Mr. Cox called up bill No. 115, an ordinance to bring into the city the water of the Great Gunpowder River, which was read.

Mr. Regester moved to amend the first section, by inserting the following after the word "Baltimore," in the enacting clause:

"That the citizens of Baltimore be and are hereby requested, at the next municipal election for members of the First Branch of the City Council, to cast their ballots for or against the introduction of a full supply of pure water, as recommended by the joint standing committee on water, and if approved of."

On motion of Mr. Cox, the bill was laid on the table:

On motion of Mr. Lepson, a message was sent to the Second Branch, proposing that when the Council adjourns this evening, it stand adjourned until Thursday afternoon next, at 5 o'clock.

The Second Branch returned the message endorsed "concurred in".

On motion of Mr. Cox, the Branch adjourned until Thursday next, at 5 o'clock, P. M.

By order,

Columbus Nizza, clerk.

The following resolution was this day presented to the Mayor:

Resolution to erect a hell at the Hanover market house.
