much money. I have a project on foot to buy more land adjoining a farm I now own, if I get my money from Texas. The land is within 2½ to 3 miles of Comanche and I can't help thinking I can make something on it, even if I want to sell. I need some of it to improve my farm, and it is really fine land. I have perhaps such part of my own lands and can sell more, if I buy. All I propose buying is in forests and has a great deal of fine wood, besides some fine soft timber. I expect to return to Comanche probably next week and may spend my trip to Hood Co. before I return. I have considerable
