and alleys within the city.

Sec. 2. And be it enacted and ordained that said commissioners shall divide the city into as many districts as they may find necessary, and apportion a sufficient number of men, horses and carts to each district, and shall appoint one capable man out of each gang as leader or director, which leader so appointed shall be required to keep a correct account of the number of days labour performed by each man in his gang, also the number of loads of dirt or manure removed by each horse and cart, and the place where such dirt or manure has been deposited, and render such account to the commissioners of health, on Monday of each and every week, for which services said leader or director shall be paid twenty five cents per day over and above the amount paid to the other hands.

Sec. 3. And be it enacted and ordained, that the commissioners of health shall have full power and authority to require the city bailiffs and police officers, to aid and assist them in carrying into effect the provisions of this ordinance.

Section 4. And be it enacted and ordained that there shall be annually appropriated such an amount of money as may be necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this ordinance, which money so appropriated shall be subject to the order of the commissioners of health, countersigned by the Mayor.
