CHRISTMASTIDE.

A very touching incident is related by one of our city papers of a poor litte boy and his letter to Old Kris. The letter was :

Baltimore, Dec. 13, 1904

Dear Old Kris—I am a poor little boy with a poor papa and mama, and I haven't any clothes to keep me warm. Won't you please bring me some nice warm stockings and underwear so that I can keep warm. Papa would get them for me but he ain't got any work. Dear Old Kris if you'll bring me these things, I'll try to be a good boy.

A generous-hearted and christian lady saw this simple little letter. Her great heart was touched, and she went to the office where the letter had been received to inquire into the merits of the case. She was told that the case was a worthy one, and she went to some of the stores in the city and purchased a large supply of elegant clothing for the poor little boy. What a happy Christmas to-morrow morning will be to that little boy when he awakes and finds that Old Kris has left him some nice warm clothes, and how beautifully this touching little incident illustrates the true spirit of Christmas! The Great Creator gave His only begotten Son to a poor sin-cursed world that through Him it might have peace. Can we not give something to someone less fortunate than ourselves just to make them happier. How many little children there are in our midst who haven't any nice warm clothes, because their papa and mama are not able to get them! You will make Christmas far more real to yourself if you will look after the wants of the needy. You can carry the spirit of Christmas into many a needy home to-night if you will give something that will satisfy the needs of the poor. Do not let us spend the day in riotous living ; let us cast a ray of hope and happiness into the home of some one else.

LIFE TO THE small boy and girl these days is one long blissful slide, says the Baltimore American.

CHRISTMAS EVE, and the TRANSCRIPT wishes all of its readers a Very Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

PLATT and Odell are making the fur fly over the New York Senatorship. But it will be the Honorable Chauncey all the same.

THE REPUBLICAN STATE LEADERS are getting so peacefully peaceful that there'll not be any more war in the camp until next election.

MRS. CASSIE CHADWICK, the Oberlin bank buster, is making a great stir in financial circles by her speculations with somebody else's capital.

POLITICS IS clean gone froze up and snowed under in Kent. But if "Uncle Bill" Jackson contests the election in Kent there'll be a warm time for "Uncle Bill."

AIN'T LAWSON having a fine time with the Wall street gang? He certainly is excitin' the magnates' righteous (?) indignation. You're almost as bad as Cassie Chadwick, Lawy, but not in the same way. Both of you are furnishing variety enough to make life real spicy these crisp winter days.

It is expected that Rev. H. S. Dulaney, formerly of Asbury Church, Wilmington, but at presented stationed near Crisfield, Md., will be invited to become pastor of Epworth Church, to succeed Rev. A. W. Lightbourn who has resigned. Rev. Mr. Dulaney is very popular in Wilmington as he is in every place he serves.

MRS. CHADWICK has pleaded "not guilty" to the charge brought against her in the courts of Cleveland. Wonder what the poor people who had their money deposited in the Oberlin bank will think of such a plea? Anybody who can borrow five million dollars on a capital of $1,800 must be guilty of something.

THE SUPREME COURT of the United States has decided the case of the Western Union Telegraph Company against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company involving the right of the railroad company to remove the telegraph poles of the Western Union from its right-of-way in favor of the railroad company. The opinion was handed down by Justice McKenna, Justice Harlan dissenting. This is the end of a long litigation between the railroad and telegraph companies, and the decision involves some interesting points respecting the use of private property.

JUDGES THOMAS AND REVELL on Thursday issued an order in the Circuit Court for Anne Arundel county issuing the mandamus applied for by Gen. Vandiver to compel Gov. Warfield to promulgate the disfranchising amendment. This is the initial decision. The case will now go to the Court of Appeals for final decision and if the decision of the court is favorable to Gen. Vandiver, the amendment will be placed on the ballot and the question as to whether or not the illiterate voter shall be allowed the right of franchise will be up to the people.

It is stated that the furniture in the new building will all be placed by the date selected, December 28, and that other slight details of construction will be completed.

The "Jackson Memorial" building is presented to the Peninsula General Hospital by Hon. Wm. H. Jackson. The furniture was given by his son, Mr. William P. Jackson. It is a magnificent building, estimated to cost in the neighborhood of $60,000.
