Dear Anna //

Chester Town Sept 24th 1802.

Read the enclosed first

What a bashfull fellow I am it makes me Blush, to think that I must be so very polite as to kiss a lady — well then I yester=day kissed the beautiful Miss — you see in the Shortliter who I mean — Turn to you in the enclosed that I should not join with the wedding people yester=day but Ann he could withstand from going with the company when he might be so fortunate as getting a kiss or two from the sweet and petite creature, I could not, and I went — you must think as kissing makes a person polite, I am one of the politest fellows in the world — A favor I charge you to have this directly —

Your affect Brother
Alexr Hemsley

MSA SC-5807-1