IN MEMORIAM.

Mrs. Anna Maria Maxwell, who recently died in Still Pond, Md., was the youngest daughter of Benjamin and Maria Price, of Stoneton Manor, on the Sassafras River, Kent county, Md. She was born at the beautiful home of her parents, Oct. 24th, 1822, where she passed her childhood years. She was then sent to school in Chestertown, Md., and was a pupil of Prof. and Mrs. Worrell whose academy for young ladies at that time was one of the most select and elegant in the State.

She afterwards finished her education in Wilmington, Del., at the fashionable academy of Dubrey Knight, Esq. While attending this latter school she resided with her sister, Mrs. Jas. P. Canby, who owned the Ingleside Mansion on the Brandywine, (now called Bishopstead, having been bought by the Episcopal Diocese of Delaware, for the Bishop's residence.)

After finishing her education in Wilmington, she returned to Stoneton Manor. During a visit to Cecil county she became acquainted with, and married Dr. Wm. A. S. Maxwell, a young practitioner of North East. They eventually moved to the vicinity of Still Pond where Dr. Maxwell became widely known, and where he practiced medicine for many years. Mrs. Maxwell lived to see their only child follow the medical profession of his father, and continue along the same lines.

Being the wife and mother of these physicians she was constantly in touch with the general public and was very popular. She possessed in a remarkable degree the spirit of the olden time Maryland hospitality and was always delighted to entertain her friends and relatives. Her tastes were most aesthetic. Everything beautiful in nature and art appealed to her. Books, pictures, flowers were her delight, her home was her veritable castle, her interests all centered there, and she seldom left it for a day. Her love for curios was great, and her cabinet of them contained many rare things sent to her by friends and relatives from foreign lands.

She was the sister of Henry W. Price of Stoneton Manor, and of Louis Price of Oakland, near Turner's Creek, both well-known and esteemed men, both of whom died some years ago.

Rev. Benjamin Franklin Price, of M. E. Church, was her brother. He was an author of books and a prominent correspondent of the Christian Advocate and magazines. Her sister, Matilda Price, married James B. Canby, of Wilmington, Del., who was associated with the celebrated flour mills, of that city. Another sister, Adeline, married the Rev. Jas. L. Houston, of Milford, Del., one of the most powerful pulpit orators of his day, whose personal magnetism as a leader in the revival and camp-meetings of his church was overwhelming. Mrs. Maxwell's maternal uncle, Capt. Louis Price, sailed a merchantship from New York to Martinique where he married at St. Pierre, one of the De La Pagerie family, a cousin of Josephine De La Pagerie, Empress of France.

Although Mrs. Maxwell suffered in late years from several strokes of paralysis and was sadly afflicted, her memory was clear, and she delighted to converse on the history and poetry of Rome, Greece and Egypt. The conspicuous characters of these ancient civilizations gave her great pleasure.

In her circle of friends she is missed, as in her personalty one of the most familiar land-marks has passed the shore of the present and is lost amidst the shadows of the past.

Her spirit has gone to the source of light,
Where all is beautiful, fair and bright—
Where Hosannas are chanted by angel bands,
In that Regal mansion, "not made with hands."
Death brings us blessings in disguise
From the Garden of Infinite mysteries,
Let us not weep, but rejoice and pray,
And wait with patience God's own way,
There is not a cloud on the smiling sky,
That He has not fashioned its radiancy;
There is not a songster in realms of air
That He does not notice, with tenderest care.

How trifling and small are the hours and days,
How infinitesmal our earthly ways,
When Eternity opens its portals grand
And we get a glimpse of the Heavenly land.

And we see the visions of ages gone
And the splendors of ages yet to come,
Paradise gained is freedom from care
For Christ the Redeemed is waiting there.

Come weary and sick, heavy-laden and poor,
He says, "Come to Me," thy Comforter,
In my Father's house are mansions of gold,
Not made with hands, with glories untold.

There is love in them, and peace and rest
Where my loved of earth are eternally blest.

BETTERTON BRIEFS.

The Steamer Annapolis brought an excursion from Baltimore composed of the Builders Exchange Association on Saturday afternoon. They took supper at the Chesapeake and Betterton hotels.

Mrs. Walter Brice and children, of Philadelphia, are the guests of Mrs. Geo. W. Moore.

Miss Elizabeth Brice spent several days home this week.

Mrs. Kelley and Miss May Kelley, of Baltimore, are the guests of Mrs. Chas. Brice.

Miss Matthews, of Chestertown, spent Saturday and Sunday with Miss Gurtha Vansant.

Presiding Elder Koons attended Quarterly Conference at Betterton on Friday evening last and preached a very interesting sermon the same evening. Mr. Koons states that Betterton charge ranks among the first financially.

The Betterton Base Ball Club plays its first game this Saturday with Kennedville. The Club will hold their festival this week in the Hotel Betterton Casino.

The Misses Crudden, of Philadelphia, have returned home after a pleasant visit to their aunt, Mrs. Crudden.

Miss Katie Moloney, of Baltimore, is the guest of friends here.

Mr. Vansant is improving his house with a new coat of paint.

The new store, Crew and Crew proprietors, is being erected on Chesapeake avenue.

The church will hold it Children's Day on the second Sunday in June.

Sprained Ankle, Stiff Neck, Lame Shoulder.

These are three common ailments for which Chamberlain's Pain Balm is especially valuable. If promptly applied it will save you time, money and suffering when troubled with any one of these ailments. For sale by M. A. Toulson, Druggest.

Subscription to the Transcript $1.00 per annum.

MILLINGTON MATTERS.

The Millington Base Ball Club has been doing some excellent playing on the grounds here. Last Saturday the club played a game with Townsend, Del., team, and made a score of 9 to 3 in favor of Millington. On Tuesday of this week the club played with a team from Hartley, Del., and defeated that team in a score of 20 to 5. An interesting game is expected to take place at Ridgley next Saturday afternoon between our club and the Ridgley team.

Strawberries have been quite plentiful here for over a week, and have been selling at 5c per quart.

Mrs. Cecil one of the oldest residents here has been quite ill at her home on Cypress St., and has been confined to her bed for over a week. Dr. C. P. Gowman is in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. G. Ross, of Smyrna, Del., spent last Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. B. W. Duling.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Comegys, of Centreville, Md., spent last week with their parents, Dr. and Mrs. N. Comegys.

Mr. Walter Hilyard, of Georgetown, Del., spent Tuesday in town.

Mr. W. F. Collihs spent a couple of days last week in Baltimore.

Mrs. F. L. Smith spent part of last week with her sister, Mrs. L. M. Greenwalt, near Newark, Del.

Mr. Harry Mallalieu, of New York, spent Sunday with Mrs. F. S. Bottomley.

Decoration Day was observed here only by a number of persons decorating the graves of their relatives and friends in the cemetery with flowers. Washington Camp No. 34, P. O. S. of A., placed flags on all the graves of old veterans of the Civil War.

ROCK HALL ITEMS.

Two candidates with 20th century proclivities have entered the field for P. M. Are there not some old reliable, staunch nineteeners who would take the office and give us a plain and practical service?

Our County Com. should be careful in their selection of road supervisors ; select men of large statue but sparce in flesh. One now is on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Med. Rasin and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Nicholson were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crow last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sparks and Mrs. William Barnes were the guests of R. H. friends on Sunday.

Miss Helen Aldrich, sister of Miss Maude Aldrich, is here for the benefit of her health, and will board with Mrs. Abe Casey.

Mr. Arthur Greenwond visited his cousin, Miss C. B. Smith, of Fairlee, on Sunday.

One of our citizens conceived the idea that there was money in raising geese but having read Roosevelt's race suicide theories, concluded that an exchange could be made in the sexes. So he purchased ten ganders and one goose with the result that no increase is yet perceptible. He is still waiting for developments.

Mr. James Casey has razed the old ice-house and is erecting a building for general storage on the old site.

Mrs. T. B. Durding, Mrs. R. S. Crewe and Mrs. Chas. Keer lead in rose culture. Each have many varieties. Our young people are frequently supplied with bouquets. If flowers are typical of character, surely these ladies must be the very embodiment of all that is noble and good.

Capt. Kerr made a flying visit to his home last week. The Capt. looks well. Politics is not worrying him.

There are a large number of youths who attended school during the winter who have nothing to do. Why not go to school? It would be much more profitable than idling about the streets. If an educational test is placed in the suffrage bill will they be sufficient to meet it? Girls continue at school and are soon filling lucrative positions. Now is the time, boys, to be storing your minds if you neglect it, it will be your fault, and you will reap just what you are today sowing.

Quiet prevails among our fishermen since the exit ot Game Warden. Among the oystermen the question of "what will be the most beneficial to the beds," is frequently asked, An association is being formed in Baltimore for the improvement and to ascertain what is best to increase the yield. Who better than our oystermen could give timely suggestions along this line? Why not get together, form a society and go to work? Will a method which gives an advantage to the city afford beneficial results to the tonger?

Mr. Louis Ayres has rented the Buck Neck farm and will leave here at the end of the year. Mr. Chas. Smith will take the Bruff farm. These men are valuable citizens and their loss will be felt.

Mr. John Legg and Mrs. Minnie Hecht were married on Monday very quietly, but his friends were on the alert and gave him a "good old time" seranade.

Mr. A. L. Warner and Miss Clara Rodney were married by Rev. J. W. Parris at the M. P. parsonage on Wednesday evening.

Rumor says that cupid will enter the corps of R. H. teachers and take therefrom one of its number. Who is it?

Rev. Warren Burr left for Virginia on Tuesday where he has been appointed by the bishop to transact some business of that conference. He will be gone two weeks. His pulpit will be filled by local talent.

Peaches are scarce. Several of our growers report none on the trees. Pears, especially keiffers, are plentiful; wheat will be above average; grass is short; manying farmers have not finished planting corn. A large acreage has been planted in potatoes which bids fair to yield a large crop.

Fishermen are busy preparing for summer fishing. Messrs. Walmsley and Burgess have purchased a 3-horse power gasoline engine and are having it placed in their batteau.

All are on the quivive, looking for the auto. We think this a preparatory step to a permanent route between here and Chestertown. Chestertown merchants will do well to encourage this enterprise as it will increase their trade.

COLLEGE NOTES.

Baseball to-day, 3 P. M. W. C. vs. Mt. St. Joseph's.

Dr. Cain was in Baltimore on Wednesday and Thursday.

Mr. E. F. Hicth spent the week with friends and relatives in Seaford, Del.

Mr. C. N. Jefferson paid a short visit to his many friends on the hill on Saturday morning.

On the sick list this week were Messrs. Davis, Sutton, Usilton and McGinnis; all have recovered.

Senior examinations are over, regular examinations begin on Monday and continue for the following eight days.

The D. J. C's at Normal Hall raided a number of strawberry patches in Queen Annes on Monday afternoon, and came home happy.

The U. S. mail box that was placed on the south portico at the middle building las week hast been approved by Postmaster General Voss and has gone into practical use.

The first game of the inter-class series was played Tuesday afternoon between the Sophomore and Freshmen. The Freshmen were victorious by the score of 11 to 7.

In a slugging contest on Saturday afternoon the second team defeated Centreville High School, 22 to 19. F. B. Garrison and Long for W. C. and Thomas and Butler for C. H. S. were the opposing batteries.

The Literary Societies at the college will adjourn to-night for the collegiate year '04-'05. All of the societes are in a prosperous condition and next year will find them able to carry forward the work with greater zeal and success.

STILL POND ITEMS.

Mrs. Mary Plummer gave a birthday part Tuesday afternoon from 1 until half past six. Among those present were: Mrs. Charlie Severson and son, Luisey, Mrs. W. G. Rasin, Mrs. William Wood, Rev. and Mrs. Holt, Mrs. C. Crew, Mrs. Emmet Taylor, Mrs Krusen, Mrs. John Robinson; Misses Lena and Florence Rasin, Daisy Severson, Emma Anderson, Ruth Robinson and others.

Mr. Albert Jervis led the Epworth League Sunday evening. The subject being "Missions among Latin people."

Miss Mattie Davis is the guest of Miss Margaret Clayton, of Annapolis.

Mr. George Harper, of New York, has been visiting his daughter, Mrs. Wm. Medders.

Presiding Elder Koons preached in our church Sunday night.

Mr. J. C. Rasin is visiting friends in Baltimore.

Mrs. J. C. Rasin is visiting her mother, who is very sick at her home in Townsend.

Mr. John Bennett, who has been quite sick is much better at this writing.

Quite a number from here attended the beautiful service at Lynch's on Sunday evening. BE WISE.

Just What Everyone Should do.

Mr. J.T. Barber of Irwinville, Ga., always keeps a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy at hand ready for instant use. Attacks of colic, cholera morbus and diarrhoea come on so suddenly that there is no time to hunt a doctor or go to the store for medicine. Mr. Barber says: "I have tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which is one of the best medicines I ever saw. I keep a bottle of it in my room as I have had several attacks of colic and it has proved to be the best medicine I ever used." Sold by M. A. Toulson, Druggest.

Collar-And-Cuff Sets to Embroider

Here is a bit of news that will please the woman who likes smart, dainty neckwear.

For the purpose of having a new silk floss better known, this special offer is made—

8 Skeins Floss, worth 3c skein, total 24c
1 Linen Collar-and-Cuff Set, worth 25c
For 25c

In other words, the Collar-and-Cuff Set is given practically free to popularize this new embroidered floss. Six good styles—designs combining the fashionable eyelet and blind work, on a lovely medium weight linen. The floss is sufficient to complete the design.

If you bought them ready embroidered, you'd pay $1.25 to $1.75 a set—they'd be worth it, too.

But—for 25c you get the silk and the pattern.

White Dress Linen, 25c

There are other Dress Linens sold at 25c a yard but comparison will show the great difference in quality between this grade and the other kinds.

Lightweight. 36 inches wide. Much in demand for waists and entire dresses.

Black Silk Petticoats, $5

Not average $5.00 Petticoats—you've no doubt seen petticoats at a higher price that didn't equal these.

Black silk of an extra fine quality ; with full flare sectional flounce and ruche.

Women's White Waists, $1.00

Women's Waists of white India lawn ; yoke of embroidery in block designs, joined with hemstitching ; tucked back ; full puff sleeves, with deep tucked cuffs. Others have embroidered front in sole effect.

Women's India Linon Waists. $1.50

Some have fronts of allover embroidery. Others with bands of nainsook embroidery and drawn work. Then there are some in surplice effect.

Women's Lingerie Waists, $2.00

Of India lawn ; yoke and front of Valenciennes lace insertion and tiny tucks ; full sleeves, with deep lace cuffs.

Women's Lingerie Waists, $2.95

Of fine mulle ; entire front is trimmed with Valenciennes lace insertion in scroll designs and fine tucking ; tucked back ; full puff sleeves, with 9-inch cuffs ; trimmed with bands of lace insertion to match the front.

Our Mail Order Department is equipped to give prompt and accurate service.

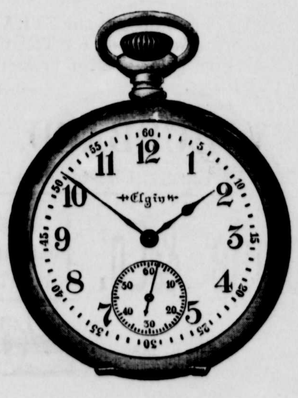

The McCall Bazar of Fashions will be mailed free every month on request.

Samples of Silks, Dress Goods, Wash Fabrics and so on will be cheerfully sent if you will write for them.
