LOCAL MATTERS.

Almshouse Thanksgiving Dinner.—The Thanksgiving dinner at the almshouse consisted of roast goose, white and sweet potatoes, hominy, dressing and gravy, coffee, sugar and hot rolls.

The Transcript Did It.—An esteemed patron residing in Kennedyville writes: "Do not put my adv. in your paper this week, as my team is sold. See what the Transcript can do after only two insertions."

Waived Hearing.—William Myers, who was arrested sometime in October in Camden, N. J., upon the charge of murdering his father, Frank Myers, near Still Pond, was arraigned before Magistrate Calder on Tuesday afternoon. His counsel, Harrison W. Vickers, Jr., Esq., waived a hearing for the April term of court, and the prisoner was remanded to jail.

Will of William Morris.—The will of the late lamented William Morris was admitted to probate on Tuesday in the Orphans' Court. Messrs. Walter T. and J. E. Morris are named as executors. The will provides that the proceeds from his real and personal estate are to go to his widow during her lifetime and at her death the estate is to be equally divided between his five children.

Granted a Divorce—Mrs. Blanche T. Jewell, 1505 West Lexington street, Baltimore, was granted an absolute divorce on Monday from Jervis M. Jewell, by Judge Wickes, in Circuit Court No. 2. Mrs. Jewell testified that two weeks after they were married, which was Nov. 11, 1901, at Galena, Kent County, her husband was arrested on the charge of horse stealing, and that he is now serving a term in the Maryland Penitentiary, having been convicted in January last for pension frauds.

High School Teachers to Meet.—The High School Teachers' Association of Maryland will hold its next annual meeting on Friday and Saturday, December 7 and 8, in Baltimore, and an interesting program has been prepared. On Friday the members will inspect some of the Sunday Schools of Washington. State Superintendent M. Bates Stephens has arranged for the teachers to be received at the White House by President Roosevelt on Friday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. Prof. H. H. Murphy, principal of the Denton High School, is president of the association, and Prof. Hugh W. Caldwell, principal of the Chesapeake City High school is secretary. It is expected that 150 teachers will attend. There will be a banquet at the State Norman School on Friday evening, December 7, and a business meeting at the same place the following morning.

LITTLE LOCALS.

*†*Mrs. Lydia Lusby, of near Lankford, lost her fine driving mare one day last week with colic.

*†*Some of the farmers who killed their hogs during the foggy weather are now throwing their meat away.

*†*Poultry, eggs and butter are bringing fine prices in the local markets this week. As usual, turkeys are scarce.

*†*Mr. James T. Ireland and son opened a meat and provision store, in the storeroom formerly occupied by ex-sheriff Davis, this week.

*†*Mr. Jacob Crowding has purchased for $1500 Mr. D. B. Stewart's farm situated near Lynch, and which was advertised in the Transcript.

*†*Mr. J. D. Bacchus, the coal and wood dealer, has added an additional room to his office on Cannon street. It will be used as a private office.

*†*Mr. Harry T. Richardson, on Col. Wm. J. Vannort's Lankford farm, lost a valuable mare last week, by being caught in her halter in the stall.

*†*Schley Russell is at home and made his first appearance in Chestertown with Col. Story up on Wednesday morning. He is just as handsome as ever.

*†*The little folks are beginning to turn their attention to the coming of Santa Claus. Three weeks from Monday night he will visit all the boys and girls in Kent who have been good, and we hope all the boys and girls in Kent will be found good.

*†*Dressed Chickens, Ducks and Turkeys would find ready sale in Chestertown on Monday. The market is higher here than in Baltimore and with the festival and supper on hand next week we would suggest that our farmers see their merchants today and engage a supply.

*†*The Woman's Literary Club, of Chestertown, will produce the great New York successful Farce-Comedy in three acts, entiled, "The unreasonable Mrs. West," in Stam's Hall, on Wednesday evening, December 12, 1906. It is not often that the ladies will acknowledge that women are unreasonable. But here is a public confession, and every one should take the opportunity to witness the confession.

CHURCH NOTES.

Rev. F. T. Little, D. D., president of the Maryland Annual Conference, will preach in St. James and Kennedyville charges to-morrow (Sunday) Dec. 2.

Union Thanksgiving services were held in Christ M. P. Church on Thanksgiving morning. Rev. W. T. White, pastor of the M. E. Church, preached the sermon, a very forceful one, too, and the combined choirs of the churches rendered special music.

Rev. D. L. Greenfield preached splendid sermons to large audiences last Sunday in Christ M. P. Church. Miss Anna G. Lambert sang a beautiful solo in the morning and Miss Addie Hurlock rendered a beautiful solo at the evening service. On both occasions the choir sang fine anthems.

Thanksgiving Sunday at Christ Meth. Prot. Church. Experience meeting at 9.30 A. M. Public Worship at 10.30 A. M. and 7.30 P. M. Sunday School at 2.30 P. M. Christian Worker's Service at 6.45 P. M. Evening Theme, "The Hebrew Boys in the Fiery Furnace." Special Music. All the members of the church are urged for special reasons, to be present.

With Our Advertisers.

What you can do—call at the sacrifice sale of the Levine jewelry stock and pick out what goods you want, make a small payment and we hold them. See our advertisement in this paper.

Shipped. Messrs. Davis & Smith are meeting with success. Goods have been shipped from the Levine jewelry stock to Wilmington, Easton, Cambridge, Baltimore, Cumberland. They saw our advertisement in the county papers and bought.

Do not forget the fine supper to be given by the ladies of Christ M. P. Church next Wednesday evening in Stam's Hall. It will be fine.

A lady remarked the other day that Mr. Jacob F. Thompson has as fine citron, raisins and currants as can be purchased anywhere. And she is a most excellent judge.

The Stam Drug Company will have their Christmas opening on Thursday next, Dec. 4. Their large store is stocked full of the choicest gifts for Christmas, and are making a specialty of toys. See adv. in this paper.

Been over to see Mr. J. H. Sides handsome display of Christmas jewelery, watches, ornaments, cut glass, etc. It is as fine as there is on the Shore, and you are hard to please indeed if you can't get suited there.

Mr. Fisher Killed.—A terrible railroad wreck occurred near Lynchburg, Va., on Thursday morning in which Mr. Samuel Spencer, president of the Southern railroad, Mr. Francis T. Redwood, a prominent banker of Baltimore, and Mr. Charles D. Fisher, member of the well-know Commission firm and grain dealers, also of Baltimore, were instantly killed. D. J. Maddux, the telegraph operator at Rangoon, Va., is blamed for the wreck. It is alleged that he allowed the Atlanta train to enter the block before the Jacksonville train had passed out.

A XMAS DISPLAY

worthy of your attention.

It's wearing along toward THE DAY. Soon, very soon, we will all be ready to celebrate the gladdest time of the whole year. There's a deal of deciding and buying to be done before then, of course—but get among the right sort of selections, and the deciding won't be difficult.

Those who are looking NOW are doing so with pleasure—bye and bye crowds are unavoidable, with the customary hustle and bustle.

This store is very anxious to give its very best service to EVERY CUSTOMER. The store and all that it contains awaits your consideration.

Of ONE thing we are CERTAIN—that you will be sure to appreciate our efforts to show worthy goods. Our stock as it stands to-day measures up to a standard of our own making.

For a long time we have been selecting here, there and everywhere—now it's your turn. Come as soon as you can. Stay as long as you like. Tell your friends about us.

And please remember before you call that there is every reason that you can think of why this store appeals more than any other to your artistic sense, your love of novelty, and your desire for economy.

ABOUT 20,000 PEACH TREES

TO BE DISPOSED OF.

The buds were selected from the best strains of each variety, which were sent out from the Nicholson nurseries 25 to 30 years ago, and many of these orchards were more healthy and vigorous the past season than quite a few orchards 5 and 6 years old. These trees have been inspected by authority from the State Entomologist, Prof. Symons, and found entirely free from any root disease, San Jose Scale, or other insects. Orders will be promptly attended to.
