Democratic Ticket.

For Congress from the First Congressional District:

HON. THOMAS A. SMITH, of Caroline County.

LET EVERY DEMOCRAT in Kent county do his duty on Tuesday by going to the polls and casting his vote for the Hon. Thomas A. Smith.

IN THE enforced absence of Chief Judge Pearce at the Court of Appeals, the business of the Circuit Court here has been most admirably handled and disposed of by Associate Judges Crothers and Adkins. Both of them have shown their ability to expedite the business of the court with promptness and care, and they have been as considerate of the time and interests of the jurors and their constituents as one could wish. They are both the right men in the right place.

OF INTEREST TO VOTERS.

THE PEOPLE all over the country are becoming more and more interested in the question of their power to participate in real and proper places in the American Government. The National Democratic Party for People's Rule, has for its object to put an end to political corruption and to establish constitutional and legislative reform and to help apply the Initiative and Referendum to the election system. This system simply means that voters shall have restored to them that right which is their right under the fundamental principles that "the will of the majority shall govern." The organization embraces many national organizations devoted to various reforms in the interest of the people and it has been indorsed by William Jennings Bryan, President Roosevelt, many leading Governors of the United States Senate and House of Representatives, both parties and more than a hundred conventions, national and state and county, Democratic and Republican, in sympathy with any move to stop the corrupt system of vote buying.

THE Hon. Philips Lee Goldsborough comes to the front with the statement in the Baltimore city newspapers that he has every reason to believe that Senator Gorman will not make it easy for the regress to vote for Mr. Goldsborough's illustrious patron. Mr. Goldsborough has every reason to know that the people of the Eastern Shore did not vote with the Democratic ticket as a result of the fight in 1897, when Mr. Smith was a candidate for State Comptroller, but that was only saved by the "non-partisan" vote in the counties and by the Hon. Charles J. Bonaparte in the city, of whom Mr. Goldsborough is now the spokesman. Likewise knows that he was one of the first to desert Mr. Smith when the latter was in trouble, and that Mr. Smith is not likely to forget it. In congress, Mr. Goldsborough will not make it easy enough at Washington to do for him what another congressman could not or Smith to do for him. He did not entice Mr. Goldsborough, or should bar him, from the field. The people of the Eastern Shore will, the active representative who has the confidence of the people is the best man to do something else in Congress. Besides place-filling and place-dispensing.

FOR NEARLY A GENERATION Mr. Alfred J. Stofer has been one of the ablest and most popular men in the Democratic party of the Eastern Shore. Being a man of fine ability and well-known members of the Democratic Washington correspondents, a body of men, the equal of which in character and ability is no where to be found, a Washington correspondent, by Mr. Bryan as "Commoner" is a discrimination which does credit to Mr. Stofer's judgment and discernment. There have been few public men in Washington of recent years, whose fullest confidence Mr. Stofer has not had, and there is no man in the United States better estimate of Mr. Stofer's character and the interest which he takes as a citizen in political matters, he has voluntarily and unsolicited written a letter which will doubtless be of some interest to our readers:

"Southern Democrats from all parts of the country who have visited Washington during the past month state that every indication points to a tidal wave in favor of the Democracy that will be able that party to control the next House of Representatives. Hon. William Jennings Bryan is making a campaign in the west, and wherever he has been he had predicted that we will route the Republicans in a majority of the Congressional districts. Democrats generally realize the importance of controlling the popular branch of Congress.

"I hope and believe that the voters of the Eastern Shore district will return to the House Hon. Thos. A. Smith, for another term. He has made a record as a representative thoroughly efficiency and fidelity to the interests of his constituents, having been in a position to closely watch the record of Mr. Smith. Not only was he a constant attendant upon the sessions of the House, but his votes were always right closely, but his votes were always right closely, but his votes affable and courteous gentleman at all times and has trait of character that has endeared him to the leading men of both parties on the floor. In the Congress Mr. Smith is serving on the following committees: Education, Private Land Claims and Railways and Canals. If he can be returned to the House, he will have even better committments, and will be in a position to serve to greater advantage the people of his district and State.

Now what of Mr. Jackson, the opponent of Mr. Smith for the third time? I'm not going to sling mud at that Republican. It's not my style of argument to attempt to lead voters astray to state untruths about my opponent. Jackson is not a popular man in any sort of pressure was brought to bear on the Republican members of Congress from this district to which the contest of 1904 was brought to the seat to Mr. Jackson. I heard all the arguments made in the case, and I was present when it was decided. It was seeming goshawful to see how that I'm posted pretty well on these matters, having been, in addition to my newspaper work here, the clerk of the Elections Committee when the Fifty-second Congress when the Hon. Jo. O'Ferrall, of Virginia, was the chairman. Our Committee had intricate cases, and three of the most hotly contested, and three of the most hotly contested, and three of them in favor of the Republican members, although the Republicans then was overwhelmingly Democratic. The present house is overwhelmingly Republican. But they are fair men on the Committee and I know that some of they failed to turn Mr. Smith out because they could not find in the record any justification for so doing. Fairness in awarding the seat to Mr. Jackson, and the importunities of strong friends were combined in his interest. Being myself it is my firm belief that Mr. Jackson were not a man of large means. Mr. Smith's speech and his hard work in the interest of the canning interests of Maryland, when the pure food bill was before the House, brought, in my opinion, ought to entitle him to at least a thousand extra votes this year.

ALFRED J. STOFER.
