My Dear Sister

For the last time I entreat you to write me who it was that stole your ring, and also who Mother Abraham's Nurse to you some time ago, but what it was — about, I don't remember — A few nights since, I was walking with some Ladies, it being very cold I offered my Great coat to one of them, I put my hands, and said if I did not find it, I would sue me, after we arrived where we were going, and taking off gloves for supper I was asked to sing, the Beautious, the Angelic, and all accomplished Miss —, you will laugh at my bashfulness, but you shall hear no more of that, as I have determined to retrieve my character —
