THE INDEPENDENT REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE'S ADDRESS TO THE REPUBLICANS OF THE UNION.

THE CONTRAST BETWEEN CLEVELAND AND BLAINE.

The Independent Republican Committee, of which George William Curtis is President, has issued the following appeal to the Republican and Independent citizens of the country:

NEW YORK, October 16, 1884.

To Republican and Independent Citizens:

The National Committee of Republicans and Independents appointed at the New York Conference of July 22, 1884, appeal to all friends of clean politics and honest government for their active and full support from now until election day. Either James G. Blaine or Grover Cleveland must be the next President of the United States. It is within the power of the independent vote to say which.

The response to our efforts has been beyond our hopes. In Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Iowa and Wisconsin vigorous organizations of Republicans co-operate with us. Directly or through their committees we have distributed a million of our own documents and we desire to send out a million more before election day. Everywhere that we can reach honest voters who will read the actual facts as to the two candidates our ranks grow and our work grows. New names reach us every day from almost every State. Great meetings have already been held in many places; Mr. Schurz has volunteered his services until the eve of election and other speakers are co-operating with him; our opportunities outrun our capabilities of using them. The increasing correspondence of our central office taxes us to the utmost. We are fighting a vigorous, aggressive campaign in the interest of good government and true republicanism to the utmost of the power put into our hands by the people.

The campaign looks well. Hard work by earnest men will make New York, Connecticut and New Jersey sure; Massachusetts, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Iowa and Wisconsin are already doubtful States. Even Ohio, never before considered doubtful in a Presidential year, has required the personal solicitation of votes by Mr. Blaine and the unstinted use of methods which have made him the most dangerous politician of our time, to save, for unobjectionable candidates in a State election, on an increased vote, a part of the majority of 1880. The results in Ohio and in West Virginia confirm our belief that Governor Cleveland will win.

The record Mr. Blaine has made in his own letters and acts cannot be forgotten or excused or blotted out. He seeks to evade the real issue of political morality by insisting that the tariff is the Presidential issue. Yet protectionists and free traders are alike in our ranks, willing to leave this question to the Congressional elections and to a President who will execute the will of the people by Congress expressed. He asks support in behalf of civil service reform. Yet, as Speaker, he did his best, by a hostile committee, to kill that reform, while his opponent, as Governor, has been its steadfast friend. He appeals also to distrust of the Democratic party, and despite his stab in the back at Folger in 1882 to loyalty to the Republican party. But veteran Republicans in our ranks hold that party is a means, not an end; that an honest Democrat, resisting evil in his own party, is better than a corrupt Republican inviting dishonesty in his, and that the Republican party of the past would end with the election of Mr. Blaine, and can be saved only by his defeat. The real issue is one of honesty against corruption and it cannot be put aside by the accused.

We have again and again in the course of the campaign been compelled by the developments of the day to compare anew the characters of the two candidates. Every new charge against Mr. Blaine, wherever specific facts appeared, has been probed and in almost every case found, by the evidence furnished in his own handwriting, to be true. Every new accusation against Governor Cleveland, wherever specific facts gave any clue, has been probed and found to be false.

Our associates at Buffalo have investigated each of the scandals concerning his later life there which his opponents are now scattering in anonymous pamphlets throughout the land, and find them untrue hearsay gossip, credulously circulated by the few persons who have lent themselves to this work. The rumors and alleged evidence of scandals at Albany have caused us to make the most thorough and direct inquiry there, as the result of which we declare our full belief that his private as well as his public life in that city has been absolutely beyond reproach. We urge, therefore, that upright citizens of the strictest standard of private morals will fail in their duty if they permit an early transgression, frankly acknowledged and amply atoned for, about which has been woven the network of lies defiling the campaign, to prevent their using the vote they hold in trust for the whole people against the man who represents persistent and defiant prostitution of public office for private gain.

The contrast cannot be avoided between the man who holds public influence a means of private profit and the man who holds public office to be a public trust and who will face political defeat rather than lie or truckle or sham. Mr. Blaine's career in Congress and as Secretary of State gives promise of a Presidency that would promote corruption, unsettle business and give to youth the worst example of demoralization. Mr. Cleveland's record as Mayor and Governor shows a public career unswayed by private weakness, the capacity to meet every question as it arises with sterling integrity and stalwart common sense, and the promise of a Presidency that would assure reform, strengthen legitimate business and discourage the speculation whose fruits are seen in Commercial distress and broken banks. To you who believe in honesty, integrity and in your country we appeal not to throw away your opportunity, but to do your utmost by your work and with your vote against James G. Blaine.

We ask your help in extending our influence. Send us the names of your Republican neighbors who will not refuse to read facts. We ask your help in promoting organization. Form committees and let 'the silent vote' be heard against corruption. Address for this purpose George W. Green, secretary, No. 35 Nassau street, New York. We ask your help in enabling us to supply our volunteers with the means required to print, pay clerks and cover the expenses of organization and of speakers. Every dollar sent helps us to reach perhaps a score of voters. Inclose remittances to George W. Folsom, treasurer, No. 35 Nassau street, New York. We feel sure that our work will not fail if the means are given us to do that work and we appeal to every true Republican to stand by us in rebuking the false Republicanism of James G. Blaine. A vote that overwhelms him redeems the party and makes sure, for all time, that the conscience of the American people will not have a man without conscience for the head of this nation.

For the Committee:
Gorge William Curtis,
President.
George Walton Green,
Secretary.

In the Long Run the Country Will Go With Those Who Stand for the Right.

From Beecher's New York Address.

You may depend upon it, gentlemen, that this matter of revolt on the part of Independent Republicans is neither caprice nor a whim. It is a life-long business that we have undertaken. New York may not go as she ought to go. But we shall go as we ought to go and stay as we ought to stay. We are willing to hold up the arms of any Moses that will lead us against the Canaanites, the Hivites and the Jebusites. If this election goes wrong, we are not going wrong. We are not going under; we have come to stay. [Loud cheers.] An English Prime Minister said years ago: "In the long run, England will always go with the dissenters' consciences," and I say to-day of any compact body of intelligent men who have consciences and are willing to use them that in the long run this country will go with intelligent consciences. [Cheers] Well, I am not here to-night seeking any office. [Laughter.] I certainly am not here seeking any renown. [Laughter.] I suppose you read the morning papers? [Laughter.] Well, you certainly have no chance to read my mails or it might augment your ideas of the nastiness of mankind. I am not here in the expectation of lining a seat for any son of mine. [Laughter.] I had no bonds nor land grants. [Loud demonstration.] I am here simply as a citizen, an old man, at a time of life when most men choose to retire into quiet. But as long as my country or the administration of its government is imperiled I will know no quiet. [Loud applause. A voice: "Thank God for that."] Times are coming when men will be glad to thank God for anything, if Blaine is in it. [Laughter.]

DIED.

CHAPMAN & LAMBERT.

Our WAGONS,

CARTS & DEARBORNS

Have a reputation throughout this Peninsula. We have sold them in New Castle county, Del., and in Cecil county, Md., and as far as Salisbury, Md. We have over ONE THOUSAND of these running to-day, and as far as our personal knowledge extends we do not know of twelve set of tyres cut in the whole of them. This is evidence enough of what kind of lumber we use in making them.

We could give you testimonials enough to fill one side of the Chestertown Transcript to establish this fact if it were necessary, but the public already knows of the standing of these goods.

We have justly earned the high reputation we hold as manufacturers by our manner of doing business—

We give our own personal supervision to every minutia in building;

We see that all lumber is wellseasoned before it is used, and every other part is what it should be.

We do all kinds of

JOB-WORK & REPAIRS

furnish estimates for Bridge work, and repair all kinds of machinery.

We also sell

Plow Castings and Plows,

such as Wiley's, Concaves, and Minor & Horton's. These Castings are all ground and polished and sold cheap.

We also have on hand and make to order all kinds of

HARROWS,

Such as Twin and Double, and Single A's.

You will find a large lot of Single, Double and Three-horse Trees of the best hickory, well ironed; also, Plow Hames.

You will see by calling at our works that we have too much at stake to do mean or shoddy work.

Thankful for past patronage and hoping for a continuance of the same,

We are respectfully,
CHAPMAN & LAMBERT.
