FARMING

is all right, and one very essential thing for those so engaged is to know how to farm. But that is not all. Another thing of equal importance is to know how to save the money after you make it.

One of the avenues of expense is

CLOTHING,

and our store affords you the greatest opportunity of saving along this line. Our voluminous business, hence our large buying, and with our small expense puts us in a position to sell you

Clothing, Hats and Furnishings

from ten to twenty per cent. cheaper than you can buy the same goods for in city. Our spring line is now complete.

Yours for business,

HOW ABOUT IT?

Have you been thinking about buying an

INCUBATOR?

Well, just stop thinking and drop me a postal. I have some news for you. Don't think of buying an INCUBATOR or any POULTRY SUPPLIES until you have my prices. I can save you money. And don't forget I have

Some Good Chickens,

and invite you to come and see them. They were hatched in the "CYPHERS" INCUBATOR, for which I am agent in Kent county. Circulars free for the asking. Write

BOLD ATTEMPT AT JAIL BREAKING.

Frustrated by Sheriff Keyser and Deputy Sheriff Startt, Just as Five Prisoners Were About to Finish the Job of Sawing Themselves Out of the County Jail.

What might have proven a wholesale delivery of prisoners from the county jail was frustrated on Friday night last about half after eight o'clock by sheriff L. J. Keyser and his deputy, Mr. S. E T. Startt. The sheriff and his deputy were sitting in the jail office when the former had occasion to go upstairs. While on the second floor he thought he heard a noise as of some one sawing. He returned to the office, told the deputy to go to a cell and see if he could hear the same noise, while he went on the outside of the jail to listen. Both the sheriff and Deputy Startt were convinced that something unusual was in progress and they proceeded to investigate. They went to the cell of Hayes Comegys and Emory Sewell, and also to the cell of a white prisoner named Hopkins, accused of stealing a boat at Rock Hall, and there they found several of the iron bars on the inner grating of the windows sawed in two, and work had been commenced upon the outside. The officers made a search for the tools used in the efforts to escape and they found two saws, two case knives ffled with sharp teeth on both sides, and two files, besides a penknife belonging to Hopkins. How the tools came into the possession of the prisoners was the thing for the officers to solve. The prisoners were taken to the dungeon on the first floor and told that if they did not tell where they secured the tools they would be made to tell. One of the colored prisoners turned State's evidence and said that they had been "handed up" from the outside, and that one of the saws had been brought to the jail by a colored woman named Marian Comegys, mother of Hayes Comegys, one of the prisoners, and that the files had been furnished by Joe Walker and a negro by the name of Williams. Early Saturday morning Sheriff Keyser went to Worton Point, the home of the Comegy's woman, arrested her and brought her and another colored woman to Chestertown, and lodged them in jail for a hearing. Joe Walker and Williams were also arrested and on Wednesday morning the parties implicated in the delivery were given a hearing before Police Justice Samuel Hicks. The testimony in the case proved that the prisoners had been furnished with the tools by the Comegys woman, Walker and Williams from the outside and in the jail. It was also learned that the sawing had been going on day and night, whenever the prisoners thought they were not heard, since Tuesday night, following the Saturday the Comegys woman came to the jail to see her son, bringing him a coat, concealed in which was something sewed up in a bag which later proved to be a saw. It is supposed that Walker placed a file and saw in a bag which the prisoners let down from the outside. Hopkins, the white prisoner, said he could have gotten out on Friday night but his conscience condemned him and he stopped sawing. It was planned that after the sawing had been completed the five prisoners who were implicated in the affair should escape at the same time. This would probably have been done on Friday night had not Sheriff Keyser and Deputy Sheriff Startt discovered the plan. It was a lucky discovery for Sheriff Keyser, and his method of detecting and arresting the guilty parties was both speedy and commendable. The Comegys woman, Joe Walker and Williams were committed to jail without bail by Justice Hicks to await the action of the grand jury. The damage to the jail made by the hacking and sawing is serious and will require sometime to repair. One of the windows sawed was the same one through which Latham escaped some months ago, and the other was on the second floor of the West side of the jail. The case will come before court next week.

OBITUARY.

REV. DR. J. J. MURRAY.

Rev. Dr. John J. Murray, one of the oldest and most prominent ministers of the Maryland Annual Conference, died on Tuesday morning at Bellvue, near Pittsburg. Dr. Murray had been in failing health for some time, and heart weakness, aggravated by the death of his beloved son, Mr. John Davidge Murray, three weeks ago, hastened the end. The deceased was born in Hagerstown in May, 1824, and studied at the Hagerstown academy. While pastor of West Baltimore M. P. Church, he graduated from the medical school of the University of Maryland. He joined the Maryland Conference in 1842, having entered the ministry when but 17 years old. During the sixty-three years of his connection with the Methodist Protestant Conference, he had occupied the most important charges, he had the highest positions, and was, with his lamented brother, Rev. J. Thomas Murray, the Bateses, the Nicholses and Revs. Daniel Webster and Silas B. Southerland, the very acme of ministerial dignity and influence. There are but few people of either church denomination living in Chestertown to-day who do not remember with the greatest pride the connection of Dr. Murray with old Kent circuit. He has mourned with those who have loved and lost in the congregations of Chestertown, Worton, Wesley Chapel and Kennedyville; he has baptized those who have now reached middle age, and he has sealed the bonds of matrimony of those whose families are now an honor and a blessing to our community and county, and few there be who knew him but to love him, but who can keep back the tears of sorrow at his departure.

In St. James Church there is a beautiful window placed by the church to his memory, and on the occasion of the reopening of the church two years ago, Dr. Murray occupied the pulpit and preached one of those powerful and beautiful sermons for which he was so noted. He was truly one of the church's great preachers, and occupied a unique position among the ministers of the Maryland Conference. He was a member of the original board of trustees of Western Maryland Theological Seminary at Westminster. He was a deep student, and even in his late years he pursued his studies in Latin, Greek and Hebrew. The degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon him by Washington College, Chestertown, Md.

He was president of the conference from 1866 to 1868. He was called to First Church, Pittsburg, in 1873. He remained there 10 years, returning to accept a call to St. John's church, then on Liberty street, the congregation of which now worships at Clark Memorial Church, St. Paul and 27th streets. He remained at this charge for 10 years and then went to Union Bridge. He retired after his Carroll county appointment. Dr. Murray's first appointment and service on Kent Circuit was in 1843, the year after he joined conference, as an assistant. He remained one year. His second appointment was in 1852-53 as minister in charge with W. W. S. Hammond, Daniel Bowers and A. S. Dick assistants. Dr. Murray's third and last appointment was in 1872 for one year with T. O. Crouse assistant. During his younger ministry in Kent, he made his home with the late John T. Dodd and family, and his associations with this family have always been the most intimate and tender. The deceased was twice married, his first wife being Miss Elizabeth Evans Emory, daughter of the late John Davidge Emory, of Queen Anne's, and of their seven children there survives one son, Rev. S. Reese Murray, of the Baltimore conference M. E. Church, now stationed in Washington, and two daughters, Misses Mary E. and Elizabeth E. Murray, who have made their home with their beloved father at Bellvue. His second wife was Miss Victoria Stoner, of Pittsburg. He was a brother of Rev. Dr. J. Thomas Murray, long a prominent member of the Maryland Conference, who died in 1899. Other relatives are a nephew, Thos. A. Murray, Esq., a prominent lawyer of Baltimore, and Mrs. F. T. Benson, a niece, wife of Rev. F. T. Benson of St. John's Independent Methodist Church, Baltimore. The funeral took place in West Baltimore M. P. Church at 10 o'clock on Thursday morning. Dr. S. B. Southerland conducted the services. Dr. T. H. Lewis delivered a beautiful eulogy, and President F. T. Little spoke in behalf of the conference. It was attended by a large body of ministers of the Maryland conference many of whom delivered beautiful eulogies on the life of the deceased. Interment was made in Greenmount cemetery.

MRS. ANNA MARIA MAXWELL.

Mrs. Anna Maria Maxwell, widow of the late Wm. M. A. S. Maxwell, M. D., died at her home in Still Pond on Wednesday at one o'clock, of paralysis, aged 82 years and 6 months. The deceased was one of the most beloved and prominent women in Kent county. Throughout her entire life she was interested in everything that pertained to the welfare of Still Pond and community, and for many years she was a valuable member of the Presbyterian Church. Her husband, the late Dr. W. M. A. S. Maxwell, was one of the most prominent physicians that ever lived in Kent, and his practice extended not only to Kent, but in many instances to nearby counties. The deceased is survived by a son, Dr. William S. Maxwell, of Still Pond, who has been a most worthy successor to his lamented father, and he enjoys a prominence and practice in Kent to-day that are a worthy merit of his skill as a physican and his worth as a citizen. The deceased was a woman of noble and and generous character, and always a loving wife and tender mother, she assisted greatly to make the name of Maxwell honored and respected in the entire county. The funeral services will be held from her late residence this Saturday) afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made in Still Pond cemetery. Undertaker Wm. H. Krusen will have charge of the funeral arrangements.

MRS. ELIZABETH J. SMITH.

Mrs. Elizabeth J. Smith, widow of the late James Smith, who resided as overseer on the Dodd farm, near Chestertown for 17 years, died at her home in Broad Neck on Wednesday in the 64th year of her age. The immediate cause of her death was paralysis. The deceased was a woman of sweet disposition and noble christian character, and was ever ready to lend a helping hand to those in need. She is survived by a son, Mr. John Smith, with whom she made her home in Broad Neck, and a nephew of Mr. J. Hewitt Smith. Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from her late residence, conducted by Rev. W. L. White, pastor of the Chestertown M. E. Church. Interment was made in Kesley Chapel cemetery. The pall bearers were; Messrs. Rowland Bennett, Walter Fletcher, J. Henry Thompson, Herbert Fletcher, George Venable and Samuel Vickers. Undertakor John N. Dodd had charge of the funeral arrangements.

MRS. ELLIS.

Mrs. Ellis, mother of Rev. George R. Ellis, pastor of Ridgely Methodist Episcopal Church, died at her residence in Laurel, Del., on Monday morning, in the 65th year of her age. Rev. Mr. Ellis is well known in Kent, where some years ago he married Miss Susan Matthews, daughter of the late Stewart Matthews, and a sister of Mrs. Prof. J. S. Wm. Jones, of Washington College.

MRS. JAMES GREET.

Mrs. James Greet died at the home of Mr. Edgar Judefind, where she had been stopping temporarily at Grey's Inn, after a long illness on Monday. The funeral services were conducted on Wednesday. Undertaker Thomas H. Casey had charge of the funeral arrangements. The deceased is survived by a husband and four children, George and Urie Greet, Mrs. Maggie Ziedler and Miss Grace Greet, of Washington, D. C.

Edna, the infant daughter of Mr. and and Mrs. James Hickman, of Baltimore, died on Tuesday of marasmus. Funeral services were held at the home of its uncle, Mr. Samuel Brice, at Betterton, on Thursday at 2 o'clobk, Rev. D. B. Ford officiating. Interment was in Still Pond cemetery. Undertaker Wm. H. Krusen in charge.

A SEVERE STORM.

The First Electrical Storm of the Season Proves a Record Breaker for Severity and Heavy Rainfall.

Practically the first and worst storm of the season passed over Chestertown and vicinity on Monday evening. About 6 o'clock a dangerous looking cloud filled with wind and rain bore down upon the town with great rapidity, and for nearly four hours the lightning cut fantastic figures in the firmament and the thunder rolled athwart the sky. The rain descended in torrents and soon the streets were flooded and the mouths of drain pipes chocked. The street at D. A. Bacchus' corner was flooded and made impassable. The storm was general throughout the county, and while little damage to property or stock has been reported, no little alarm was occasioned by the blackness of the cloud, the flashing of the lightning and rumbling of the thunder. About half after eight o'clock a bright reflection was seen to the south of the town, and it was thought by many that the lightning had struck somewhere near Quaker Neck wharf. It proved to be the ice house on the Bowen or Mr. George Smith farm in Queen Anne's, just opposite Quaker Neck wharf. The storm was particularly severe in other parts of the State and in Pennsylvania. In the latter locality the wind assumed the proportion of a cyclone and much damage was done. In the western part of the State hail fell and there was some damage by the wind. Quite a number of people were caught along the roads of the county in teams, and one colored man was very much scared when the lightning struck twenty feet in front of him while driving along the road. It was a severe storm, and we hope it is the first and last for the spring and summer. Hail fell at Worton Point and up the county.

STORM ON THE BAY.

Captains of incoming Baltimore steamers Tuesday morning reported the most severe thunder and rain storm of the season on the Chesapeake Bay on Monday night. The heavy wind and downfall of rain were of short duration. however, and no steamers were forced to seek harbor. Captain J. T. Kirwan, of the Tolchester Company, struck the heaviest of the storm at Tolchester Beach and was forced to leave the wharf and seek safety in the open bay without landing any of his Tolchester frieght. Just as the captain made the Tolchester landing the storm broke in all its fury, and in a few minutes a heavy swell was on, which caused the steamer to pound heavily against the timbers of the pier. The Captain found his way into the broader water in the teeth of the gale and proceeded up the bay. Along the bay shore in the county the wind was very heavy and in several places trees were uprooted and the barn on one of Mr. F. H. Harper's bay shore farms was blown down.
