LOCAL MATTERS.

Sued John Wanamaker.—W. T. Warburton, Esq., of Elkton, has brought suit in the Circuit Court for Cecil county against John Wanamaker, of Philadelphia, for $500 damages for unskilful work and inferior material in laying parquety floors in his residence on Main street, Elkton.

Residence Burned.—The dwelling on the Luther Coale farm, near Lynch's, together with its contents was destroyed by fire on Sunday night. The farm is owned by Mr. Wm. A. Clark, and is tenanted by Mr. William T. Gallaway. The loss is about $1000 with an insurance of $850 in companies represented by Jos. N. Wheatley & Co.

Verdict for Plaintiff.—In the suit of Judge James A. Pearce and Mr. Wilbur H. Morris against Mr. Marcus Asher, to recover balance on sale of Keiffer pears, which balance amounted to $48.90, Justice Calder on Thursday gave a verdict for the plaintiffs in the sum of $49.62, allowing interest. An appeal was taken by Mr. Asher's attorney, Harrison W. Vickers, Jr., Esq.

Maryland Day.—Maryland Day will be observed in the schools throughout the county and state on March 25th. State Superintendent of Education M. B. Stephens, has selected as the topic for study in the schools, the beginning of Popular Government in Maryland, with a review of the early legislature. This is a most excellent and timely subject for discussion.

Oysters Selling High.—The oyster market is on the jump at present. At the wharves in Baltimore, the bivalves are bringing from $1.00 to $1.25 per bushel. The unsettled weather of the last two weeks has had a little effect up the market, but not enough to make any material difference in the price. The season as a whole has been profitable for the tonger on account of the open winter, but because the oysters run small, the dredger has had trouble in making a living.

Caught a Bunch of Snakes.—A few days ago, while John Dobson, of Oxford, was out muskrating on Town creek with a companion, they caught two muskrats out of the bank. Mr. Dobson espied as he thought, the tail of another rat sticking out of the hole. He dug down deeper to the bank, but instead of another muskrat, he found a bunch of snakes all coiled up together in a dormant state. He uncoiled them and laid them out upon the ground. There were 97 of them, measuring from one to three feet in length. All of the snakes were killed.

Will of Late John H. Hessey.—The will of the late John H. Hessey, of Cecil County, was admitted to probate in the office of the Orphans' Court in Elkton on Tuesday. The estate is estimated at $25,000. The farm in Pond's Neck, Cecil County, containing 297 acres, is devised to Mrs. Emma Hessey, widow of his deceased son, Dr. John H. Hessey, late of Hanesville, this county, for life, and at her death it is to go to her children. The residue of the estate, real, personal and mixed, is devised to the testator's daughter, Mrs. Ella M. Boulden, of Cecilton, who is also named as executrix. Mrs. Boulden gets the crops on the farm this year.

Slight Fire.—An overheated pan of grease caused a slight blaze in the bakery of Mr. Fred Mehl on Cross street, in the rear of the Candy Kitchen on Friday afternoon. The alarm of fire sounded by the town clock brought a crowd to the scene quickly, and the fire was extinguished before any serious damage was done. It was the best place in the town for a dangerous conflagration to have started. Mr. Mehl was baking doughnuts, and had left the oven for a moment, when the grease pan blazed up setting fire to the roof. Messrs. Charles S. York, John S. Vandegrift, John M. Toulson, Charles S. Smith, Ollie Estes and Elwood Baker were the leading firemen.

Cure For Rheumatism.

So many people have recently been afflicted with rheumatism and have tried all sorts of remedies, without relief, that we reproduce one found in the Baltimore SUN some days ago. A well-known authority on rheumatism gives the following valuable, yet simple and harmless prescription, which anyone can easily prepare at home:

Fluid extract dandelion, one-half ounce; compound kargon, 1 ounce; compound sasaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking well in a bottle and take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime. This pleasant mixture, which can be secured at any drug store, if taken regularly for a few days, is said to relieve almost any case of rheumatism. The pain and swelling, if any, diminish with each dose until permanent results are obtained, and without injuring the stomach. We know of one lady in Chestertown who has tried the remedy with excellent results, and one of the drug stores has already filled forty prescriptions for the medicine. The remedy is certainly worth a trial, and we trust that it may do a great deal of good.

LITTLE LOCALS.

*†*The question now most frequently asked. Did you pass?

*†*Undertaker J. E. Ferguson lost one of his valuable rabbit dogs this week.

*†*Owing to an accident to the machinery the Strawboard Mill has been closed during the week.

*†*Just snows enough to tease those who have good horses and sleighs. It may be deeper after awhile.

*†*Lent begins on Ash Wednesday, Feb. 13th. Easter Sunday falls on March 31. St. Valentine's Day is Feb. 14th.

*†*Contractors W. S.& A.M.Culp are at work upon plans for a fine dwelling for a wealthy resident of Middletown, Del.

*†*Guy Bros. Ministrels, who were to have shown in Stam's Hall last Tuesday night, have cancelled their date to sometime in February.

*†*There are 3,000 delinquent tax payers in Cecil county, the amount of uncollected state and county tax for the year 1906 being about $52,000.

*†*Notwithstanding the fact that the river and bay have been full of ice during the week, the Md. Del. & Va. steamers have made excellent time.

*†*Chestertown will experience another building boom in the spring. We hear of several fine homes to be erected in desirable parts of the town.

*†*Young lambs are occupying the attention of our farmers at present. One prominent farmer near town has 39, one of his ewes having given birth to triplets.

*†*Mr. J. Waters Russell, secretary of the Kent Building and Loan Association, entertained the directors of that company at an oyster supper on Monday night.

*†*The ice harvest in Kent has been an extremely good one during the past week. Many of the farmers have housed good three inch ice during the week.

*†*The bay is frozen as far as the eye can reach at Betterton with ice four and a half inches thick. There is danger of a freshet at Port Deposit, should the ice break suddenly.

*†*Rev. A. H. Covey was in town on Thursday driving a handsome bay horse which he recently purchased on the Western Shore. He is a handsome animal, as clean cut as a new pin.

*†*The preference of the members of the Maryland State Teachers' Association will be asked as to whether its annual meeting, June 25-28, shall be held at Ocean City or Jamestown, Va.

*†*The Cecil County Medical Society will hold a joint meeting with the Harford and Kent county societies at Elkton during the coming spring, the date to be selected later.

*†*A fair bed of snow brought out some of the trotters and pacers yesterday morning. Col. Albert Story was out with Schley Russell, and Capt. Wm. C. A. Thompson's fine colt, John B., attracted considerable attention by his fine action.

*†*A meeting of the farmers of Worton and vicinity has been called for the purpose of discussing the price of growing tomatoes. Many of the farmers are of the opinion that $9 a ton is a fair price for tomatoes this year.

*†*A prominent horseman fed poultry powders to his horse instead of horse powders recently. He did not realize his mistake until he went out one morning and found his garden scratched up, and the horse ready to set. That's a good one. Pass it along.

*†*Some vandal burned the mercury out of the large thermometers in front of Mr. Wm. S. McDonnell's store and at the side of the front doors of Hotel Imperial on Sunday night. The thermometers were ruined. This is a dastardly trick and a close watch is being kept for the guilty party.

*†*Prominent citizens of Rock Hall petitioned the State Board of Health to lift the quarantine at Rock Hall on Monday, which was granted. The Md. Del. & Va. steamers are now landing freight and passengers and the hardships which the people of that section suffered are over. All the schools, except Edesville, which have been closed for several weeks, have been open during the week, and their is likely to be no more interruption to the daily life of the people in the quarantined sections.

BETTERTON BRIEFS.

Betterton is again cut off from communication with the outside world, as far as eye can see is one vast field of ice, and no boats can land at either wharf. Large quantities of ice has been harvested, and every ice house in the town is filled with exceptionally good ice.

A "pie social" was held at the New Belmount on last Friday evening. A programme consisting of music, recitations and reading was enjoyed by those present. Pies sold at a very high price, and the social being the most successful affair held this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. George Owens entertained very pleasantly a large number of their friends on last Thursday evening, it being the forty seventh anniversary of their wedding. Their friends surprised them very much by presenting them with a handsome lamp, tabouret and rug.

Capt. Thomas Moore visited his son, Mr. Littleton Moore, in Philadelphia last week.

Mrs. Loyd, of Germantown, Pa., is the guest of her brother, Mr. Arthur Emerson.

Mr. John Brice spent several days at Chester, Pa., this week.

Miss Florence Jewell is visiting friends in Chestertown.

Mr. Frank Clark spent Saturday and Sunday at his home on Ericsson Ave.

The young folks are enjoying skating on the bay these beautiful moonlight nights.

Ella Virginia, the interesting infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Nicholson, was baptized on Wednesday afternoon, by Rev. J. M. Sheridan, pastor of St. James M. P. Church. A dinner was given in honor of the occasion, at which only the families were present.

Dr. Graham, of Ingleside, has been the guest of his son, Mr. Harry R. Graham, on Queen street during the week.

Mr. C. Leslie Walls and Miss Muren Portor, both of Denton, were married on Wednesday, Mr. Walls is a former graduate of Washington College, and is well-known in Chestertown.

RICH NECK FARMERS' CLUB.

An Interesting and Instructive Meeting at the Home of Judge Jefferson.

The topic under discussion at the January meeting of the Rich Neck Farmers' Club of Queen Annes, being corn, it was evidenced by the display of ten ears of each variety grown by the members and entered in friendly competition at the residence of Judge Chas. H. Jefferson on the 24th. Queen Annes Farmers' are fully alive to the advanced methods of agriculture, and it was with pleasure the writer listened to the address given by Prof. C. P. Hartley, physiologist, in charge of corn investigations of the bureau of plant industry, Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., who in part said: "We are face to face with the question as to the best, simplest and quickest means of obtaining the most productive and more uniform strains of corn for your section. Plant breeders have rapidly reached the ground now held by animal breeders, and know that our advancement depends upon our ability to find desirable individuals that will transmit to a high degree desirable characters. As the most valuable point in connection with corn improvement is the increasing of the production per acre, we can see that the principal point in connection with this work is the finding of individual ears of high producing power. The fixing of a type of corn is comparatively an easy matter. The production of a highly productive and well acclimated strain is more difficult, as many of the strains for the different section of the United States must necessarily be produced by corn growers, who are to a greater or less degree engaged in general farm work, it becomes necessary for us to simplify our methods as much as possible to accomplish the desired results. It is one thing to plan on paper a method of procedure and quite another, especially if the method be complex, to put it into practice, especially in connection with farm work. In connection with the corn improvement of the Department of Agriculture in co-operation with various corn growers, by methods which are not too complex for the average careful corn grower to practice, we have increased the production per acre at the average rate of 24 per cent. each year for the first four years the breeding work was in progress.

As the breeder of dairy cows is seeking for the individual of great butter producing capacity, so the corn breeder must seek the individual ear having great power of producing grain. Of two ears exactly alike in appearance one may have the power of producing twice as much as the other, and it is for the corn breeder to put these ears to the test that he may be able to select seed from the most productive. In order that the test of the producing power of select ears may prove true and valuable, it is necessary that the ears be equally well preserved, for on the care and preservation of seed corn depends largely its power to produce.

We occasionally find a man who has made a feeble attempt at breeding corn who, failing to have the seed ears uniformly preserved and all other conditions uniform, has failed to demonstrate that seed from the most productive ears will produce best, and is ready to discredit the importance of breeding, selection and preservation of seed. He can as correctly assert that it is immaterial whether we use, for breeding purposes, the best or poorest cows in a dairy herd. We can rest assured nature will do her part if we but do our part correctly. The production of suckers or tillers is very objectionable since the suckers sap the ground to about the same extent as the stalks, and very rarely produce good ears. Our experiments have demonstrated that the tendency to produce suckers is strongly inherited, and that this tendency can be overcome by breeding. To produce a strain that will not sucker it is necessary to take seed each year from stalks that do not produce suckers, as the tendency to produce suckers is affected by the source from which the pollen comes it is advisable to detassel all stalks that produce suckers. It should not be understood that detasseling is absolutely necessary in connection with corn improvement work. But since it has been conclusively demonstrated that very injurious results follow self-fertilization in corn, and since we know that under natural conditions some self-fertilization takes place in corn fields, it is obvious. Injurious effects can be prevented as well as beneficial results obtained by proper attention being given to the character of plants from which other plants are to be polenized.

The best method of detasseling is the pulling of the tassels soon after they appear. If taken at the right time, the tassels unjoint readily. The cutting off of the top of the stalk, especially if some of the blades be cut off, is injurious and should not be practiced. Let no corn grower plant ordinary seed, doing so with the belief that it is too much trouble to produce good seed, in fact it is too much trouble to plow, harrow, plant and cultivate two acres in order to obtain sixty bushels of corn when with better seed, that can be grown on one acre. Plant only the best seed if you do not care to produce poor seed, then buy the very best.

Prof. Hartley awarded first prize for the best ten ears to Col. Albert Story, the variety being Leaning; second, to W. Irving Walker, variety Leaning; third, W. Irving Walker, variety Rogston; fourth, H. P. Skipper, variety Skipper yellow; fifth, Col. Albert Story, variety Skipper yellow. Under the direction of H. J. Patterson, director of the Maryland Agriculture Experiment Station, members of the Rich Neck Farmers Club have been breeding corn for a number of years and were complimented by Prof. Hartley for the progress made in the improvement of corn. It is not known by as many farmers as it should be, that there is a Maryland Corn Breeders Association, members of which are following methods of corn growing advanced by corn experts of the corn growing states of the west, and it should behoove more of the farmers to place themselves in touch with these associations, that are doing so much for his advancement. While corn occupied a large part of the afternoon's program, we cannot forget the delightful supper and social features supplied by Judge and his amiable wife, assisted by the charming young ladies of Rich Neck.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Jefferson host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Hurlock, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baxter, Mr. and Mrs. Will Baxter, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Baxter, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Story, Mrs. Josiah Massey, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Massey, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Irving Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Klinefelter, Mr. and Mrs. James T. Anthony; Misses Fannie Anthony, Jessie Anthony Katherine Catlin, Jane Rochester, Lillie Rochester, Emma Ralph, Mabel Jefferson, Helen Jefferson; Professor C. P. Hartley, Mr. Harry Jefferson, Mr. W. S. Collins, Mr. Chas. C. McKee, Mr. Thos. D. Bowers; Masters Arthur Skipper, Townsend Anthony.

BISHOP HOLSEY SAYS: "PE-RU-NA IS A BLESSING."

He Declares Pe-ru-na to Be a Triumph of Medical Science,

A Magnificent and Sovereign Remedy.

Having Tried Many Remedies and Failed to Find a Cure,

Tried Pe-ru-na and Was Promptly Relieved.

After Twenty Years Bondage to Catarrh

He Is Relieved By Pe-ru-na.

A public speaker cannot afford to have catarrh. Even a slight catarrhal hoarseness of the throat becomes intolerable.

This is especially true of the minister who is called upon to preside at religious functions of all sorts.

The Bishop's Strong Tribute to Pe-ru-na.

L. H. Holsey, Bishop C. M. E. Church, Atlanta, Ga., writes:

"I have found Peruna to be a great remedy for catarrh. I have suffered with this terrible disease for more than twenty years, until since I have been using Peruna, which has relieved me of the trouble.

"I have tried many remedies and spent a great deal of hard-earned money for them, but I found nothing so effectual in the cure of catarrh as the great remedy Peruna.

"I feel sure that Peruna is not only a triumph of medical science, but it is also a blessing to suffering humanity.

"Every individual who suffers with respiratory diseases will find Peruna a magnificent and sovereign remedy."—L. H. Holsey, Bp. C. M. E. Church.
