REPUBLICAN TROUBLE AT SALISBURY.

Some of Kent's Delegation voted Against Colonel W. J. Vannort.

WAR TO THE KNIFE.

As already given in the TRANSCRIPT, the Maryland delegation to the Republican National Convention at St. Louis was completed last week by the selection of the Eastern Shore district delegates at the Convention at Salisbury. As has been stated, Dr. William D. Straughn, of Worcester, and B. Gootee Stevens, of Caroline, were chosen as the delegates from the First district, and Dr. Washington A. Smith, of Dorchester, as elector. The alternates are Col. William J. Vannort, of Kent, and John P. Forrester, colored, of Queen Anne.

The Convention was a stormy one. Mr. Martin M. Higgins, Dr. Barber and Mr. Benjamin F. Parlett, of Talbot and the Westcott men in the Kent delegation opposed the rest of the Convention which was controlled by Comptroller Graham, in the interest of Lowndes and Wellington. Mr. Higgins made a fight to go to St. Louis, and received six and eight-ninths votes

Mr. W. B. Miller, of Wicomico, presided. He urged harmony, but there was no harmony. Mr. Higgins resented what he called the effort of the chair to choke off the anti-Administration sentiment, and called the chairman names. The opposition wanted all resolutions read in the Convention before going to the committee, but were outvoted. The committee on credentials had plain sailing until they came to Colonel Vannort, who held a proxy in the Kent delegation. Colonel Vannort was seated by the Convention, against the protest of the Kent delegates. Mr. Higgins and Mr. Henry Clay Dodson, of Talbot, made a strong effort to instruct the district delegates for McKinley, and they offered several resolutions, couched in different language, but having that object. All these were voted down. The resolutions adopted approved the State platform, the Administration, sound money and protection. Kent voted for Forrester as alternate, but refused to support Col. Vannort.

Threats were freely made after the Convention adjourned. The opposition declared that Dryden would be beaten for Congress, and that Judge Russum could not be elected in the Second circuit in 1897 to succeed himself, as Talbot, Kent and Cecil would control the Judicial Convention, and no quarter would be shown to the Administration people. Comptroller Graham declared that he fought Higgins because Higgins had antagonized him.

IN PLAGUE TIMES.

How London Handled the All Devouring Sickness In the Seventeenth Century.

During the plague of 1603 Francis Hering, "Doctor in Physicke and Fellow of the Colledge of Physitians in London * * * published certain Rules and Directions for the prevention of the spreading of that contagious and all devouring Sickness." These he reprinted, "somewhat inlarged," in the next plague season of 1625, "to the view and vse, and I hope good of my Cittizens and Countrimen." Among his rules are:

"Concourse of people to Stage playes, wakes or feasts and May pole dauncings are to be prohibited by publique Authority, whereby, as God is dishonored, the bodies of men and women—by surfetting, drunkennes and other riots and excesses—disposed to infection, and the contagion dangerously scattered both in Citie and Countrie.

"Let not the carkasses of horses, dogs, cats, etc., lye rotting and poisoning the aire (as they have done) in More and Finsburie fields, and elsewhere round about the Citie.

"The burying of infected bodies in churches, churchyards and, namely, in Paules Churchyard, where the chiefe Magistrates of the Citie and many other Citizens meete weekly to hear Sermons, must needs be not onely inconuenient, but verie dangerous for spreading the contagion, and poisoning the whole Citie."

Some folk ate breakfast then, others did not:

"For breakfast you may vse a good draught of wormewood beere or ale, and a few morsels of bread and butter, with the leaues of sage, or else a toste with sweet salade oyle, two or three drops of rose vinegar and a little sugar. They that haue cold stomackes may drinke a draught of wormewood wine or malmsey, instead of ale or beere. But take heed (as you loue your life) of extreme hot waters, as aqua vitæ, Rosa solis or other compound waters of like nature, which Empericks prepare and set out with vaine and boasting words. * * * they were * * * devised to kill, not cure men."—Notes and Queries.

Rainbows That Can Change Sex.

In many parts of the world it is the general belief that the rainbow has the power to change sex. This queer belief obtains in such widely separated districts as South Africa and Norway and China and Australia. The Zulus have a long folklore story of the young man who was changed into a wrinkled old woman by touching the many hued arch. The Scandinavian peasants have a similar story, and in Greece they say that anybody who runs against the end of the rainbow will have his or her sex instantly changed. In France and India to pass under the rainbow has a similar effect.—St. Louis Republic.

Old Story to Him.

"My boy," said the passenger with the fur lined coat and the smooth shaven, square face, "it was the success of the season. There wasn't standing room."

The conductor smiled a sour smile. "Zif I didn't have the same experience every day," said he to the motorman.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Lady and the Cyclist.

A lady protected herself against the rushing advance of a cyclist in Brompton road, London, in original and commendable fashion. The Telegraph of that city describes how the cyclist was racing along at his best pace and the lady was crossing the roadway. Instead of making a detour to avoid her, the man simply rang his bell and rushed on without abatement of speed, considering that he had thus done his duty to society. Pedestrians on the footpaths and busmen on their perches saw that a collision was inevitable. So did the lady, who braced herself for the ordeal and resolved on offensive tactics. Giving her body—not by any means that of a pygmy—a rapid swing, she brought the strongest and most padded part of her figure into contact with the front wheel of the machine and the bicyclist himself and sent them both sprawling into the roadway. Then, giving her skirts another swing, just to prove that they had suffered no damage, she finished her journey across the road and turned round and laughed with others at the unhappy cyclist as he picked up himself and the disjecta membra of his once perfect machine. He made his way to the curbstone, where he sat down to contemplate the damage, and finally he put the thing on his shoulder and carried it away.

Wrong Altogether.

The vicar of a parish not many miles from a well known fashionable town was recently preaching a charity sermon, and in the course of his remarks he rebuked some of his parishioners who he thought simulated distress for the sake of obtaining assistance they did not really require.

As an illustration of this weakness he mentioned that during one of his pastoral visits he entered a cottage of one of the supposed delinquents, where he found everything neat and clean, and, what was more, a large plateful of buttered toast before the fire.

"Yes," he repeated emphatially, "buttered toast! Did that," he asked, "look like want?"

In the brief pause that followed this outburst of energy a voice indignantly responded, "No, 'tweern't butter neither; 'twere drippin."

The effect of this correction upon pastor and flock was simply indescribable. —Pearson's Weekly.

Butter Packing.

A system of packing butter which does away with cold chambers is being tried in Australia. The butter is being packed in cubical boxes made of glass, the joints being covered with adhesive, greaseproof paper. The boxes vary in size, holding from 1 pound to 200 pounds. When a box is filled, it is covered with a quarter of an inch of plaster of paris, and this with prepared paper or canvas. The plaster, being a nonconductor of heat, preserves the hermetically sealed butter.

The heathen mythology not only was not true, but was not even supported as true. It not only deserved no faith, but it demanded none.—Whately.

THAT LUMP in a man's stomach which makes him irritable and miserable and unfit for business or pleasure is caused by indigestion. Indigestion, like charity, covers a multitude of sins. The trouble may be in stomach, liver, bowels. Wherever it is, it is caused by the presence of poisonous, refuse matter which Nature has been unable to rid herself of, unaided. In such cases, wise people send down a little health officer, personified by one of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, to search out the seat of trouble and remove the cause. One little "Pellet" will remove a very big lump and act as a gentle laxative. Two "Pellets" are a mild cathartic. A short "course" of "Pellets" will cure indigestion permanently. It will cure constipation. After that, you can stop taking them. A good many pills act so violently as to derange the system, and in its disordered state, digestion will not go on without a continued use of the pills. That's the worst feature of most pills. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets never make slaves of their users.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets—it's an easy name to remember. Don't let a designing druggist talk you into "something just as good." He makes more money on the "just as good" kind. That's why he would rather sell them. That's why you had better not take them.

Whenever they are tried, they are always in favor, so a free sample package (4 to 7 doses) is sent to any one who asks. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.
