Correspondence upon matters of local interes desired. Anonymous communications willnot be inserted.

It is desirable that communications be in by Saturday night if possible, and in any case no later than Monday night or Tuesday morning.

Simple notices of marriages and deaths, inserted free. Obituary notices will be charged at the rate of five cents per line.

—The Kent County School Board publishes its annual report elsewhere.

—Harper McFeeley, son of Mr. W. J. McFeeley of this town, has begun a course of law study.

—Beside the depredations mentioned in our last issue, dogs have killed over sixty turkeys for Mr Wm. S. Walker and twenty or thirty for Mr V. Hendrickson.

—As will be seen by public local law published elsewhere, the time for shooting partridges and rabbits in this county, begins on the 25th day of October, and ends on the 15th day of January.

—Capt. J. B. Willson, of the sloop Mary Compton, on Thursday, October 2, found and buried part of a skeleton of a man that had washed ashore on Piney Point, in Chester river. Only part of the bones and clothing could be found. He seemed to have been on the beach for some time, as the flesh was entirely gone.

—Next week is court week. The Transcript will take it very kindly, if those who owe amounts due for subscription or advertising will, while in Chestertown, drop in and settle. Our friends will please remember that while one small amount is inconsiderable in itself, a great many small amounts put together come to much. Please, therefore, settle your little bill.

—Annie Price, the little daughter of Dr. J. H. Price, of Lankford, brought to the Transcript office yesterday apple blossoms, the second growth of a tree that now contains ripe apples. She says that one part of the tree presents the curious spectacle of being full of blossoms while another part is full of ripe apples.

—Fall term of court for Kent county begins on next Monday. There are fifteen cases of appeal from magistrates' decisions that will come up for trial. There will also probably be a number of cases of assault and battery and of petty larceny. The two important criminal cases are of the negro Louis Bowser, charged with fatal assault upon Edward Saulsbury in Broad Neck on the 23d day of last September. The second is the case of George W. Parsons, charged with forgery.

—Farmers are seeding wheat, but are doing so in fear and trembling. If a rain should follow soon after the seeding, the grain it is thought will sprout as usual. But it is feared by many that if the dry weather continues, that the phosphate will have a deleterious effect from being long in contact with the grain before it sprouts. Comparatively little fallow has been broken this season. The drouth has caused fallow land to become almost as hard as frozen ground.

—A county Democratic mass-meeting will be held in Chestertown on the 29th inst. As will be seen by announcement at head of editorial columns, the meeting will be addressed by a number of distinguished speakers. The issues affecting the campaign will be discussed in an instructive and entertaining manner. The majority of the speakers have never addressed Kent county audiences. Their names, however, are well known to Maryland people. All the speakers announced are under positive engagement to come, and nothing but a very serious matter will prevent their being present.

—A map of Maryland, simplified for use of beginners in geography, has been prepared by Mr. Thos. M. Pinkind, a teacher in one of the public schools of this county, and lithographed by the Hoens, of Baltimore. The map is upon cardboard and of convenient size for handling. It is accurate, and the mechanical work is neatly executed. The map will undoubtedly fill a want in teaching beginners geography. It is also a very convenient map for the business and professional man to nail up near his writing table for reference. Of course it does not give as full information as the larger maps, but it gives considerable informateon that is often wanted. The map retails at ten cents.

—A week or so ago John Charles Wilson, colored, of Centreville, boarded the steamer Corsica at her wharf in Baltimore. His conduct in the saloon was of a character to annoy other passengers and the captain was requested to quiet him or eject him from the saloon. Capt. Clark, regarding the man as intoxicated and offensive to the other passengers, had him taken from the saloon and refused to permit him to re-enter it. Wilson returned to Baltimore the next day and swore out a writ for the captain and had him taken before United States Commissioner Rogers, who after hearing the testimony dismissed the case. Last week Wilson entered suit against the steamboat company, laying his damages at $2,000, and the steamer was libelled. Of course President Warfield soon entered bond, and the boat was released. The case will be called for trial at the next session of the United States Court.—Centreville Observer.

—Orphans' Court, Tuesday Oct. 14, 1884.—Present Judges, Walker, Hyland and Stevens,

Harrison W. Vickers, administrator of Joseph Rasb, deceased, returned his first and final administration account, which was examined, passed as stated, and ordered to be recorded.

John W. Carroll, executor of Salena C. Carroll, deceased, filed the inventory and appraisement of the personal estate of said deceased.

Chas. H. Baker, attorney for John P. Edes, administrator Jas. P. Edes, filed an additional list of debts due said deceased.

Milton and Susan Melvin, administrators of A. W. Melvin, deceased, filed their releases from Willard Melvin, Ida S. Culp and Susan E. Melvin.

The Water-works.

Work on the water-works is progressing. The excavation for the large store reservoir now measures ten or twelve feet from the bottom to the tops of the banks, and begins to look like holding a million of gallons of water. The canal around the base of the hill between the Free School and Morgan springs tapped, as was expected, a number of other springs. Some of these gave such a liberal flow of water as to cave the banks of the canal. This, however, will be remedied when the piping is laid. The banks of the reservoir for gathering the supply at the lower spring also caved in, when a depth of about ten feet was reached, and work was necessarily stopped thereby. We understand that work will be resumed on the lower reservoir as soon as a steam pump can clear the way. The course which the water will take in being forced from the lower to the upper reservoir will extend over a distance of a mile or more. There is now no doubt but that the supply of water will be abundant. A great many amateur engineers anticipate that the river water, which is a little salt, will at high-tides affect the lower reservoir. Col. Taylor, however, anticipates no difficulty in this direction. He contemplates that when the work is finished ample provision will be made to prevent any probable contamination by river water.

Registration in Kent for 1884.

SEPTEMBER SITTING.

The following is the result of the registration in the several election districts of this county:

NEWLY REGISTERED.

Districts.	White.	Colored.	Total.
First	49	32	81
Second	37	22	59
Third	22	8	30
Fourth	34	9	43
Fifth	17	7	24

Second	29	16	45
Third	10	11	21
Fourth	12	12	24
Fifth	15	7	22
Total	79	53	132

The totals of newly registered at both sittings is as follows:

Districts.	White.	Colored.	Total.
First	116	64	180
Second	71	51	122
Third	61	23	84
Fourth	66	34	101
Fifth	50	25	75
Total	365	197	562

The totals af deaths, trausfers and removals for all the districts and both sittings is as follows:

White.	Colored.	Total.
88	56	144
79	53	132
167	109	276

The above tables show by the new registration, after deducting deaths, transfers and removals from newly registered voters, total gains as follows:

White 198
Colored 88

This also shows that there were newly registered 110 more white than colored voters.

NUMBER OF VOTERS IN THE COUNTY.

In 1882, when there was an entire new registration in the county, the enrollment was as follows,—

Districts.	White.	Colored.	Total.
First	498	361	859
Second	377	287	664
Third	309	254	563
Fourth	544	411	955
Fifth	521	274	795
Total	2,249	1,587	3,836

By the Registrations of 1883 and 1884 there were added as follows,—

	White.	Colored.	Total.
1883	381	138	519
1884	198	88	286
Total	2,828	1,813	4,641

The above tables indicate that the white vote now exceeds the colored vote in the county 1015.

Building Notes.

Brick work on the jail has reached the top of the second story.

The new residence of Mr. Joseph Turner on the corner of Cannon and Front streets is well under way. The carpenter work is being done under management of Mr. Milton Baker. The plans for the elevations show the house to be of somewhat novel design, and it will undoubtedly be a handsome one. Mr. Turner was his own architect.

Capt. W. D. Burchinal has nearly completed on his wharf, the most attractive ware-house along Chester river.

The new residence of Mr. S. Vannort on High street, adjoining the M. E. Church is pretty nearly ready to be moved into. The rooms have all been handsomely papered by a Baltimore house, and the inside as well as the outside is very attractive. Heating arrangements are located in the basement. The house is built upon a beautiful natural elevation, and the grounds are susceptible of much ornamentation. This, Mr. Vannort will probably postpone until next spring.

Quite a number of small dwellings have been recently built or are now under construction in various parts of Chestertown.

The painters are at work on the new residence of James A. Pearce, Esq. The building is being painted in tasteful shades, which set off to advantage the handsome architectural design of the house. The outside appearance of the house is very striking from most any view. It is built to the second story of brick, and is finished in wood. The wood-work is relieved and set off by tiling and slate work. The roof, which is of slate, is broken into numerous attractive outoutlines by gables and oriole windows. Inside, the house will be finished with regard to tasteful minuteness, and will be supplied with the latest conveniences conducive to household comfort. The house will be heated throughout from furnaces in the cellar.

"Notes by the Way."

Farmers are nearly through seeding wheat, a few are waiting for rain. The probability is that a great deal of it will have to be reseeded.

A number of farmers are nearly done husking corn, the crop is very light.

The "Yellows" have attacked several peach orchards along the Sassafras river. We will lose 75 trees in a four-year-old orchard, next year they may all go.

Whooping cough is our prevailing disease at present.

"Clinging Faith" was the subject of Rev. L. E. Barrett's lecture last evening.

The A. M. E. congregation are building a new parsonage here.

Still Pond, Oct. 13th, '84.

Mr. George Russum at Millington.

A Correspondent of the Wilmington Every Evening gives the following account of the Republican meeting held at Millington in this county on Saturday:

MILLINGTON, MD., Oct. 11.—The Republican pole raising on Saturday drew about 300 people. Of this number there were probably 50 whites, a majority of them being Democrats.

The meeting was called to order at 3 p. m. by Dr. A. R. Todd. After a short wait for a colored delegation that had formed at Moore's store, led by a fife and drum corps, to come up, George Russum was introduced. Mr. Russum has moved around a little. He was once elected states attorney for Caroline county on a mongrel ticket, has been defeated for the same office as a Democrat and defeated for the associate judgeship as a Republican. Mr. Russum spoke in a flowery vein about the blooming meadows, the entrancing beauty of womanhood, &c., and in a funny vein about the blessings of a protective tariff.

After "My Grandfather's Clock" by the band, Charles Wilson, Esq., mounted the rostrum. He went back to the war for his text and, having secured it, proceeded to show how rain made corn, corn made whisky and whisky made Democrats. He therefore builded his hopes upon the recent dry spell.

Mr. Baker made the closing speech, pledging the colored people to the support of the grand old party. The meeting then adjourned to 7.30 p. m., at which hour Captain Staub, an ex-confederate warrior, was introduced and held the stand as long as any one was there to hear him. He began at the storming of Fort Sumpter and narrated, in language more forcible than elegant, pretty nearly the whole history of the war. Before he reached the closing scenes of that great drama, his audience had dwindled to a mere handful, and when he had finished the storm clouds rolled away and the stars came forth and twinkled brightly over the hickory flag-staff whence floated the banner of Cleveland and Hendricks.

PENINSULA ITEMS.

The teachers' institute for Caroline county will begin on Monday, November 17th, and continue during the week.

The potato crop of the two Eastern Shore counties of Virginia last year amounted to $1,100,000. This year, owing to the dry weather, the estimate is $800,000.

There was recently presented to the Easton national bank a two-dollar note of the Branch bank of Easton, dated April 1st, 1818. The Cashier and Teller shook their heads solemnly over it. The holder of the note, however, did not happen to want it redeemed in modern greenbacks.

The Wicomico Record made its first issue at Salisbury last Saturday. The Record has eight columns to the page, is neatly printed and is in every respect neat in appearance. In politics the new paper will be Democratic. No names of the publishers appear in the first issue, but it is understood to be under the management of Messrs. Rider & Vinton.

Only nine miles more to be built, and the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk R. R. will have reached its terminus—Cape Charles City. These nine miles will be finished in twelve days from now. On two miles of the nine, the ties have already been laid. It is predicted that the terminus will grow into a town as rapidly as did Crisfield.—Somerset Herald.

The North East (Cecil county) Star apologizes for deficiencies in its last issue, because its editor has got married!! Heavens, yes! If the North East people are the right sort of people, certainly they will excuse him, even if he fills his columns with expired patent medicine advertisements. What sort of a generous public is it, that can expect a new married editor to grind out anything less ethereal than love poetry. But the Star editor might give 'em some love poetry. That's a fair enough compromise.

The campaign of the first congressional district opened at Cambridge Tuesday of last week with an enthusiastic mass meeting. There was a good attendance from every district in the county. Mr. Francis P. Phelps, presided over the meeting. Speeches were delivered by Mr. Charles H. Gibson, candidate for Congress; Hon. H. H. Keedy, elector for the sixth district, and Mr. Skipwith Wilmer of Baltimore. At night the Cleveland, Hendricks and Gibson Club was addressed by Messrs. Gibson and Jas. Alfred Pearce, of Chestertown.

The neighborhood of Tunis' Mills, in Talbot county, on Miles river, six miles from Easton, has been excited over the elopement of a married man with the wife of a fellow workman in Tunis' Mills. Both the victim and the victimizer have families and lived near each other. Three weeks ago the unfaithful wife went on a visit to relatives, where she was joined by the man. The woman took with her the youngest of her two children, an infant. The man leaves a wife and four children unprovided. The eloping couple are 33 years of age and the deserted husband is 55 years old.

The Philadelphia Press of recent issue in its gossip column, said concerning the recent Gowen—Robinson wedding,—Mr. James Gowen, of Germantown, is having a lovely house built near his own for his newly married son, Francis James Gowen. Nothing, by the way, was said in the papers about the marriage last week, and yet a lady tells me it was the prettiest wedding she ever saw. The bride, Miss Alice Robinson, of Queen Anne's county, Maryland, was attired in white ottoman silk with the traditional clouds of lace and blossoms. Her eight bridesmaids wore white nun's veiling with flower bonnets and carried baskets of flowers. The ceremony was performed in St. Paul's Church, Centreville, Maryland, by the Rev. Robert F. Innes, uncle of the bridegroom. The happy young people are honeymooning in Boston.

Resolutions Passed by the Kent County Temperance Alliance.

The following preamble and resolutions were passed at the meeting of the Kent County Temperance Alliance, held in Chestertown on the 13th inst.:

WHEREAS, The Maryland State Temperance Alliance was organized to correctly educate public sentiment, and to combine and use this sentiment to secure the enactment and enforcement of prohibitory laws, and has always disclaimed any design of a partizan character, and

WHEREAS, in direct opposition to the oft-avowed principles of said alliance and to the wishes and judgment of a large majority of the persons present at the last annual meeting of the alliance as well, the executive committee has aided in the nomination of Prohibition candidates for President and Vice-President of the United States,

Resolved, therefore, 1. That we do not sympathize with the action of the alliance in its partizan movement; and while it holds such a position we cannot and will not affiliate with it, nor contribute to its support.

2. That, as a temperance alliance we do not dictate to our members how they shall vote, but leave every man to vote as his conscience dictates; and we do pledge ourselves to work by and through all parties for the maintenance and enforcement of our county law, and to secure a constitutional amendment prohibiting the dram trade throughout the State.

THE B. & O. Red Book for Maryland is ready for distribution, and in more than one respect, is the most valuable of any of the editions hitherto based upon this State. As has always been the rule, the forwarding of a stamp to C. K. Lord, Baltimore, is all that is necessary to secure a copy, and in fact the only way, as the Red Book issues are all for mail circulation. The present volume is replete with political statistics and condensed data, not only as regards the latest Presidential, State and Congressional elections in this State, but relating as well to elections since admission into the Union. It would be difficult to imagine a more complete showing of past results in the State, or a more neatly put together and printed little book. 1t.

1st dam, Kitty Puss .... by Frank Pierce, Jr., 485.
2d dam, Crane Mare .... said to be by John Richard's Horse (thoroughbred.)

MARSHALL NEY 2034, sire of Westover 2 26½, Cyclops 2.27, Mambrino Druid 2.43, was got by Mambrino Pilot, and out of Lady Waltemyer (dam of Strathmore 408) by North American.

MAMBRINO PILOT 29, by Mambrino Chief 11; dam Juliet by Pilot, Jr., 12; sire of Aemulus 2.25, David Wallace 2.28, Hannis 3.17¾, Mambrino Gift 2.20, Morning 2.30.

MAMBRINO CHIEF 11, by Mambrino Paymaster, sired Lady Thorn 2.18¼, Woodford Mambrino 2.21¼, Bay Henry 2.28¼, Brignola 2.29¾, Mambrino Star 2.28¼, North Star Mambrino 2.26¼.

PILOT, JR., 12, by Old Pilot; sired Bull Run (W) 2.32¾, Dixie 2.30, Gen. Sherman 2.28¼, John Morgan 2.34, Pilot 2.28¾, Pilot Temple 2.24½, Queen of the West 2.26¼, Thackaray 2.26, Tattler 2.26, and the dam of Maud S. 2.10¾, the dam of Jay-Eye-See 2.10¾

KITTY PUSS, by Frank Pierce, Jr., 485, was a fast road mare, of great endurance; in addition to being the dam of Cyclops, she was the dam of Live Oak 2.43; dead heat 2.40, Middletown, Del.

FRANK PIERCE, JR., 485, by Frank Pierce by Beppo, could trot in 2.40, and sired Phil Doughorty 2.26, Lady Wright 2.39, John P. Jenkins 2.35, dam of Brigadier 2.22, Frank Pierce III, sire of Stonewall 2.24½, and dam of Cyclops 2.27.

Cyclops was withdrawn from the stud in August, at the urgent request of the people of Kent to trot a match with Young Smuggler 2.29¼ for $500, offered by the Agricultural Association to the winner. The trot came off on the 23d of September, and was won by Cyclops distancing Young Smuggler in the first heat in 2.31¾. The mangers said the match had been made as a test to see which was the best horse to breed from. It did not go off as they hoped for and they paid off $100 short. But Cyclops was kindly complimented by the people and a large stud patronage promised him. Those wishing to breed will please send their mares to Poplar Grove at once.

SERVICE FEE $50, with privilege of return in spring, 1885, should they not prove in foal. Ample accommodations for mares left at the farm to be bred. On grass, $1 per week, with grain $2 per week. ☞ Every care will be taken against accident or escape, but no responsibility taken.

TO THE FARMERS
—OF—
KENT, QUEEN ANNE'S & CECIL

IT is universally acknowledged by the most practical farmers that the Ohio Chilled Plow is the best plow in the world for neatness of work, and lightness of draft to the team. As I have ordered a large number of these plows, both two and three-horse, farmers will do well to give me an early call.

We also keep on hand, the Old Reliable Concave Nos. 9, 10 and 11. Polished Minor and Horton, Wiley Nos. 3 and 4, and Two-Furrowed Plows, and Harrows, Twin, Single A, and Double A A, Cultivators and Cultivator Teeth unsurpassed by any manufacture. Single, Double, 3 and 4 Horse-Trees and Hames.

As there have been a great many Chilled Plows sold in these counties, and as farmers have been put to a great deal of trouble to get Castings for them, if they will only give the name and number of the Plow, I will endeavor to keep them on hand at my shops in Galena and Chestertown. I always have on hand Plain and Slip Shares for the Ohio, Oliver, Roland, Advance and Syracuse.

If any of you are in need of anything in my line, please give me a call, as I intend to sell them low for the cash.

Thankful for past patronage, I solicit a continuance of the same.

W. A. Hyland,
Galena and Chestertown.

THE ROLAND FARM BELLS. For sale by

March 27. J. K. ALDRIDGE.

Wanamaker's.

PHILADELPHIA, October 13.

Important news about black velvets.—Importance in black velvets centers around these two points: first, the fabric; second, the black.

There are a great many makers. Those who make all-silk are in Lyons, France; and those who make cotton-back are in Krefeld and Eberfeld, Germany. All-silk are therefore commonly spoken of as Lyons velvets, and cotton-back as German.

We have seen about all, possibly all the makes of both in the wholesale market. We do not buy abroad. We'd rather let somebody else have the job of getting them through the Custom House. We look them all over, and buy what we consider the best of the several grades.

This results in our having these:

German, 16-inch,	$1 and $1.10.
German, 19-inch,	$1.25 to $4.50.
German, 27-inch,	$2 to $4.
Lyons, 24-inch,	$5.
Lyons, 25-inch,	$6 to $7
Lyons, 27-inch,	$6.50 to $10.

and we'll get finer, if anybody wants it.

Now in these few figures we state almost the whole of what we presume is the most carefully chosen and comprehensive stock in any one store in the country. (So broad a statement as that calls for your remembering that we need just that. We have the largest trade in the country and the most varied. What should we do with a surpassable stock?)

We have no objection to telling how we choose, what we look for, what we require. German velvets from $1 to the best that is made, and Lyons from $5 to the best that is wanted. But wherein does quality reside?

Quality of silk, closeness of pile, back to hold it, black.

The best of silk is not to be expected in German velvets. They are made of duller silks and worked-over silk-wastes; as many sorts and mixtures as makers; more. Lyons is famous for quality of silk.

Closeness of pile means quantity of silk, yielding solidity, soft resistance to touch; what you expect of velvet. The back is too plain to more than speak of. Black! There's where nine out of ten are astray.

The black that is wanted varies a little around the happy medium; neither blue nor jet; between. Not all alike, but as near as we can. Mere color is more than quality, quantity, purity of silk, more than all else. Color first; then quality; then how will it wear? Or, to put it another way, how looks it for color? for generous fullness? only then how long will it hang together?

And this leads to a nice detail of color. We have German velvets of a rusty black to match old stuffs a little faded. 20 inch; $1.50 to $2.00.

Having guarded all these points of color, quality, quantity and putting together, we hav'n't the least hesitation in believing that we have about as thoroughly mastered the black velvets that have come into the country as we hope to next year; and that is saying a great deal.

If we should say table-linen for 50 cents a yard, they who don't know our practice of selling nothing but linen for linen would think we had cotton-and-linen; everybody else would think we had slazy linen.

For seven years now we have kept a certain German table-linen, that comes soft and limp, without dressing of any sort. It looks in the store exactly as it'll look when it comes from the wash. We have sold tons and tons and tons of it; and have yet to hear a single complaint about it. At first we sold it for 75 cents; then 65; now 50; and it is just the same as when it began to come seven-and-a-half years ago. We have between eight and nine thousand yards of it; and napkins to match, 18 and 24-inch, $1.10 and $1.85 per dozen. The price will have to go up again after a little.

The pattern... this fall are as good as ever.
