FREDERICK AND KENT.

They Join Hands in a Cruise on the Chesapeake.

A writer in the Frederick News recalls delightful last summer experiences in Kent and on the Chesapeake. "Skipper," the writer, says:

"The casual observer at Rock Hall, on Wednesday, Aug. 14, 1895, could not fail to have noticed that something of unusual moment was about to occur. A few moments after the departure of the steamer 'Gratitude' for Baltimore, a staunch, rakish looking craft was seen to be bearing down upon the wharf, where clustered together in groups of two or three discussing in an animated manner, were some of Kent's fair ladies and gallant gentlemen, surrounding one of Frederick's fairest daughters. Scattered around in promiscuous confusion were hammocks, trunks, satchels, shawls, blankets, etc., intermingled with various articles of tempting diet, all destined in a few minutes to find a place on board the good schooner 'Ostrich,' which had been chartered by Miss May Rogers, of Frederick, and Mr. Fred Willson, of Still Pond, and tendered to their friends for a ten days cruise on the noble Chesapeake.

"Amid the well wishes of a host of friends the lines were cast loose at 10 A. M., and the good vessel headed towards the capes of the Chesapeake. A word about the 'Ostrich' and her plucky captains. Not many months ago the papers of the State were ringing with the piratical escapades of this swift craft and her noted master, Capt. Buck Sanford, and his courageous and gallant mate, Capt. Will Apsley. No vessel on the Chesapeake has had more frequent or sharper contests with the State's police vessels than the 'Ostrich.' To-day she shows over three hundred bullet holes in testimony of the hot fight she past through during the last season, with the record of only one man killed. As she ploughs through the blue waters of the bay to-day freighted with a cargo of youth, beauty and gallantry, and 'Old Glory' flying from the main topmast, no one would recognize the yacht of to-day or the buccaneer of last winter; and of Capt. Sanford, we can well say with Byron, 'a milder mannered man never cut a throat or sank a ship.'

"We sailed all day Wednesday and during the night passed Bay Ridge and Annapolis, both looking extremely picturesque lighted up by hundreds of electric lights, mingling with which were the many colored lights of the various vessels. The ladies, for the most part, preferred to pass the night on deck in hammocks, in which predilection they were indulged except in cases of very blustery weather when the 'skipper' would insist on their going 'below' to sleep.

"Thursday afternoon we landed at Solomon's Island, in the Patuxent, where most of the party went ashore to look around and make a few purchases. Here we had the fortune to be present at a tournament followed by a ball in the evening. The night at Solomon's Island was a memorable one for all on board.

"On reaching Smith's Point lightship Friday afternoon we were treated to one of the strangest and most dangerous phenomenons seen on the Chesapeake. For hours the wind blew a gale from the southeast, the rain fell in torrents, the sea rolled over the bow of our boat at every wave; sail was shortened, the mainsail reefed and the foresail taken in and bonnet taken out of the jib and 'we walked the waters like a thing of life.' 'Twas here that the representative of old Frederick showed that she possessed all the qualifications of a true sailor and revelled in the angry sport of the elements, while many of those to the water borne gave evidence of mal de mer. Suddenly as the wind sprang up, it ceased to blow, but the tumultuous waves continued to run twenty feet high for at least an hour after it was dead calm.

"Several large sea-going vessels passed us with sails blown away and otherwise injured, while to the east of us, in Tangier Sound, we could see several water spouts ploughing their way along the turgid water. One passed within half a mile of our vessel and was viewed with feelings of mingled admiration and awe. Friday night was spent in the Potomac, where we replenished our supply of fuel and indulged in the luxury of a bath on the beach at Cove River Inlet. Saturday was a day of ever-increasing excitement. The ladies were introduced to the mystery of catching oysters with a dredge; storms, sea fowls, and fish of strange kinds were ever intruding themselves upon our notice. As night came on the wind freshened and we sped ahead at ever increasing velocity, and as the night was perfect we sat up until the 'we sma' hours,' singing, laughing, joking and watching the irredescent phosphorous making fantastic figures in the wake of the vessel.

"Sunday morning found us at Old Point Comfort, and we ate breakfast looking out upon that beautiful sheet of water known as Hampton Roads. Breakfast over we went ashore sight seeing—some visited the spacious hotels, others Fortress Monroe, while still others took the electric cars for Hampden and Newport News. The scene at Old Point at night looking from the water at the lights on shore and listening to the entrancing strains of music dispensed by the Marine Band from the balcony of the Hygeia Hotel was simply enchanting. While here our artist took several snap shots at some of the beautiful boats that came to the wharf of Old Point, and no doubt will some day treat us to a copy of them. Monday evening we reached Norfolk and anchored off the Arial boat club, whose members extended us the privileges of the club. From here we made excursions to Virginia Beach, Portsmouth, the Navy Yard, Ocean View, etc. Of Virginia Beach it may be said no finer bathing can be found on the Atlantic, besides many other attractions. Returning to Old Point Wednesday evening and taking a last look at its gayety that night, we started for Rock Hall Thursday morning. Our run up the bay was glorious; the heavens and earth seemed to join in making it a fit trip for the gods—many sat up all night in order to get the benefit of its enlivening beauty and more than one heart was made sad when we anchored in Rock Hall Friday, finishing a voyage which to many of us was fraught with so many pleasures. Our narrative would be incomplete were we to omit the splendid musical efforts of 'Pale Moon,' 'Nat's' effusion over the 'buck saw,' the 'Doctor's' encounter with 'Gov.' Hill, at Solomon's Island, Hattie's splendid beefsteaks, the 'Preacher's' rhapsody to the Bachelor, the 'skipper's' midnight appearance on deck with the loaded Winchester, the skirt dance by starlight, the plot to steal the yawl boat, 'Kinnie's' splendid steering, 'Jim Cain's' fourteen danger signals, and many other incidents dear to the hearts of the voyagers.

"Our trip was fitly ended by presenting Capt. Sanford and his able and courteous assistant, Capt. Will Apsley, with a set of resolutions commending them for their untiring care and zeal in ministering to our every want." "SKIPPER."

According to a celebrated anatomist there are upwards of 5,000,000 little glands in the human stomach. These glands pour out the digestive juices which dissolve or digest the food. Indigestion is want of juice, weakness of glands, need of help to restore the health of these organs. The best and most natural help is that given by Shaker Digestive Cordial. Natural, because it supplies the materials needed by the gland to prepare the digestive juices. Because it strengthens and invigorates the glands and the stomach, until they are able to do their work alone. Shaker Digestive Cordial cures indigestion certainly and permanently. It does so by natural means, and therein lies the secret of its wonderful and unvaried success.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."
DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

MRS. YOUNGWIFE'S ECONOMY.

Also Her Views About the Financial Knowledge of Her Husband.

The other day Mrs. Youngwife came in to borrow the mucilage. Mrs. Youngwife had written a letter, put her last stamp on the envelope and then addressed it wrong.

"I was so provoked," she said, "and I made up my mind I'd save that stamp if it took me all the afternoon. I've been at it an hour, but I got it off. Don't you think I'm economical?"

Some one suggested that there was a saying about a penny saved was as good as two earned, but there was another saying about "penny wise, pound foolish."

"Ah!" said Mrs. Youngwife. "That's my husband! He is always complaining about the size of our bills. He said to me this morning: 'What do you do with all the coal? Do you eat it?' I assured him I didn't, but what do you think he does? He comes home Saturday night with $2 or $3 worth of the most expensive fruit, which spoils before we can eat it. They make him pay $1 a dozen for oranges and tell him they are from Spain. They are no more from Spain than I am! But so it goes!

"The other day he met an old acquaintance down town. They hadn't seen each other since we have been married.

"'Well,' said the man to my husband, 'have you a good boarding place now?'

"'Just fair,' said my husband.

"'Cheap?' asked his friend.

"'Umph! Not exactly!' said my husband.

"'Where is it?' asked his friend.

"'Up near Sixty-fifth street and Tenth avenue,' said my husband.

"'How much do you pay?' asked his friend.

"'Well, it costs me about $150 a month,' said my husband.

"'Great Scott! Are you crazy?' said his friend. 'Up near Sixty-fifth street and near Tenth avenue! And it costs you $150 a month! Why, what in heaven's name makes you do it?'

"'I'm married!' said my husband.

"'Oh!' was all his friend said."—New York Sun.

He Wants a Change.

Mrs. De Lisle had been to the hairdresser. "I see that pompadour rolls are coming in again," she remarked to Mr. De Lisle the next morning at breakfast.

"Thank heaven for that!" retorted her husband. "Do get the recipe for our cook, for the rolls she gives us now are regular jaw breakers!"—Detroit Free Press.

All kinds of paper pulp will carry from 5 to 15 per cent of their own weight of clay, and a small addition of this adulterant, if it can be properly called so, is believed by many makers to improve the quality of the paper.

Look at the people you pass on the street. Their faces tell the story of their lives. They tell the story of penury or plenty, of refinement or coarseness, of health or disease.

Three-fourths of these people are not "exactly well." They are not all "sick," perhaps, but many of them are, and few are quite hale and hearty. Consumption has set its stamp of pallor and emaciation on many of them. Dyspepsia has drawn lines of fretfulness and worry about their eyes, and mouths. Impure blood is showing itself in blotches and pimples. One man has "a little trouble" with his kidneys. Some of the women have chronic constipation, and the other ills that constipation brings. The most pitiful of all faces is the consumptive one. Very likely it has been through the other stages and has at previous times shown dyspepsia, sallowness and bad blood. Consumption doesn't come all at once. It is a creeping disease. It comes on gradually under cover of a hundred differing symptoms. It is the most dreadful of all diseases, but it can be cured if you begin in time. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure it. It will cure all the things that lead to consumption. It is not guaranteed to cure consumption of long standing. There is a stage at which consumption is incurable.

If you send 21 cts. to cover postage and wrapping only, we will send free a book of 1000 pages that tells exactly what "Golden Medical Discovery" will do—what it has done in hundreds of cases. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

A Washer That Will Wash!

Have you tried this labor-saving machine! Parties using them are very much pleased with their work. One lady would not take $50.00 for her washer, if she could not get another GOODWIN. You do not have to pay for the machine until you have tried it to your own satisfaction. Drop a postal to me and I will send you one to try.
