tion of the week is the Egyptian question, and if it be true, as the liberals announce, that they will carry a vote of confidence in the government by thirty majority, that matter will be settled for the time being. The international conference will meet on Saturday as agreed upon, and the government be left free to pass the franchise bill. When that bill is passed the House of Lords will be brought face to face with the momentous resolve either to defy Mr. Gladstone and his whole radical following, or to reluctantly yield to a charge in parliamentary representation so vast as to be tantamount to a revolution. The importance therefore of the political issues to be decided in Parliament this week can scarcely be overrated. They not only involve the decision by an international conference of what the status of England in Egypt shall be hereafter, but also whether the privilege of the suffrage shall be given to a large proportion of the population in the English counties and throughout Scotland and Ireland, which has never before been allowed to vote. If the ministry is beaten on the vote of censure the franchise bill falls with it, and it is because of this possible loss of the bill that liberals and radicals and home-rulers are being called to the support of the government in respect to its conduct in Egypt. That conduct has been generally condemned both by the press and public, and the apparent truckling to France, and the obvious willingness of Mr. Gladstone to abandon the control which England has heretofore exercised over Egyptian affairs, have lost him some of his ablest supporters, and among them Mr. Forster and Mr. Goschen, and also to a very considerable extent the confidence of the country. As the matter now stands, in spite of the avowed purpose of the liberals to sustain the government on the Egyptian question for the sake of carrying the franchise bill, the latest advices leave it in doubt whether the government can secure a vote of confidence—Baltimore Sun.

WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., JUNE 20, 1884.

Blaine and Logan were nominated on the 5th inst., and two weeks nearly rolled around without any show of the great enthusiasm that was to awake the country from Maine to California, and from Oregon to Florida, but to put the matter in motion Deacon Hawley of Conn., Elder McPherson of Pa., and others of the National Congressional Committee, waited on Father Clapp and insisted that something must be done and that speedily to start the enthusiasm here among the office-holders, the members or Congress and Senators, or the enthusiasm would never be started. After drumming up by every conceivable manner, and testing the few faithful, it was concluded not to attempt the ordinary procession, illumination, and bonfire display, but to hold a mass-meeting in front of the City Hall. Money was lavishly expended in decorations and fireworks and these, with music by the Marine Band and a chorus of singers, naturally attracted a very large crowd, but it was a crowd that preferred music and fireworks to hearing about Blaine and Logan. In fact this was so apparent that after Jude Shellabarger, Senator Sherman and others had spoken and not a cheer had been given for Blaine and Logan, Deacon Hawley concluded that that would not do, and for the purpose of awakening himself as well as the audience, in commencing his speech he proposed three cheers for Blaine and three for Logan, which were tamely given, and then to help Hawley. It was altogether the most expensively tame affair that was ever attempted as an exhibition of spontaneous enthusiasm.

The Democrats in Congress are to be congratulated on perfecting and presenting to the country the best legislation ever attempted in the interest of the people over the monopolists, the farmer and laborer over the extortionist. Among these measures, and if they do not become laws it will be the fault of the Republican Senate, are, the bill establishing a Department of Agriculture, the bill establishing a Bureau of Labor Statistics, and the bill to prohibit the importation and migration of foreigners and aliens under contract to perform labor. This latter is the capstone of the series, and is intended to prevent the great manufacturers who are crying for protection to American laborers from importing hordes of European and Asiatic paupers at starvation prices from competing with honest American laborers. In the discussion of this measure in the House, Mr. O'Neill, of Missouri, read the act of July, 1864, which he declared to be an act to encourage the importation of alien labor under contract. It was a blow at American labor, and had been dealt by a party claiming a monopoly of protecting American workmen. American citizens had a right to demand protection against imported contract labor when introduced solely to defeat the honest efforts of labor to obtain a fair proportion of the profits guaranteed from a munificent system of protection to goods but not to men. Humanity demanded that the poor workmen of other lands should not be left to starve on the hillsides after having served the purpose of capital in bringing to submission the American laborers who dared to question the policy of organized capital, whose motto was the smallest wages and the highest dividends.

DURING the last week the Wilmington News cut a lot of capers not often seen in these parts. Upon receipt of its despatches telling of the nomination of Blaine and Logan the News came out flatfooted for those worthies. When the moon was a few days older it declared that the Independent bolters were right, and straightway took down from the head of its editorial columns the Chicago ticket. Again, as the changeful satellite began to wane the News swung back again, and now is a true blue organ. It is hard to find out in this case whether the paper has swallowed the crow or the crow the paper.—Phila. Times.

A Critical Week in British Politics.

The present week will be an exciting one in England. The condition of the Gladstone ministry is critical, and if the proposed vote of censure should be passed on the conduct of the government in Egypt a dissolution of Parliament would follow immediately thereafter. The opening of the debate on the Egyptian question is set for to-day, when Mr. Gladstone is to explain the terms of the agreement with France and the points on which the conference of the powers on the Egyptian question will be called upon to act. That conference has been set for Saturday next, but whether it will meet at that time or be put off or abandoned altogether will be determined by the action of Parliament this week. If the franchise bill were not so intimately mixed up with the Egyptian question the vote against the government would be carried by a considerable majority. But so many of the liberals and radicals are determined to carry the franchise bill before Parliament is dissolved that they are willing to sanction the eight million Egyptian loan, the multiple control over Egyptian affairs, or any other matters to which the government has committed itself, in order to save the franchise bill. That the bill may subsequently be rejected by the House of Lords does not so much concern them, as it would afford them a "good cry" to go before the people with, and enable them to denounce the House of Lords for its opposition to the alleged popular will. If the conservative party were united on the franchise bill its fate in the House of Lords would be certain. But the revolt of Lord Randolph Churchill and his bold avowal that he will support the provision to extend the franchise to Ireland, have made it doubtful, when it comes to a final vote, whether the peers will stand by the Marquis of Salisbury in expressed determination to throw out the bill. TO THE PUBLIC.

I have to say, in regard to Mr. Bannon's advertisement in the Transcript and Kent News, that I think it unjust to have my property advertised for claims that I have nothing to do with. His decree should be on lands charged with the payment of his claim. My portion was charged with debts and legacies for which C. H. Baker got a decree to sell by the court, some time prior to the date of Mr. Bannon's decree. I had settled my father's debts, and had purchased of C. H. Baker, as trustee, my part of the land devised to me by my father, and had settled with said C. H. Baker, trustee, for the purchase money for same in full.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION.

HENRY B. MILLER, REBECCA MILLER, JAMES WATKINS & OTHERS.

WILLIAM T. ELBEN, GEORGIANNA ELBEN, his wife, and others.

In the Circuit Court for Kent county.

The object of this suit is to procure a decree for the sale of certain real estate in Kent county.

The Bill states that Joseph Mann, late of Kent county, was in his lifetime seized and possessed of certain real estate lying and being in said county and being so thereof seized and possessed, some time in the year 1870, departed this life, leaving Mary Mann, his widow, and Rebecca A., wife of Harry B. Miller, Margaret, the wife of Wm. C. Palmer, Samuel H. Mann, Georgianna Elben, wife of Wm. T. Elben, and Wm. T. Mann, his only children, and Mary S., the child of his deceased deaughter, Mary Jane, wife of Charles DeFord, his only heirs at law, and that the said Mary S. is now the wife of James Watkins.

That the said Mary Mann, his widow, departed this life in or about the year 1870, and the said William T. Mann departed this life some time in the year 1878, unmarried and intestate, seized and possessed of an undivided ⅓ interest in the aforesaid real estate, leaving the said Rebecca A. Miller, Georgianna Elben Margaret Palmer, Samuel H. Mann, and the said Mary S. Watkins, the daughter of his deceased sister, Mary Jane DeFord, his only heirs at law.

That the said Samuel H. Mann, with his wife Emma Mann, conveyed all his title and interest in and to the ⅓ of the said real estate to Emily A. Hurtt, and the same has passed through various assignments into the hands of Thomas R. Quimby, who now holds the same.

That the said real estate is not susceptible of partition amongst the parties entitled without loss and injury to them; and is liable to be sold and the proceeds divided amongst the parties entitled.

And that the said William C. Palmer is a non-resident of the State of Maryland.

It is therefore ordered this 30th day of May, 1884, that the complainants by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Kent county, once in each of four successive weeks before the 4th day of July, 1884, give notice to the said William C. Palmer, the non-resident, defendant of the object and substance of this Bill, and warn him to appear in this court in person or by attorney on or before the 4th day of October, 1884, to show cause, if any he has, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.
