Dear Anna — Chester Town Nov. 3 1809

I plainly see that it is highly necessary that I should leave Chester Town, what is the reason I know not, unless that Good Cupid has shot one of his piercing arrows in my breast, and there, there, I am afraid to stay, lest I should give up to his alluring entreaties, what would be the consequence? if I may, it would be nonsence, therefore he shall have no right over me — I have heard from report that there is to be one less in the family, I think it somewhat strange that I never received a line from one of you upon the occasion,
