SATURDAY, APRIL 22, 1905.

THIS IS EASTERTIDE.

"FOR NOW is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first fruits of them that slept."

THERE'LL BE something doing when Togo and Reyestvensky come together in the far off China sea. It's not so far but that the reports will reach America before the smoke of the battle has cleared away.

WE CALL the attention of our readers this morning to the handsome cut of the new parish building of Emmanuel P. E. Church. It is a great credit to the vestry and congregation, and will be an ornament to the town. The rector, Dr. H. B. Martin, M. D., has labored assiduously in co-operation with his congregation for this improvement, and soon the reward of his labors will be made manifest in this handsome and convenient structure. When finished it will cost $6,148.00.

THERE HAS BEEN considerable talk during the week among certain Democrats as to the method of conducting the approaching county primaries. Certain of the "Old Organizatian" element are advocating the running of delegations on the five disirict plan, basing their argument on the former division of the county into five districts instead of seven districts into which the county was divided by the "Old Organization" when they were in power, for the sake of convenience. We might ask the question—what two districts of the seven would be willing to be without representation in the convention in order that the five district plan may be used? Every one of the seven districts in the county is entitled to representation in the convention, and there should be a delegation in each of the seven districts, and these delegations should receive recognition in the convention. If the "Old Organization" favors] the five district plan, what was the use of dividing the county years ago into seven districts? The people of the Sixth district desire separate and distinct representation in the nomination of a ticket just as much so as the Second, Third, Fourth or any one of the other districts, and if each of the seven districts fail to secure this proper recognition it will be a great injustice to the people living in those districts that may be snubbed by the omission of two of the districts in the county. The Executive Committee, which decides the method of conducting the primaries, will no doubt look after the rights of the people in each of the districts. The Five district plan does not seem to be feasible on the present division of the county into seven districts.
