two or three years.

No Binder in the market is as thoroughly-stayed and braced as the Buckeye. Call on our agent and have him explain it to you. Examine the

BUCKEYE LOW DOWN OR PLATFORM BINDER.

Lightest and Smallest Binder out. It will go through a ten foot six inch gate. Has no Elevator, Compact, Handsome, DURABLE.

Nichols, Shepard & Co.
Engines and Vibrators

THE N. S. & CO. TRACTION ENGINE

Is the Strongest built, Most Powerful and Easiest Handled Machine yet produced. These points were thoroughly illustrated on the streets in Chestertown, Tuesday, April 22d last. All persons who saw how quickly our competitors left the field will readily understand that they did so because they saw that their engine would not handle as easily and quickly as the N. S. & Co. Engine. We challenge any and all engines on the market for quality of material, strength of build, finish, ease of management, economy in fuel and water, and power.

VIBRATOR.

Nichols Shepard & Co., of Battle Creek, Michigan, built the first Vibrator ever produced, and have continued to build them for 33 years. So sweeping has been the success of these machines that all other builders of threshing machines have been driven to imitating them. The most valuable features of these machines are fully covered by letter-patent and cannot be used on any other machine.

Simplicity, Durability, Ease of management, Great Capacity are the strong points of this machine.

Our 36 inch Vibrator with a sufficient numbers of teams and men will, if kept full, thresh sure and clean 1800 bushels per day, and do it better than any apron machine ever made. We leave to your own engineers and threshermen to pass judgment on these machines.

Repairs for Both Always on Hand.

BUCKEYE GLASS FEED DRILL!

NO MORE CLOGGING.
NO MORE RUSTING.
NO MORE UNEVEN SEEDING OF PHOSPHATE.

The Phosphate Feeders in this Drill are made of ½ inch thick glass. Won't rust, won't corrode. Phosphate drops in plain sight of man following the Drill. Quantity changed from 100 to 800 lbs. per acre in one second. No cogs to change. This Drill is the best result of all previous Grain Drills, combined and improved. We noticed one crop of wheat a short distance above Chestertown, so poorly drilled that the owner will lose enough wheat to pay for two Drills. No implement on the farm should be selected with more care than a Grain Drill. Upon its good work depends the whole crop of wheat. This is an important matter. The number of these Drills to be obtained this year is limited, and farmers must place orders at once to be sure of obtaining them.
