Dearest Katie:

Have been thinking of you so much thought I would write you just a few lines before the mail goes. Lumen phoned us last night that you were better yesterday & slept some we are so glad of that. Every thing is going on all right - Agnes is in attendance & Lizzie is coming in every once in a while - I am going up to day to see if any old hen is clucking - mine are setting all over the place - I don't expect to get any chickens, never do when they set so badly - still have twelve little ones, one died while I was away. Lettie was sick yesterday & had a little temperature last night - Aunt Fannie
