22d, 1870, and all other ordinances and parts of ordinances inconsistent with the provisions of this ordinance, be, and the same are hereby, repealed.

This ordinance became a law because of its not having been returned to the City Council with my objections thereto within five days.

No. 143.

An ordinance supplementary to an ordinance entitled "An ordinance to condemn, open and widen Fayette street, on its north side, between Holliday and Gay streets," approved October 24th, 1874.

Preamble.

Whereas, the carrying out of the ordinance to condemn, open and widen Fayette street, on its north side, between Holliday and Gay streets, approved October 24th, 1874, will cause several strips of ground of very limited depth to exist on the north side of Fayette street, and it is deemed desirable by the Commissioners for Opening Streets, as well as the City Surveyor and City Commissioner, for the Mayor and City Council to amend said ordinance so as to include said strips in the said street, which can be done at a very slight increase of cost; therefore,

Amendment to Section 1, Ordinance No. 112, 1874.

Be it enacted and ordained by the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore, That Section 1 of the ordinance entitled "An ordinance to condemn, open and widen Fayette street on its north side, between Holliday and Gay streets," being ordinance No. 112, of 1874, approved October 24th, 1874, be, and the same is hereby, amended and changed so as to read as follows, to wit:

To condemn, open and widen Fayette street, between Holliday and Gay sts.

SECTION 1.—Be it enacted and ordained by the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore, That the Commissioners for Opening Streets be, and they are hereby, authorized and directed to condemn, open and widen Fayette street on its north side, between Holliday and Gay streets, so that the north side of said street shall commence at the point where the south line of the property known as number twenty four north Gay street, owned by the estate of William Rose, intersects the west side of Gay street, and thence running westerly, and binding on said south line to the end thereof, thence continuing said south line in a direct line until it intersects the east side of Holliday street.

This ordinance became a law in consequence of its not having been returned to the Branch of the Council in which it originated with my objections within five days after its presentation to me. The ordinance could not however be rendered effective because legal notice had not been given of an application to widen the street.
