Penalty for refusal to have numbers affixed

the provisions of this ordinance, shall be subject to a fine of five dollars; to be recovered as other fines and forfeitures are recovered under existing laws.

Relating to "Place," "Terrace," or "Square."

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted and ordained, That from and after the passage of this ordinance, no row of houses or series of buildings usually denominated as "Place," "Terrace" or "Square," now erected or in process of erection or hereafter to be erected, shall be numbered, or by figures or letters distinguished, in anywise differently from or in violation of the provisions of this ordinance; and that for any violation of this section, the offender in each case shall be liable to the like penalty of five dollars, recoverable as specified in Section 3 of this ordinance.

Penalty.

Superintendent to be employed.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted and ordained, That the Inspector of Buildings is hereby empowered to employ some competent person (if in his judgment he may deem it necessary) to superintend said renumbering at a salary of three ($3.00) per day, said salary to be paid by the contractor; the total sum not to exceed nine hundred ($900) dollars.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted and ordained, That this ordinance shall take effect from the date of its passage; and that all ordinances or parts of ordinances inconsistent with the provisions of this ordinance be and the same are hereby repealed.

In First Branch, June 3, 1886, reconsidered and passed, "the objections of his Honor the Mayor to the contrary, notwithstanding."—Yeas 18; nays 1.

JOHN KELLY, Clerk.

In Second Branch, June 3, 1866, reconsidered and passed, "the objections of his Honor the Mayor to the contrary, notwithstanding."—Yeas 8; nays 1.

JOHN M. TRAVERS, Clerk.

No. 79.

An Ordinance to better protect the public health and improve the sanitary condition of tenement and lodging-houses.

Section 1. Be it enacted and ordained by the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore, That every house or building which is used, occupied, leased, or rented for a tenement or lodging-house shall have in every room which is occupied as a sleeping room, and which does not communicate directly with the external air, a ventilating or transom-window having an opening or area of three (3) square feet over the door leading into and connected with the adjoining room, if such adjoining room communicates with the external air, and also a ventilating or transom-window of the same opening or area communicating with the entry or hall of the house, or, where this is, from the relative situation of the rooms, impracticable, such last-mentioned ventilating or transom-window shall communicate with an adjoining room that itself communicates with the entry or hall. Every such house or building shall have in the roof at the top of the hall an adequate and proper ventilator, of a form approved by the Inspector of Buildings and the Board of Health.

To have a ventilating or transom window.

To have a ventilator in the roof or top of hall.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the roof of every such house shall be kept in good repair, so as not to leak; and all rain water shall be so drained or conveyed therefrom as to prevent its dripping on the ground or causing dampness in the walls, yards or areas.

Roof to be kept in repair.