

In the country it is hard to get help for the household work. Wives, mothers and daughters who do their own work should have the very best of everything to do it with. Ivory Soap is the best; it cleans quickest and is easiest on the hands. It floats.

A WORD OF WARNING.—There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

SHAD ROE CROQUETTES.

A Tempting Spring-Time Delicacy for Easter Serving.

Take two shad roe, one-half pint of cream, the yolks of two eggs, one-fourth of a grated nutmeg, one teaspoonful of lemon juice, one large tablespoonful of butter, two large tablespoonfuls of flour, one tablespoonful of chopped parsley, salt, cayenne and black pepper to taste.

Wash the shad roes, put them in a saucepan of boiling water, add a teaspoonful of salt, cover and simmer slowly 15 minutes. Then take them out, remove the skin and mash them. Put the cream on to boil. Rub the butter and flour together, add them to the boiling cream and stir until it is very thick; add the egg yolks, take from the fire and add the other ingredients, mix well and turn out on a dish to cool. When cold form into croquettes, dip first into the beaten egg and then in bread crumbs, fry in boiling fat, and serve with sauce Hollandaise.

RELIGIOUS THOUGHT.

Gems Gleaned From the Teachings of All Denominations.

Christianity without revivals is no more God's Christianity than weather without storms is American weather.—Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst, Presbyterian, New York.

Doing Good Deeds.

Doing good is the burden we are to take upon us, so with the right yoke and the burden well adjusted we will find rest.—Rev. L. M. Hartley, Methodist, San Francisco.

Our Duty Toward Young Men.

It is our duty to appreciate our young men. They carry the future in them. We see very little ways ahead in judging and weighing our young men.—Rev. Dr. Gregg, Presbyterian, Brooklyn.

Gaining the World.

Jesus does not set forth a choice of worlds nor does he imply it. It is a contrast of world over against man. The caution is not against gaining the world, but against gaining it at the expense of personal soul.—Rev. B. E. Howard, Congregationalist, Los Angeles.

A Live Church.

A living church is always an inspirational church, a church with power to make clear the thoughts and right the hearts of men. A church without a message is already dead. A church through which the living God speaks by living words to living men is a live church.—Rev. L. M. Powers, Universalist, Buffalo.

The Protestant World.

In the Protestant world there is no such thing as unity of faith, worship or authority. All recognize the Bible, all draw their doctrines from the Bible, and thus the inspired word of God to one affirms the Trinity, to another denies it; to one demands infant baptism, to another forbids it.—Rev. Father J. M. Haveson, Catholic, Dallas.

Sweetest Songs.

The sweetest songs we sing are composed by those whose hearts are surcharged with emotions of joy or of sorrow. Songs composed under such inspiration can never grow old. Years may pass over them, but their freshness is as the morning breeze in springtime.—Rev. J. Knox Montgomery, Presbyterian, Cincinnati.

Past and Future.

The past is gone, the future is ours. Let us thank God for the grace of the past and let our prayers go up for the faults that we have committed. Let us so live that after all is passed we may be found ready to receive in the coming kingdom on high not the greetings of time but the blessings of eternity.—Archbishop Riordan, Catholic, San Francisco.

Man In God's Image.

Man, as a mental and moral being, is in God's image. He is capable of divine inspiration. In God he lives and moves and has his being. When he uses his power of reasoning, when he exercises his gift of moral discernment, he thereby comes into fellowship with God, and God imparts to him his truth.—Rev. Henry W. Pinkham, Baptist, Denver.

Work of the Eternal Spirit.

"God's in his heaven; all's well with the world." He has not forsaken his people. There is more good in the world than we see or dream of. The Eternal Spirit is at work below the reach of human eyes, and even in a nation apparently given up to idolatry there is a host of saints whose hearts are still true to God.—Dr. C. E. Jefferson, Broadway Tabernacle, New York.

A Good Conviction.

The thought of God as your father is uplifting. The conviction that life can be molded into excellence if you keep your hand in his hand and follow his commands enlarges the soul, gives you endurance, cheerfulness, comfort and encouragement. The religion which offers you that conviction is the only true religion.—Rev. George H. Hepworth, Congregationalist, New York.

Penance and Heaven.

The end of the church in preaching penance and mortification is that man may attain heaven. The worldly wise rebel against mortification of the flesh and self denial. They fly in the face of Christ himself, and they deny truths which he himself declared without the slightest chance of doubt when he said, "Unless you do penance you shall all likewise perish."—Rev. Father Mylott, Catholic, Cleveland.

Gifts of Godliness.

Golden tomorrows are not alone the gift of godliness. Pagans and atheists prophesy and hope for better things, but only as a reaction and contrast to the disastrous results of today. But godliness prophesies of the life which is to come and claims its fullness because it is conscious of the sweep and power of law with which life has been identified, and because it feels the uplifting of moral forces which can only eventuate in what is higher and better.—Rev. C. E. Patillo, Methodist, St. Louis.

Christianity's Glory.

It is the glory of Christianity that it solves the spiritual contradictions of the human soul. It furnishes a spiritual perspective that projects experience on the plane of eternity and bids hope and faith rise above the routine of existence with its doubts and defeats, because the present and the visible are but parts of a larger history in which not man only but the whole creation shall rise to the liberty of the "sons of God." And not alone in the outward life and pain and incompleteness but chiefly in the soul's inner experiences is this reconciliation made complete. Instead of sin there is a sense of pardon, and in place of alienation from God there is a partaking of the divine nature that brings the ideal into touch with the actual, and in the largeness of that love life we find the true heritage of the freeborn. All this and much more is the content of that familiar word "salvation," which is the keynote of Christian teaching and the basis of human aspiration.—Rev. S. J. Smith, People's Church, St. Paul.

The Sure La Grippe Cure.

There is no use suffering from this dreadful malady, if you will only get the right remedy. You are having pain all through your body, your liver is out of order, have no appetite, no life or ambition, have a bad cold, in fact are completely used up. Electric Bitters is the only remedy that will give you prompt and sure relief. They act directly on your liver, Stomach and Kidneys, tone up the whole system and make you feel like a new being. They are guaranteed to cure or price refunded. For sale at M. A. Toulson's Drug Store only 50 cents per bottle.

Theater In Modern Life.

We cannot overestimate the importance of the theater, as it deals with the application of emotion to problems of morality and practice. It has numbers of good characteristics in itself. For one thing, it is designed to please, which in itself is a moral aim. Laughter is conducive to health. Amusement is not merely defensible, but the want of it is a calamity. The right sort of amusement does not interfere with business, duty, sobriety, scholarship or virtue, but advances them all. It is unspeakably regrettable that there should seem to be a feud between piety and pleasure.—Rev. B. Fay Mills, Evangelist, Boston.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. ABSORBED IN WHIST.

A Game That Cost General Doubleday a Fortune.

Not many years ago a famous whist game was played at Sudbury, Vt., two of the sitters in being General Doubleday and Henry Dater of the well known firm of Dater, Thompson & Co. It was something like 5 or 10 cents a corner; so you see it was easy for a man to lose as much as $1.90 in an afternoon. Play began after the Sudbury dinner hour, half past 1, and lasted until teatime. The old roosters became so wrapped up in the game that nothing short of an earthquake could have disturbed them. Brokers in New York could do nothing to shake the interest.

The game was played at the time of the historic Hannibal and St. Joe corner, engineered by Kennedy, Hutchinson & Co., in the interest of their client, John Duff of Boston. Doubleday was selling the stock short through Van Schaick & Co., and at a quarter to 2 on the eventful day he received a telegram from his brokers advising him of the situation. The game was stopped just long enough for him to read it and lay it aside. In 20 minutes a second dispatch arrived, was read and cast aside. Doubleday was winning at the rate of 35 cents an hour. What did he care about Hannibal and St. Joe? Later in the afternoon a third summons came from Van Schaick & Co., and at 5 o'clock a fourth. Then Doubleday arose and remarked: "Gentlemen, I have enjoyed the game. My winnings are exactly $1.65. I must say good afternoon, as it is necessary for me to take the first train for New York." The next morning his brokers informed him that he could settle for $100,000. At the time the first telegram was sent he could have settled for $25,000, at the time of the second for $50,000, the third for $75,000. He had ample warning, but in the thick of the Sudbury game of whist he believed the rise was only a threatening flurry.—New York Press.

SCOTCH SIMPLICITY.

The Mason, the Budding Architect and a Conscience Stricken Lad.

The Scotch are fond of telling stories which illustrate the peculiar simplicity of mind of their country people. This simplicity at least saves them from wicked guile.

One of these stories relates that an honest mason once had a contract to build a small house of stone. He came early and began from the inside to lay the stone, working very fast. At noon his young son brought him his dinner, peeping over the wall as he handed the basket to his father. With honest pride in his eye, the mason looked over to the boy.

"Weel, Jock, hoo d'ye think I'm gettin on?" he asked.

"Ye're getting on famous, feyther," answered Jock, looking at the solid wall, in which there was no break. "But hoo d'ye get out?"

The mason looked around. It was true. He had provided the house with no door at all, and he was on the inside. He looked kindly and very admiringly at the boy.

"Mon, Jock, ye've a grand heid on ye!" he exclaimed. "Ye'll be an architect yet, as sure as yer feyther's a mason!"

Another story shows how unsuccessful as a thief the rustic Scot may be. Two young plowmen went into a garden at night to steal gooseberries. The bushes surrounded a plot of potatoes, and as one of the lads groped about he got a handful of potato plums, which he quickly put into his mouth. Then he gasped to his comrade:

"Oh, Jock, I'm poisoned! For ony sake, shove me through the hedge again, for I waudna like to dee i' the auld man's gairden!"—Youth's Companion.

When the Water Pipe Bursts.

The actual fracture of the pipe occurs, not as is very generally imagined, when the thaw comes, but when the frost first attacks the water in the pipe and solidifies it. As a given quantity of water, when formed into ice, occupies a greater space in the solid form than would contain it while liquid it is evident that where a pipe which is full of water comes under the influence of frost the pressure in the pipe is increased to such an extent that the pipe becomes expanded until it can bear the strain no longer, and man's handiwork succumbs to nature's law. As ice is not a fluid it does not give us intimation of the fault in the pipe, and we live in happy ignorance until the return of warmer weather, when the contents of the pipe are once more freed from the grip of frost, and the water gushes out and we say "the pipe has burst," as if that occurrence had just taken place.

Gold braid on white (always a telling and successful action) is prominent in the white cloth costumes that are the atest Paris fad for afternoon gowns.

I was reading an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in the Worcester Enterprise, which leads me to write this. I can truthfully say I never used any remedy equal to it for colic and diarrhoea. I have never had to use more than one or two doses to cure the worst case with myself or children.—W. A. STROUD, Pocomoke City, Md. For sale by M. A. Toulson, druggist.

The Church's Greatest Problem.

The greatest problem to be solved by the church, the most important duty that today devolves upon ministers of religion is the correction of the seeming indifference to public worship displayed by all, but more especially by the young. Looser and looser the ties are growing day by day, feebler and feebler the power to draw and hold within the embrace of the church the thousands of educated men and women who are rapidly becoming the directors of the thoughts of their generation.—Rev. J. Nieto, Hebrew, San Francisco.

BRONCHITIS

Bronchitis is very prevalent. It generally begins with a common cold, attended with cough, hoarseness, soreness of the lungs, tightness of the chest and difficulty in breathing. If not attended to, it becomes dangerous—thousands die from bronchitis annually. Dr. John W. Bull's Cough Syrup is the best remedy for this disease; it relieves the cough at once, effects an easy expectoration, and cures in a few days.

Farmer Fahnstock thinks he owns the stock he is so proud of. But as a matter of fact the stock owns him. He is the humble servant of horse, cow and pig. He looks after them better than he looks after himself, and feeds them before he feeds himself. That is why it so often happens that just about the time that Farmer Fahnstock has reached the place where he can take things easy, he breaks down.

No class of people have been more quickly appreciative of the tonic properties of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery than farmers and stock raisers. They have found it prevents as well as cures disease. It keeps the stomach in healthy operation, stimulates the organs of digestion and nutrition and increases the secretions of the blood-making glands. The use of "Golden Medical Discovery" at seasons when the strain of work is greatest, keeps the system in perfect working order and prevents the break down which comes from over drafts on the strength.

"I used ten bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and several vials of his 'Pleasant Pellets' a year ago this spring, and have had no trouble with indigestion since," writes Mr. W. T. Thompson, of Townsend, Broadwater Co., Montana. "Words fail to tell how thankful I am for the relief, as I had suffered so much and it seemed that the doctors could do me no good. I got down in weight to 125 pounds, and was not able to work at all. Now I weigh nearly 160 and can do a day's work on the farm. I have recommended your medicines to several, and shall always have a good word to say for Dr. Pierce and his medicines."

"Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whisky or other intoxicant.

A single item of medical knowledge when life is at stake has a value past computation. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser has 1008 pages of priceless paragraphs.
