

A simple and safe way to clean costly and easily-injured articles is to make a suds of hot water and Ivory Soap, and allow it to cool until lukewarm. This solution, while very effective, is perfectly harmless.

Ivory Soap contains no alkali. It will not destroy the surface or texture of any material, however delicate.

Ivory Soap differs from other soaps. It is more carefully made, and the materials used in its manufacture are the purest and best.

LIPPINCOTT'S FOR JUNE.

The complete novel in the June issue of Lippincott's is entitled "Green Withes," by Jeannette B. Walworth. This is a tale of strong human interest, touching, as it does, on one of the vital questions of to-day. The snapping of the green withes of convention and the inevitable awakening are told in a forceful and interesting way, which is calculated to arouse the reader's deepest sympathy.

A truly delightful article on "The Summer's Birds," by Dr. Charles C. Abbott, will be found entertaining, as well as useful in country walks this sammer. "Chemistry in the Kitchen," by Albert G. Evans; "The Samoan Feast of Pilaui," by Owen Hall; and "Fires in Metalliferous Mines," by John E. Bennett, are all excellent and timely papers.

Shorter fiction is well represented by Dora Read Goodale in "The Opera-Glass," and by Roilo Ogden in "A Scientific Reader."

Theodore Gallagher contributes a story of life in a miners' camp, called "Father McGrath," and Alice Miriam Roundy writes of "King McDougal's Kitten."

The verse of the month is from the pen of Margaret Gilman George, Geraldine Meyrick, and Eliza Calvert Hall.

The Best Plan For Saving Queenless Colonies.

More colonies than usual will be found without queens this spring. This is true on account of the fact that bees have suffered badly the present winter owing to the extreme cold weather, and all colonies that have been left out on their summer stands unprotected are winter killed down very weak, if they have at all survived. A corresponding loss of queens will also be found, and all colonies that have sustained this loss will, in a short time, become extinct if some attention is not given them.

Queenless colonies may now scarcely be considered worth the attention to save them if we cannot secure queens for them, but it is not this; if these hives are allowed to remain in this condition robbers will soon find them and a greater destruction will occur. These hives doubtless contain more or less honey, and the bees that are in them will be a great help to other colonies if they are united with them. This is the proper thing to do with all those queenless colonies now, and this should be done on the first warm day that presents itself. All the unoccupied combs and hives should be taken up and placed away where they are safe and where the bees will not find them.

All combs in hives in which the bees have died should be stored away carefully, for they are very valuable to again build up colonies on. A good set of combs is fully half the value of a colony, and by its help we can soon again replace our loss. These combs may be cleaned of dead bees and dirt only as far as we can do so by lightly brushing the same from them, but we cannot undertake to clean them thoroughly, removing dead bees that have crawled into the cells and died there, without injuring the combs. But just put them away in this condition and when they are given to the bees they will readily clean them and remove all dead bees from the cells.

A. H. Duff concludes the foregoing advice, given in the Kansas Farmer, with the statement that it is rather difficult to procure queen bees very early in spring. Southern beekeepers usually have them a month or more before we can rear them in the north, so that by sending south for them we can supply many of our queenless stocks in time to save them. Not unless such colonies are very strong in bees will it pay to secure queens for them. When they are weak, it is best to unite them with others.

Earliest Wax Bean In Cultivation.

The most striking claim made for the comparatively new Valentine wax bean by one seedsman is that "it is first in earliness, first in productiveness and first in quality; a perfect Valentine bean with wax pods." Another confirms this with the description, "A new round podded wax sort and the earliest wax bean in cultivation."

Henderson, in illustrating it, says: Up to now there has been no variety of such prominence among wax beans that could compare with that of the Valentine among green beans. We now have an excellent wax podded variety possessing in a remarkable degree the excellent features of this sort. It is very early for a wax bean. A planting made on June 12 gave us a fair picking by July 28—46 days. Its value as a shipper remains to be proved, but it is certainly very tender and almost without string. In fact, the pod is free from any toughness whatever, but is remarkably solid throughout.

Hardy Blackberries.

Blackberries found most hardy at the Ohio station are Early King, Snyder, El Dorado and Ancient Briton. Early King is the earliest of any hardy kind, being nearly equal to the Snyder in hardiness and about two weeks earlier. El Dorado is the largest of the hardy sorts and the best in quality, while the Snyder seems still to hold first place as to productiveness. Erie and Ohmer are excellent varieties, but not perfectly hardy. Rathburn is promising, although it has not been fully tested as to hardiness.

News and Notes.

Those who are interested in hybrid plums will find in bulletin No. 67 of the Vermont station descriptive and historical notes on 50 varieties, with many illustrations and other valuable information.

The department of agriculture has received a consignment of varieties of Russian grains and other products, the grains being selected with the expectation that they will resist rust and drought. All these are not for general distribution, but are to be experimented upon first at the various agricultural stations.

Gregory's Surprise is said to be among the earliest wrinkled peas.

It is said that the entire annual growth of wheat in England could support the population but 14 weeks.

Chimney soot is an obstruction to snails, and if placed thickly around hot beds will prevent their securing entrance, according to Meehan.

How to Look Good.

Good looks are really more than skin keep, depending entirely on a healthy condition of all the vital organs. If the liver is inactive, you have a bilious look; if your stomach is disordered, you have a dyspeptic look; if your kidney are affected, you have a pinched look. Secure good health and you will surely have good looks. "Electric Bitters" is a good Alterative and Tonic. Acts directly on the stomach, liver and kidneys, purifies the blood, cures pimples, blotches and boils, and gives a good complexion. Every bottle guaranteed. Sold at M. A. CREAMERY ASSOCIATIONS.

Facts and Figures to Be Considered Before Starting.

Professor Haywood of the Pennsylvania experiment station writes that he has received a number of inquiries of late in regard to the methods employed by "creamery promoters" in establishing creameries. From the reputation that these promoters in general bear it would seem wise to give them a wide berth. It is their business to build and equip a creamery and get their money for it, regardless of the subsequent success of the enterprise. To do this they misrepresent the amount of milk that can be expected from a given number of cows and the average price that can be obtained for the butter, and they usually charge much more for erecting and equipping the plant than it would cost the creamery association if purchased at market rates. By misrepresenting the profits to be derived from the creamery business creamery promoters have induced thousands of farmers to pay for expensive creamery plants which are now standing idle and not only yield nothing on the investment, but are constantly deteriorating in value.

In order for a creamery association to be successful it is necessary above all things to have the milk from 300 to 500 cows guaranteed to the creamery for nine or ten months in the year. A creamery to handle this amount of milk can be built and equipped for from $1,800 to $2,200. The price usually asked by promoters is from $2,700 to $4,000.

If it is desired to build a creamery in a community, an informal meeting of those interested should be called. Then if a sufficient number of cows can be guaranteed an effort should be made to get the manager of a successful creamery to come and thoroughly explain the advantages and disadvantages of a creamery and give his suggestions as to building and equipping a plant. A committee should likewise be appointed to visit one or more well managed creameries. The creamery promoter should be kept away from these meetings. By appointing suitable committees to carry out the plans adopted by the stockholders a creamery can be built and equipped at a comparatively small cost and its success be assured from the start.

Virtues of Buttermilk.

The growing practice of utilizing the waste products of all manufactures has brought out the fact that buttermilk possesses many unsuspected qualities. A medical paper says its reputation as an agent of superior digestibility has become firmly established. It is, indeed, a true milk peptone—that is, milk already partially digested, the coagulation of the coagulated portion being loose and flaky and not of that firm, indigestible nature which is the result of the action of the gastric juice upon sweet cows' milk. It is of great value in the treatment of typhoid fever, and, being a decided laxative, it may be turned to advantage in the treatment of habitual constipation. It is no less valuable in kidney troubles, from its diuretic qualities. It is in great request for the treatment of diabetes, either alone or alternately with skimmilk, and in cases of gastric ulcer and cancer of the stomach it can often be retained when no other food can. Chemical analysis shows that in its nature it greatly resembles koumiss, with the exception of which it is the most grateful, refreshing and digestible of the products of milk.

Value of Separators.

A writer in The Canadian Farmer's Advocate says: "Where milk is skimmed with a separator at home and cream sent to the butter factory the cost of manufacture would be reduced one-half or more. Besides, it would do away to a great extent with tampering with milk. I am convinced that a man with a herd of 25 cows cannot afford to do without a separator for two reasons: (a) A large amount of time is wasted in hauling whole milk to the skimming station and skimmilk from it; (b) the skimmilk is often sour and not so good for calves and hogs, especially in warm weather. A separator for from 30 to 50 cows and a one horse tread power can be got for about $200. A separator can be run by a horse or bull, or any animal having the proper weight, and the running expenses are almost nothing."

Cows For the Klondike.

A man in Tacoma is preparing to leave soon for Dawson and will take 125 cows with him. He will take a sled for each cow and make them haul enough provisions for the trip. He already has about a third of his herd and is busy breaking them to work in harness. He expects to get away in a few weeks. He is positive it will be a paying venture, as fresh milk is a little known article in the Yukon. He has had no trouble so far in breaking his cattle and talks as though it will be no extraordinary sight to see 125 cows wending their way along the mountain trails drawing sleds laden with hay and grain. He will take them down the Yukon in boats and expects to be at the lakes as soon as the ice breaks. He has been over the ground and feels confident of success.

Church Taxation.

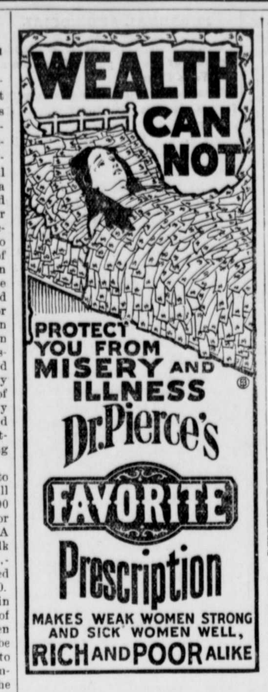

Houses of worship should remain untaxed, because this is a Christian nation. The Sabbath is honored in the law, the Bible is recognized in the courts, prayer is offered in congress, and the name of God is on our coins. One in four of the population is a church member, and probably one in two is an attendant of and sympathizer with the church. The church should not be taxed, because it is supported by the voluntary offerings of the people. To tax church property is therefore a tax on a tax and thus outrages the fundamental principles of taxation. The church is for the public good. It stands for obedience to law, respect for the authorities and for good order. In proportion to its growth and support it lessens the prison and asylum taxation. It is against all criminality and seeks the transformation of life of all who otherwise might become burdens upon an overtaxed people. Clergymen are in a special sense the servants of the public, sustained by meager salaries, yet giving their lives to the uplifting of the fallen and the aid of the destitute. Some countries so highly value the work of the church that they levy a special tax for its support. No other state in the Union accepts a tax from the church.—Rev Charles E Locke. Methodist. San Francisco.

The True Man.

Four elements go to make up a true man, a man in the full sense of the word in every walk of life—namely truth, bravery, strength and love truth in thought, word and deed; bravery, absolutely fearless in things that are right; strength of purpose, invincible to maintain things that are right, and love of all that is true, upright and noble. These are qualities essential to every man whether a Christian or not. But a Christian must not only excel in these qualities, he must combine with them becoming meekness, humility, gentleness and patience—very difficult virtues for railroad men to live up to, and which the pastor himself probably had to cultivate. The combination, however, went to make up the Christian man, and every one could be that, whether he banked rocks under ties or was president of the board.—Address on "Christian Manliness," by D A Waterman, Treasurer Michigan Central Railroad.

Whooping Cough.

I had a little boy who was nearly dead from an attack of whooping cough. My neighbors recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I did not think that any medicine would help him, but after giving him a few doses of that remedy I noticed an improvement, and one bottle cured him entirely. It is the best cough medicine I ever had in the house.—J. L. Moore, South Burgettstown, Pa. For sale by M. A. Toulson, druggist, Chestertown, Md.

OUR LINE OF Excelsiors, Parlor and New Lea Cook Stoves is unrivalled for beauty of finish and superior construction, a well as for celebrity in practical work. Our "Excelsior" Cook, in particular, has no superior on this or any other market.

OUR RANGES, the New Royal, New Washington, New Magic, Splendid and Victor are well known in this community for their excellent worth as home "comforts."

WOOD STOVES are more popular this season than for years past, and we are selling the best makes. The "Excelsior Air Tight," with Three Bodies, Cast Top and Bottom, neatly ornamented with Spun Brass Urn and Nickel Foot Rail, is the best on the market and cheap.

OUR HEATING STOVES are selected with care, and none but the best makes are sold by us. SPEAR'S GOLDEN SUN FIREPLACE HEATERS are superior to all other makes. The People have demonstrated this fact. The Rupert Double and Single Heaters, Magnet Regal, Morning Light, Vulcan, Egg and Crystal Heating Stoves "have all been tried and not found wanting." Our Oil Heating Stoves give perfect satisfaction.
