SUBSCRIPTION to the TRANSCRIPT one dollar per year.

A CONTRAST.

But One That Smacks Considerably of Irony—Gold-Bug Decency.

It is always a relief to turn from the red-hot silver papers to the cool, placid and philosophical gold-bug press. On the one hand we have the torrid zone, with its passion of color and its fervor of sound; and on the other the blissful repose, the dreamy ease and the dolce far niente of Philadelphia. It is like escaping from St. Louis to the Land of Pure Delight.

Take up a silver paper, and you will find rude language, offensive epithet and coarse abuse; but in the columns of the gold bug journal all is civilization, Delsarte, refinement, Boston baked culture and wisdom. Here, for instance, is our afternoon mocking bird that fills the twilight hour with soft and soothing music. Its delight is to refer to those who differ with it on the financial question as "rotten money" people and advocates of the dishonest dollar. This, you see, is argument, reflection and philosophical meditation.

Then the Chicago Chronicle presents another instance of beautiful serenity whenever the financial question is on. Free silver, in the vocabulary of the Chronicle, is the "licensing of wholesale repudiation and rascality," and is "sure to go the way of its scoundrelly predecessor," greenbackism.

What a pity it is that we cannot always dwell in such an atmosphere of heavenly calm, where the reason is fed with lofty argument and where chaste and classical epithet is the rule! What a contrast does the gentle gold-bug present to the "howling silver Dervish!"—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

WESTERN MARYLAND PEACHES.

Large Shipments by Rail to Baltimore and the North.

The Western Maryland Railroad has been handling from twenty to twenty-five carloads of peaches each day, and the season is now fairly under way. The crop in Western Maryland is quite large, of excellent quality, and fair prices are being realized. There are a number of growers in Washington county, and the late varieties, which are principally grown in that region, are now about over. The points from which the largest quantities are shipped over the Western Maryland Railroad are Edgemont, Smithsburg and Chewsville, Washington county, and Midvale, Franklin county, Pa.

So far this season, about 250 carloads of peaches have been hauled over the road, consigned about equally to Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York. Last season the company hauled about 700 carloads of about 20,000 pounds to the car, and the quantity handled this year is expected to about equal that amount. The Eastern Shore and Delaware crop is about over, and this gives the Western Maryland peaches a good show on the market.

Many commission men are at the orchards, buying the crop on the trees, while others stay at the railroad stations and pay the growers so much for the peaches delivered on board the cars. Edward Hoffman, Hagerstown, made the largest purchase of peaches last week ever known there, 14,800 bushels. William Wheeler, Boonsboro, sold his crop, about 5,000 bushels, to J. H. Howser, of Georgia, for fifty cents a five-eighths bushel crate, picked.

Hebrew New Year.

With the advent of Tuesday morning of the present week, according to the Jewish chronology, the sickle of time had swung 5,657 times over this planet. Tuesday morning ushered in the Hebrew New Year; one of the most important and sacred of all Jewish feasts. From Tuesday sun-set until Friday, September 18, the 10 days are the "days of repentance."

On the 18th falls that most solemn day of the Hebrew faith, "The day of atonement. 'Yom Kippur,' when, according to Hebrew Rabbinical legend, the great book of life is closed by the recording angel, after being open from New Year's day."

"Rosh Hashana," the Jewish New Year, means "the feast of the blowing of trumpets" and was introduced when Moses and Aaron were leaders of the Children of Israel in the land of Egypt.

"And the Lord spoke unto Moses and Aaron saying: 'This month shall be unto you the beginning of months. It shall be the first month of the year unto you.'"

Many Jewish chronologists believe that "this month" has reference to the month of October, "Tishri," but custom of centuries has caused it to be celebrated on September 18.

September Weather.

Hicks forecasts the weather for Sept. as follows: The 2d and 3d will bring return of storm conditions, with Venus at the center of her perturbation on the 2d. Great warmth, followed by intense electrical storms, and turning suddenly very cool will be the order at each storm period, until past the middle of the month. Be prepared for frost after all storms, from central regions northward, from the beginning of the month. From the 7th to 11th is a storm period, fraught with indications of danger on land and sea. The 14th and 15th are reactionary days, on and about which many restless phenomena may be expected—black blustering clouds, fitful winds, thunder and storms—suddenly changing to cool. The 19th to 23d is the crisis of the annual equinox. Many dangerous storms and gales will sweep over land, lake and sea, and an autumnal wave from the polar regions will wind up the general perturbations. Cool to cold in northern regions, with early snow, will be no cause for surprise.

Made No Report.

The closest possible scrutiny of the columns of the Baltimore press has so far failed to disclose any report by the Hon. William Y. Perot, of his success in organizing the gold bugs and Conscience-Democrats of Chestertown. The distinguished visitor who represented the Wall Street of Baltimore city, is reported as having been "surprised to find so many Democrats here who will not support the Bryan platform of populism and disaster," and still he fails to report this very satisfactory state of affairs at headquarters. The truth of the matter is, that the only consolation which the paid representative of the Baltimore gold syndicate received while in Kent was from Republicans, not more than one Democrat in the county having given him the slightest reason to think that he would not support Bryan and Sewall.

Bishop Curtis' Successor.

The consulters and the irremovable rectors of the Catholic Diocese of Wilmington, will soon be called upon to recommend the names of three priests as possible successors to Bishop Curtis, whose request to be relieved of the cares of the diocese has been granted by the Pope. Afterward the bishops of the Province of Baltimore will select the names of three priests whom they will recommend for the position. It is not thought that Bishop Curtis' successor will be named before November.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."
DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."
UNITED HOSPITAL AND DISPENSARY, Boston, Mass.

ONE HEART.

I sometimes linger o'er the list
Of friends I lost in other days,
And still the question with me stays—
"When I am gone, shall I be missed?"

I doubt if others think the same,
Or even wish to share my thought—
That men were foolish who have sought
To leave a never dying name.

When thou hast run thine earthly race,
Thou wilt not "leave a world in tears,"
Nor will men come in after years
To view thine earthly resting place.

Thy poor remains will rest as well;
Thy spirit will be no less free.
Although it is not thine to be
A Milton or a Raphael,

Fret not thyself, but heaven thank
If all the good that thou canst do
May be so done that only few
Need ever know thy place is blank.

Be thankful if but one true heart
Shall feel for thee the moment's pain—
Ere it can say, "We meet again"—
Of knowing what it is to part.

One loving heart thou mayest crave,
Lest all thou caredst for on earth
Should seem to have no lasting worth
And end forever in the grave—

One faithful heart beneath the sky,
In which to leave a seed of love,
To blossom in a world above
And bear a fruit which shall not die.
—C. J. Boden in Chambers' Journal.

WORE THE DIAMOND IN HIS LEG.

A Story of the Way the Orloff Stone Was Taken From Persia to Russia.

Gus Fox, a dealer in diamonds on Fourth street, has a story about the famous Orloff diamond, named after Count Orloff, the first European who bought it. Fox says: "It was originally the eye of an idol in Trichinopoli. It was stolen, according to the accepted account by a Frenchman, who escaped with it to Persia, where he sold it for the equivalent in our money of $8,000 to a Jewish merchant.

"The Jewish merchant sold it to an Armenian named Shafras, who had traveled in Russia and conceived the idea of taking the diamond to that country and selling it to the Empress Catherine for a great sum. Shafras paid him $60,000 for it.

"Having secured the stone, the next question with Shafras was how to get it to Russia, or rather how to conceal it when he was searched by robbers, as he was sure to be on the road. The journey was a long and perilous one, and thieves abounded everywhere. Shafras thought of swallowing the stone when he should be taken by the robbers, but was obliged to give that plan up, as the diamond was too large to swallow.

"He began to feel he had a white elephant on his hands when a thought occurred to him. He procured a sharp lance, made a cut in the fleshy part of his left leg and thrust the diamond into the wound. He sewed up the cut with a needle and a silver wire. It healed, leaving the diamond imbedded fast in the leg, quite out of sight.

"Then he started for Russia. On the way he was seized by robbers again and again and was thoroughly searched. Being an Armenian and suspected of going to Russia to trade, the thieves marveled greatly at finding nothing of value upon his person.

"He arrived in Russia at last, and, after extracting his diamond, visited the empress. He was willing to sell it for about $150,000, but the empress had not so large an amount in cash for the purchase, and Shafras preferred to go on to Amsterdam, the seat of the diamond cutting industry, where he had the stone polished.

"Here Count Orloff, an extremely wealthy Russian, saw the diamond and was filled with a determination to secure it for the Russian crown. He did secure it, but Shafras exacted from the Russian government $400,000, an annuity of $20,000 and a title of nobility. He died a millionaire.

"The Orloff diamond weighs 195 carats and is about the size of a pigeon's egg. It is smaller than the Kohinoor, in the possession of the English queen, which is supposed to be worth $3,750,000."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Last of the Falstaffs.

A correspondent writes: "Apropos of the latest Falstaff, I well remember a memorable performance of 'Henry IV' on Dec. 18, 1852, at the Princess' theater, when George Bartley—called then the last of the Falstaffs—made his farewell bow to the public after 50 years' service. 'On this very night of the week, the very date of the month 50 years ago,' he said, he had made his first appearance on the boards. I remember, too, his saying he had played Orlando to Mrs. Jordan's Rosalind. As a boy I was much struck by the transformation from the burly knight to the aristocratic looking old gentleman in evening dress as he tearfully bade his audience farewell. Charles Kean was the Hotspur, Ryder the King, Lacy the Prince, while Harley, Meadows, J. Vining, H. Saker, Miss Murray and Mrs. Daly were in the cast. Poor Bartley died within six years afterward and was laid in St. Mary's churchyard, Oxford, when I was an undergraduate in that university."—Westminster Gazette.

A Rap at the Men.

If a woman cannot throw a stone or catch a mouse, men ought to cease plaguing her about her disability. As a rule, men do things which they cannot—writing up toilets, for instance. A man once told me that a bride wore "white corduroy, cut on the bias and trimmed with crinoline." Anything more awful than that I haven't encountered until today, when I read of another bride "arrayed in cream organdie silk and muslin, trimmed with chiffon." Fancy the honey turned to gall in reading descriptions like these after the wedding.

Oh, yes, the rural correspondent is abroad in the land. Last week one of him sent the following note to his weekly newspaper:

"Mr. Slick celebrated the semiannual of his first wife's death by getting married again."—Polly in Chicago Times-Herald.

His Rates.

Executor—Pray, sir, what do you charge for a funeral service?

The Rev. Mr. Canter—I always charge, my dear brother, in proportion to the property left behind. Couple of guineas for a poor man, 5 guineas for £10,000, and so on.

Executor—Well, my friend has left £50,000, so that would be £25; but it seems a good deal.

The Rev. Mr. Canter—But, my dear brother, think of the strain on my conscience.—Ally Sloper.

Little Girl—Let's play we're married and keepin house.

Little Boy—Let's don't. My teacher says it is wrong to fight.—Pearson's Weekly.

When wear begins to exceed repair in your body you are going to fall sick. The signs of it are: Loss of flesh, paleness, weakness, nervousness, etc. The repair needed is food. You think you eat enough, and yet you feel that you wear out more tissue, energy, nerve-force, than your food makes for you. The difficulty is that you do not digest enough. And this is so serious it is worth sitting down seriously to think about. If you can't digest what you eat, take a few doses of Shaker Digestive Cordial. The effect of it will be to increase your flesh and make you feel stronger. You won't fall sick. Proof that it is in control of your repair apparatus. It's easy enough to test this for yourself. Take a few bottles of Shaker Digestive Cordial.

Sold by druggists at 10 cents to $1.00 per bottle.

ALWAYS in season, Hopkins' Steamed Homany (Hulled Corn). Elegant lunch Quart can, 10c.

The mirror doesn't lie. It is not a flatterer. Its story is plainly told, and cannot be contradicted. Women whose blood is poor and whose whole system is run down by sickness and weakness, are afraid and ashamed to look in the glass. The condition of all the body is written in the face.

Thousands of women are dragging out a weary, miserable existence, because they do not fully realize what is the matter with them. They know that they have "female weakness" but they do not really appreciate what that means.

They do not know that to this one trouble is traceable almost all of their bodily ills. They consider it a disease by itself, and if they have also neuralgia, nervous headaches, biliousness, kidney troubles and other things, they see no connection between them and the derangements of a strictly feminine nature. Busy and overworked physicians often treat these things as separate ailments, when the whole trouble has the one source. The reproductive organs are so important a part of the body that when they are out of order, the whole system is deranged. Whatever illness a woman has, she will do well to look there for the cause.

A great many women knowingly neglect themselves, because they dread the telling of their troubles to a physician and the subsequent examination and "local treatment." All this is needless for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been found to perfectly and permanently restore lost strength and promote regularity of functional action.

Twenty-one cents sent to World's Dispensary Medical Association, No. 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y. will bring a 1000 page book, called "The People's Medical Adviser" full of sound advice.

ON CROSS STREET,
opposite the Armstrong Hotel, and am now prepared to do all kinds of work in my line. After a practical experience of 18 years in Horseshoeing and all Branches of Blacksmith Work,
I am confident of being able to give entire satisfaction. I have made the structure of the horse's foot a study of years. No hot shoes applied to horses' feet. All work done with neatness and despatch, and at the most moderate rates.

THE Goodwin Washer

A Washer That Will Wash!
Have you tried this labor saving machine? Parties using them are very much pleased with their work. One lady would not take $50.00 for her washer, if she could not get another GOODWIN. You do not have to pay for the machine until you have tried it to your own satisfaction. Drop a postal to me and I will send you one to try.
