Local Items.

—A good rain is much needed.

—Mrs. Wm. B. Bean, died suddenly of heart desease in St. Inigo's, on Friday last.

—Mr. J. A. Dillow lost a fine mare on Sunday last, supposed to be the result of the excessive hot weather.

Miss Rosa Milburn, the very popular school teacher, of St. Jerome's Neck school, was in town, on Monday last.

—Mrs. Harriet Hebb exhibited to us the largest tomato we have yet seen. It weighed one pound and three ounces.

—Judge J. Parran Crane was in town on Tuesday last and drew the jury for the September term of our Circuit Court.

—Mr. Derby A. Lynch, in a card in the St. Mary's "Beacon," declines to be a candidate for the Legislature. Since no democrat can be elected this Fall, Mr. Lynch shows his good sense in retiring at the proper time.

—At the head of our editorial column, this issue, appears a cut of the Hon. Lloyd Lowndes, our candidate for Governor, and our next Governor. The other nominees are Robert P. Graham, of Wicomico, For Comptroller, and H. M. Clabaugh, of Carroll, For Attorney General.

—Annual Dinner and Fete Champetre of the St. Inigos' and St. Michael's congregation at the Villa Wednesday, August 21st. Come one, come all.

—The Entre Nous Comedy Co., gave an enjoyable entertainment at the Society's Hall, on Thursday last, but no better than our home talent could or can render.

—The democratic County Central Committee will meet on the 20th inst., and fix the date of their primaries. We wish our political opponents every success except the election of their ticket.

Miss Fannie Combs, sister of County Commissioner, A. C. Combs, who has been teaching one of the Indian schools in Perris, California, is on a visit to her home, near Valley Lee. She will return to her labors next week.

—The remains of Mrs. Joseph Ann, consort of Mr. John W. Tippett, were laid to rest in All Faith burial ground Wednesday morning last, the 14th inst. She was truly a good woman and greatly beloved by all who knew her.

—Mr. Hattersley W. Talbott has been elected chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee but Mr. John E. Hurst, the democratic nominee for Governor, was not consulted in the matter. But Mr. Gorman said so and it was done.

—Mr. Wash B. Hammett, who is at work with Mr. W. W. Cecil, 2nd Dist., had his right leg broke between the ankle and knee on Tuesday last. He was engaged in unloading timber at Cecil's Mill and the log slipped and caught his leg with the above results.

—Mr. Chas. Nuthall, one of the first pilots of Baltimore city, died on the 10th instant. He was born in Piney Point section of this county, about 60 years ago. He was a first cousin of Mr. Charles Nuthall who resides over the bay opposite our city.

—Mr. Thos. C. Edwards, of the 4th district, is spoken of as the democratic nominee for the office of County Commissioner and Mr. G. L. Buckler for the office of Judge of the Orphans' Court. Both of these are good men, worthy and capable, but can our democratic friends elect them?

St. Inigo's Doltings.

To write for the press and "to speak in public on the stage," one needs to have something to say, and in truth he needs equally as well to know how to say it. Every defect, whether corporeal or mental, is a deviation from physical rectitude, and inequalities in the human intellect become visible. Invita Minerva. Among the Romans of old it was considered that the mind could accomplish nothing unless Minerva, the Goddess of wisdom, lent her favoring aid, particularly if the least defect was discernible.

I invite the aid of the goddess to assist me to give you the news of this section as I see it. That there are chronic grumblers more or less in every locality, I do not hesitate to say, but I am inclined to indulge the opinion that St. Inigo's district has as few of their class as any locality with which I am acquainted. Dry weather continued in its depressing effects and is sufficient cause to make grumblers, yet, I seldom hear a murmur escape from the lips of neighbors.

I observe that large shipments of wheat frequently occur, and that sail craft are used as well as steamers to convey the valuable grain to market.

It affords me much pleasure to state that the political condititon of the district is peaceful.

The colored citizens appear to be satisfied with the ticket nominated recently at Leonardtowa. Their patient and tolerant spirit is commendable. I have no inclination to say—could not justly do so—that they are indifferently concerned as to the welfare of the party of their choice. They realize the fact that in unity there is strength—that discussion is antagonistic to the success of their party.

Is it not obvious that a being which is capable of life and death may alternately be subject to both? Death is the extreme of life, and that hearse which has just passed by the old locust at the gate forcibly reminds me that there is such a thing as death, and it matters not whether I view it in the light of the Orientals,—as a spiritualized angel,—or, coinciding with the poet and regard it as a scarecrow, picturing to my imagination "his meagre aspect and his naked bones," it is certain to occur.

It is inevitable. Our sympathy goes out to our friends, Messrs. John Trossback and W. B. Bean. The loss of their good wives is an irreparable one.

Roads are in fairly good travelling condition. True, there are holes but these comparatively, are few and some distance between.

A number of summer boarders are at Miller's wharf, and I have succeeded in getting the names of some of them. Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Everett, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Babcock, Mrs. Campbell and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Jones and daughter, Miss Marie Carpenter and S. F. Bailey, Washington, D. River Springs, Md.

August 13th, 1895.

To the Editors of the "Enterprise":

Thus far, this has been the banner season of this famous resort. "Dear Old River Springs" is enjoying an unprecedented Boom, with a Capital B. And why should it not? Have we not one of the most popular, congenial, self-sacrificing and wide-awake managers and proprietors in the person of Doctor R. P. Blakistone, ably assisted by the personification of amiability, his treasured wife, beloved by all who know her. Yes, this cool retreat is enjoying a prosperous season and the Doctor is forced by the lack of additional accommodations to turn down scores of applicants for rooms, having no available place wherein to place them. Each steamer brings numbers of persons who are either turned away or have to await the vacancies as they occur in Hotel or cottages. But about the place and pleasures! Firstly, speaking from a gastronomic point, the table supplied by the Hotel is the chief topic of congratulation. It is loaded down with everything that land and water can provide and has always been pronounced by epicures to be the "best on the Potomac" Unlike a great many resorts, our food is thoroughly cooked to a nicety and always receives the endorsements of every new arrival. To spend a part of one Summer here, means to spend all future ones, as the writer has done, this being his fifteenth (15) consecutive season here and generally remaining from two to three months, sometimes prolonging his stay until deep into September.

Sailing here is one of the enjoyments that is taken advantage of, as we have a small fleet of very fast boats captained by able sailors, which makes it perfectly safe for the ladies and children, free of charge. Fishing and row boats are always to be found gratis here.

Good fishing is one of our delights. We are also blessed with pure and wholesome water in abundance being supplied by two wells and the famous "River Springs," from which this place derives its name one furnishing "Lithia" and the other "Chabybeate Water," with recognized medicinal properties.

Our orchard furnishes fruit trees of all kinds fairly loaded down with the luscious peach, pear, plum and apple always at the disposal of the guests.

We have dancing here in our open pavilion every Wednesday and Saturday nights which is always largely attended by the devotees of Terpsichore, of which a large attendance is furnished by the best families of the surrounding country, in which Leonardtown is generally well represented.

We are always happy to receive friends and even strangers to our dances, as our host ever enjoys the "happy faculty of making every one feel perfectly at home." We are particularly blessed with an abundance of large shade trees, fine lawn, cool breezes nighty and no mosquitoes.

Bathing is generally enjoyed by a very large coterie both morning and afternoon. Several straw rides in ox carts have been much enjoyed.

We have received several visits from yachting parties from Washington and Colonial Beach, whc have remained several days.

Doctor Blakistone is contemptating the erection of several cottages to accommodate the increasing patronage of whom a large number came from Baltimore ysarly.

The Doctor requests me to extend an invitation to the people of Leonardtown to be present on Wednesday and Saturday evenings to enjoy the mazy dance. Of course you know that means "hospitable hospitality.

Among those sojourning here are: Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Walker, Misses Lilly and Blanche Walker, Reginald and Allen Walker, Mr. Chas. Turner and family; John Hammer, J. P. Gibbons, B. H. Howard, R. Snowden Contee, W. L. Campbell, R. T. Dawson and wife; Misses Florence, Ida and Sadie Dawson; Mrs. J. R. Norris, Miss Alice Norris, Mr. and Mrs. A. Dallas Tucker and children; Mrs. D. D. Mankin, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Combs and son; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Nailor, Misses Bessie Shanks, Pattie and Fannie Blakistone, Lula Ford, Mrs. Rosa Mankin, Mr. J. B. Coombs and daughter, Victor Becker, Sam Shuster, Mrs. J. B. Baggett, Maud Baggett, Perry Allen, G. W. Walsh, Misses Mary Turner, Cynthia Bean, Margaret Kelly, W. F. Staley, Cyrus Snyder, Mrs. C. C. Hughes, Ethel and Mabel Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dalton and family; Will Lanning, G. B. Martin, John Driscoll, Alonzo L. Tounett, Mr. and Mrs. B. Carle Fenwick and son; Edwin Tucker, Ethel Tucker, Mrs. H. T. Doyle and family; Mrs. Knight, Miss Ollie Slater, Chas. Slater, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walton, Mrs. F. M. Griswell and family; Miss Mary Duckett and neice, Mr. F. P. Stacy, Mrs. General Kelton and family and others.

Editors of the ENTERPRISE:

LEONARDTOWN, MD.,—Dear Sirs:

In your issue of the 10th instant, I note an account of the conviction in New York of Peter Garrahan for swindling Italians, &c., and the connection of my name therewith, in a manner to warrant the inference that I was "particeps criminis"—In justice to myself, I ask you to publish the following facts well known to all acquainted with the matter: I was connected with Mr. Garrahan in forming the Maryland Progressive Improvement Co. I did secure options on a large amount of land near the mouth of the Patuxent river and under different conditions I believe we would have succeeded in building there a city as proposed. With this Italian business however, I distinctly had nothing to do. On the contrary, I opposed the plan strenuously, even to the extent of causing a breach between Garrahan and myself. My reasons for this opposition were because I knew the Co's plans were sufficiently meretorious to enlist the aid of intelligent business men who would be opposed to any such scheme and because I foresaw that any dealings with such an ignorant set would not only lead to complications but,—because of their inability to judge for themselves—they would become easy victims for unscrupulous lieing agents. In justice to Garahan, I must say, that though my knowledge of the unfortunate affair was necessarily hearsay, I believe he was innocent of any intention to defraud and that he is the victim of a miscarriage of justice resulting from his own recklessness supplemented by rank perjury upon the part of some of the prosecution's witnesses.—Of any connection I had with the Maryland Progressive Improvement Co., I am not in the least ashamed, nor am I of my failure in the attempt to develop the natural resources of my native county. Neither am I discouraged by this failure. For, having learned considerable by past experience, I expect "to pick my flint and try it again," provided I meet with any encouragement from the people of St. Mary's.

Very Truly, &c.
F. M. NEALE.

Our use of Mr. Neal's name in connection with the conviction of Garahan was not intended to reflect upon this gentleman but was merely intended to describe the concern so that our patrons might understand the nature of the facts. Mr. Neale comes of one of the oldest as well as the most respected families of Southern Maryland, is incapable of fraud, and deserves credit for his efforts to develop the resources of our county and is no way responsible for the short comings or errors of others.—EDS.

OBITUARY!

In the Memory of my beloved wife who departed this life after a short but painful illness, Bessie, wife of S. A. Gatton, aged 18 years, 10 months and 4 days and, may she through the mercy of God rest in peace!

With a sad heart but full of sympathy I write this sad tribute of respect in the memory of my darling wife, who after being wedded two short years was called away at the dawn of motherhood, and today two newly made graves covers the remains of darling mother and precious baby; side by side in Joy Chapel grave yard. Bessie, with great patience, bore her sufferings; spoke not of the miseries which pierced her, but willingly offered up the sacrifice. Two weeks [illegible] were buried to death at a [illegible] Fire in the cellar, devoted friends [illegible] 63 to 85 [illegible] ful physicians, [illegible] pale of darkness now [illegible] us, would have been spared [illegible] but, alas! the day came when [illegible] slowly faded and when God called [illegible] well done thou good and faithful servant, enter into the Kingdom thou hast prepared for you" and with hands folded on her breast and eyes closed in death she bade us an affectionate farewell. And through the mercy of God, may she rest in peace!

All I had on earth, has left me,
Nothing more I care to own,
Wife and baby once so happy,
Lays within the silent tomb.

Earth holds no desires for me,
Heaven has my heart embraced,
Call me Oh! my blessed Saviour,
Fill my soul with loving grace.

Farewell, my darling, Oh! farewell,
This parting gives me pain,
I'll live a while without thee dear,
But soon we'll meet again.

BY HER DEVOTED HUSBAND.
