Monday of March, in each and every year, unless he shall be re-appointed.

Sec. 4. And be it enacted and ordained, that any Collector, who may be appointed by virtue of this ordinance, may be removed by the Mayor, with the concurrence of a majority of both Branches of the City Council; or it shall be lawful for the Council, by a vote of two thirds of each Branch, to remove the Collector without the concurrence of the Mayor; and it shall be the duty of the Collector, so removed, forthwith to deliver to the Register of the City all the money, books and papers which he may have in his possession at the time of such removal.

Sec. 5. And be it enacted and ordained, that whenever charges are preferred against the Collector, by the Mayor or either Branch of the City Council, which affect his official character, it shall be the duty of the Mayor immediately to suspend him from office, and the said Collector shall be furnished with a copy of the charges preferred against him, and he shall have the privilege of answering said charges before the City Council by Attorney or otherwise.

Sec. 6. And be it enacted and ordained, that it shall be the duty of the Mayor, in case of the resignation, suspension or death of a Collector during the recess of the City Council, to call the Council together within three days from the time of such suspension, resignation or death, and to apprize the Council, in case of suspension, of the reasons why he has thought proper to suspend said Collector; and in case of the resignation, death or removal by the Council, to nominate a suitable person to fill said office.

Sec. 7. and be it enacted and ordained, that upon the death, or removal, or expiration of the term for which any Collector may be appointed by virtue of this ordinance, all his power and authority shall cease and be vested in his successor, who shall proceed to complete the said Collection as now is or may be hereafter provided
