A DOCTOR'S RECOMMENDATION.

J. Horton Kelley, M. D., of Still Pond, Kent county, a practicing physician of highest reputation, writes:

Still Pond, Md., Nov. 22nd, 1904.

GENTLEMEN:

It gives me pleasure to recommend the new preparation for indigestion, "Pepsimint," which has but lately been put upon the market. Knowing the formula from which it is prepared, I pronounce it perfectly safe and harmless, but an efficient remedy for ills resulting from imperfect indigestion. As a preventative of that feeling of fullness after eating and the accumulation of gas and wind arising from improperly digested food, it is the remedy par excellence. Its method of preparation (in granular, effervescent form) makes it very pleasant to take. I have both prescribed the medicine and used it personally.

J. HORTON KELLEY, M. D.

A MINISTER'S EXPERIENCE.

Rev. D. L. Greenfield, D. D., pastor Christ M. P. Church, Chestertown, says:

GENTLEMEN:

To me "Pepsimint" has proved a quick and effective relief for indigestion.

D. L. GREENFIFLD.

GENTLEMEN:

Have tried Pepsimint and pronounce it a fine medicine for Indigestion.

A LAWYER'S TESTIMONY.

Hope H. Barroll, Esq., one of the leading members of the bar in Maryland, says:

Chestertown, Md., Nov. 18th, 1904.

GENTLEMEN:

I have used "Pepsimint" prepared by The Pepsimint Chemical Company. It is a pleasant and efficacious remedy for headaches, resulting from overwork or deranged stomach conditions. I have used it frequently and believe it to be harmless and the same time pleasant and its effervercent properties particularly beneficial and agreeable. I have heard many people speak of it in terms of the highest possible praise.

Very truly yours,

HOPE H. BARROLL.

Townsend, Del. July 27th, 1905.

GENTLEMEN:

I have found your Pepsimint to be a pleasant and effective remedy for indigestion and sick headache. Its use is followed by no deleterious effects.

Respectfully,

J. W. JONES,
Pastor M. E. Church.

Chestertown, Md., Aug. 3, 1905.

GENTLEMEN:

I am ninety-one (91) years old and have used your Pepsimint for Dyspepsia and Indigestion. Can highly recommend it, as it did me a great deal of good. Have never used it without good results.

Respectfully,

CAPT. JAS. H. THOMPSON.

GENTLEMEN:

I heartily recommend Pepsimint as an efficient remedy and having been benefitted by its use, I cheerfully recommend it to others.

Truly yours,

E. C. MAKOSKY,
Pastor M. P. Church.

Greenville, Tenn., May 25, 1906.

DEAR SIRS:

We have a number of employees in our office who think your Pepsimint one of the finest preparations they have ever gotten hold of for dull headaches and sickness incident to close office work. We notice they have ordered 2 doz. bottles for their own use and we feel sure that you will soon get an order from our druggist.

Very truly yours,

BROWN MF'G. CO.

COROT'S RUSTIC HABITS.

How the Artist Came to Live the Life of a Peasant.

Corot's father was a little, dry, thin old man, whose correct appearance, precise gestures and short speech were in singular contrast to the geniality and jovial ways of Camille. He was the typical business man. He wished his son to go into business and apprenticed him to a wholesale cloth merchant. Camille, who dreamed only of painting, conceived a violent aversion to commerce and seized every opportunity to escape from the shop and go up to his room to copy drawings. His employer was very dissatisfied with him and complained to his father, who reprimanded him severely. At last one day the young man did not go to business and told his father that he must follow his vocation, even if it brought him misery. Seeing that nothing could alter this decision, "Very well," the father answered. "I will give you 1,200 francs annually—not a centime more—and you will make the best you can of it."

Camille leaped for joy. He immediately made preparations for departure, left home and installed himself in the little hamlet of Morvan, at a farrier's whose numerous family was crowded into the only room, which was the forge. Corot there contracted the habits of the peasantry, which he retained ever after. He had no needs, lived only for his art and found complete happiness in it.

For a long time Corot remained at the farrier's, satisfied with the coarse food, happy in his liberty and feeling rich with his modest allowance. Endowed with robust health and being jovial by nature, he always sang while he worked, and his gayety never deserted him.

At his father's death Corot found himself possessed of a revenue of 40,000 francs, but this opulence did not change his rustic habits. He continued his simple and laborious life. Always up before dawn, he put on the peasant's clothes that he wore all his life, ate his soup, lit his pipe and with his box in his hand and his easel on his shoulder started for his work, his sonorous voice ringing out joyously.—G. Chardin in Putnam's Monthly.

FAMOUS GAMBLERS.

Old Time London Betting Clubs and Their Members.

There were three principal clubs—White's, Brookes' and Boodles'. White's was originally a "chocolate house" in William III.'s time, but became a private club early in the eighteenth century and was used by the Tories. It was a club always noted for high play and betting, and very curious some of their bets were, the old wager book being still preserved. Brookes' was the Whig club and was then conducted by that

Liberal Brookes, whose speculative skill
Is hasty credit and a distant bill;
Who, nursed in clubs, disdained a vulgar trade,
Exults to trust and blushes to be paid.

Among the members of this club were the Prince of Wales, and, of course, his fidus Achates, Sheridan, besides the great Charles James Fox, who here played deeply and whose name is oft recorded in the wager book, which, however, is of older date and was kept when the club was held at Almack's. "Lord Northington bets Mr. C. Fox, June 4, 1774, that he (Mr. C. F.) is not called to the bar before this day four years." "March 11, 1775, Lord Bolingbroke gives a guinea to Mr. Charles Fox and is to receive a thousand from him whenever the debt of this county amounts to £171,000,000. Mr. Fox is not to pay the £1,000 till he is one of his majesty's cabinet." "April 7, 1791, Mr. Sheridan bets Lord Lauderdale and Lord Thanet 25 guineas each that parliament will not consent to any more lotteries after the present one voted to be drawn in February next."—From "The Dawn of the Nineteenth Century," by John Ashton.

Man to Blame.

Women are more prone to deceit than men. From the time when Scheherazade told her lord 1,001 lies to keep the peace it has been the accepted way. And the men, not the women, are the most to blame. It is what they like, and they get it.—Good Words.

Love is intoxicating, it is said. What a good thing it is that marriage has a tendency to sober a man.—Terrell (Tex.) Transcript.

He Has Cured Thousands and Will cure You.

Why Don't You Try Martin's Homoepathic FAMILY REMEDIES?

"FAMOUS FOR THE GOOD THEY DO."

They have been used for years with the greatest success.
These are no fake remedies, but have genuine merit and commend themselves to all, while they cannot possibly injure the most delicate constitution they effect a complete and lasting cure even after strong medicines have failed.
Should you go to a Homeopathic Physician and have him put you up a bottle of pellets he would medicate them by guess, whereas, our remedies are compounded with the greatest care and by a regular formulae, and sold at the low price of 10c per bottle, by the druggist, whereas, the physician would charge you 50c or $1.00 for a similar thing only not as good.

THE GREAT TEN CENT CURES ARE:

Dr. Martin's Rheumatism Cure.	Dr. Martin's Catarrh Cure.
Dr. Martin's Cold and Grippe Cure.	Dr. Martin's Cough Cure.
