LOCAL MATTERS.

Weekly Literary Club.—A Weekly Literary Club has been organized in Chestertown composed of the following ladies: Mrs. Annie Stam, Miss Susie Roberts, Mrs. W. W. Hubbard, Mrs. Physick, Mrs. R. H. Collins and Mrs. D. L. Greenfield. The object of the club is to select courses of profitable reading and meetings are to held weekly for the purpose of interchanging opinions concerning the style, diction, and thought of the best literature.

Fire in Quaker Neck.—A small dwelling in Quaker Neck, belonging to John Kennard, colored, was destroyed by fire on Monday night. Kennard and his wife have been living with Mr. Lewin Skirven during the winter, and there was no one living in their house in Quaker Neck. It is thought that the fire was the work of an incendiary. The house was practically a new one, and uninsured. It was valued at about $500.

Suit Docketed.—Suit was docketed in the Circuit Court for Kent county on Thursday by Mr. B. J. McGugan, of upper Kent, through his attorneys, W. W. Beck and R. D. Hynson, Esqs., against the Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington Railroad Company for $10,000 damages for injuries claimed to have been sustained on the railroad Dec. 17th. The suit was not docketed until this week and was incorrectly stated last week. The trial may come up at the April term of court.

Efficient Services Rewarded.—Dr. John S. Fulton, Secretary of the State Board of Health has been presented by a number of public-spirited citizens with a silver tea service in recognition of his work in the cause of public health. Dr. Fulton was appointed Secretary of the State Board of Health in October, 1896, and has been prominent in public health work ever since. Through his efforts the sanitary administration of the State has been organized and placed upon an efficient basis.

Held for Court.—The trial of Tommy Matthews, the colored boy charged with assaulting Alex. Barroll, Jr., also colored, several weeks ago, was held on Saturday at noon before Police Justice Samuel Hicks. Barroll had sufficiently recovered to be able to be present at the hearing. Several witnesses were examined, and the evidence in the case was such that Justice Hicks decided to hold Matthews in the sum of $500 bail for his appearance at the April term of court. Matthews was unable to furnish bail and is now in jail.

Ice Embargo Broken.—The ice embargo on the Chester and Corsica rivers and in Queenstown creek was broken on Monday. The steamer B. S. Ford, of the Chester River Line, fought her way up to Centreville on Saturday afternoon and made the trip on Monday—the first time since the embargo set in more than two weeks ago. The Emma A. Ford battled her way into Queenstown on Monday breaking the long embargo at that point. Excepting the Sassafras river and Ericsson Schedules of steamer service at the head of the bay, Monday witnessed the restoration of the time table of all the steamer lines affected by the recent freeze.

Directors Entertained.—The two newly elected directors of the Millington Building and Loan Association gave a sumptuous banquet Tuesday evening at Hotel Bailey, to the officers and directors of the association. Among those present were: Mr. J. P. Ahern, president; Prof. Henry Tonkin, secretary; Mr. Joseph Mallalieu, treasurer; directors, Messrs. R. W. Comegys, R. E. Feddeman, B. W. Duling, Leonard Wilson and Mr. J. E. Higman as special guest of Mr. Duling. This association is among the oldest on the Eastern Shore of Maryland, and it is doing a splendid business. The association has been a tower of strength in the rebuilding of the pretty little town which suffered a disastrous fire last summer, a full account of which work appeared in last week's TRANSCRIPT.

Mr. Clothier's Winter Watermelon.—Mr. Thomas G. Clothier, of Rock Hall, brought to the TRANSCRIPT office on Tuesday afternoon a large watermelon of the "Lord Baltimore" variety. The melon was perfectly firm and in excellent condition. Mr. Clothier says he will make an effort to keep the melon until spring, and then proposes to cut it and let his family enjoy its flavor. Last winter Mr. Clothier kept five melons until Christmas by placing them on a chair in a room not too well heated. The melons were not covered over, but were simply placed on a chair and allowed to remain as long as possible. When cut the winter-time melon is of good flavor, but the meat is slightly tough. Mr. Clothier has been experimenting with the keeping of melons for some time, and he says this simple method is the easiest and best way he has found.

Fine Business Opportunity.—Mr. C. S. Smith has determined to sell his large stock of store goods and fixtures, together with other desirable property in Chestertown, and he and his family will remove to his farm in Queen Anne's probably. One of the best opportunities ever offered in Chestertown is presented by the intention of Mr. Smith to sell his large stock. If the right man can secure this exceptional business stand his success is assured. Mr. Smith has a big advertisement in this morning's TRANSCRIPT, offering his stock and property for sale. You will find his prices right and his terms easy. He wants only those meaning business to communicate with him.

Rural Delivery Test Case.—A postmaster in an Ohio town has a ruling from the government which is of interest to every community where the rural free-delivery system is in force. A local carrier in that town found in a mail box on his route two letters that were intended for the owner of the box and had been put there by some one in passing. The letters were confiscated and sent to the government for a ruling. The government approved the action of the carrier and said that all mail found in any box without stamps or the proper amount of money for postage must be collected and taken to the postoffice from which the route is operated and held for postage. This ruling means that the owner of the mail box has absolutely no control over it.

WEDDING BELLS.

CHAPMAN—VALLIANT.

One of the most brilliant social events of the winter in Church Hill, was the wedding today at high noon, of Ella, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Promptly at the appointed hour the bride entered the church on the arm of her father by whom she was given away. Immediately following the ceremony a wedding breakfast for the bridal party and immediate relatives of the bride and groom was served at the home of the bride's parents in Church Hill, after which Mr. and Mrs. Chapman left for a wedding tour of two weeks duration. JOHN HOLLAND ACQUITTED.

Verdict of the Court in the Case of Holland at Elkton.

John Holland, colored, who was indicted for the murder of Mr. Albert Constable, on the night of August 18, last, and who has been on trial before the Judges of the Elkton Circuit Court since January 4, was declared not guilty at a session of the Court on Wednesday night. After reviewing the salient features of the case and listening to the arguments by the counsel, the Court said that according to the evidence the prisoner was not guilty. "It would be a source of satisfaction to the community," said chief Judge Pearce in delivering the opinion, "to know that it was not merely a verdict of not proven, but one absolutely of not guilty." The acquittal of Holland leads to a noll pros in the case of Wm. Hopps, who was also indicted with Holland for the murder.
