OBITUARY.

MR. JAMES S. PATTEN.

Mr. James S. Patten, a former well-known resident of this county, died at the home of his sister, in Claremont, Va. on Sunday, after a long illness of tuberculosis, aged about 40 years. The deceased was for many years engaged in agricultural pursuits in this county, and later was a traveling salesman. Mr. Patten was of an inventive turn of mind, and had invented several appliances in connection with the construction of railroad cars and several other important pieces of machinery. He had traveled extensively, and was possessed of a fund of knowledge which made him an excellent conversationalist. He is survived by a son, Howard Patten, two brothers, Messrs. Maro Patten, of this county and Mr. John Patten, of Florida, and three sisters, Mrs. Jervis, of Philadelphia, Miss Sue Patten, and the sister at whose home he died in Claremont. Funeral services were held on Feb. 3rd, at the residence of his sister in Claremont, Va., and the remains were brought to Chestertown by train on Tuesday and entered in Chester Cemetery. Undertaken Wm. T. Hicks had charge of the funeral arrangements.

FRANCIS BURTON WARREN.

Francis Burton Warren, died at the home of his uncle, Mr. A. P. Emerson, in Betterton, on Tuesday morning, after a lingering illness of consumption, in the 25th year of his age. The deceased was a young man of fine business ability and his early demise is greatly regretted. He was formerly engaged in the mercantile business at Fairlee, where, with Mr. Barclay Kilbourn, under the firm name of Kilbourn & Warren, a prosperous business was conducted. The deceased's wife, who was Miss Alice Kendall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Azariah M. Kendall, of Fairlee, died about one year ago, of the dread disease. He is survived by one child aged about 18 months. Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at one o'clock in Salem M. E. church, Fairlee, conducted by the pastor, Rev. E. B. Taylor. Interment was made in St. Paul's cemetery beside his wife. The pallbearers were Messrs. William G. Smyth, Barclay Kilbourn, Mahlan Lee, Morris Bramble, Herman Bramble and Dr. Frank Smith. Undertaker J. E. Ferguson had charge of the funeral arrangements.

H. CLAY SUTTON.

Mr. H. Clay Sutton, a well-known resident of Worton, died near town on Thursday morning, aged 75 years. The deceased was a son of the late Benjamin Sutton, who was a representative in the Maryland Legislature during the war, and was a nephew of the late Frank Cann, who was sheriff of Kent county at the time the Cosden murderers wer hanged. He was an uncle of Messrs. David Sutton, of Queen Annes, and Walter Sutton, of near Edesville, and a cousin of Mrs. Lucas Aldrich, of Baltimore. Funeral services will be held this morning at 10 o'clock with interment in Chester cemetery. The pall-bearess will be Messrs. George Hudson, William Ford, Richard S. Smyth, Jesse H. Usilton, Robt. G. Nicholson and Thomas J. Davis. Undertaker J. E. Ferguson will have charge of the funeral arrangements.

Owens & Co., Betterton.

We introduce to the public this morning the firm of Owens & Co., Betterton, Md. Betterton is one of the most charming spots in Kent county, and Owens & Co. are determined by close application to business and careful and consistent advertising to boom the town and make it even more attractive. They will do so through the selection of a splendid assortment of general merchandise and resort goods priced at such figures as to make these goods attractive to buyers. This will attract trade, and hence Betterton will be profited. Owens & Co. is one of the most reliable firms in the county. Its members are men of unquestioned integrity, and it is their delight to serve their large trade. Their business is growing all the time, and if you'll watch their advertisement every week in the TRANSCRIPT, you will not fail to go there to do some of your shopping. They have a special sale beginning to-day, and they want your eggs, butter and lard. See advertisement on page 4.

Slight Fire.—The home of Mr. Walter T. Alcutt, on College avenue, narrowly escaped destruction by fire on Saturday night. Mr. Alcutt lighted his pipe, and lay down on his lounge. A spark from his pipe ignited the fringe on the lounge, and before the fire was extinguished, with the assistance of several men who happened to be going by, the lounge and carpet were burned. Had the blaze gotten any headway the town might have seen a terrible conflagration, as the wind was blowing a gale at the time from the northwest.

ICE BLOCKADE.

Chestertown Shut in From the Outside World Save by Train.

The steamer Gratitude left her wharf on Monday morning and not a sign of a boat has been seen since. Purser Whittier C. Copper, telephoned from Love Point on Tuesday night, that the Choptank could only make the Love Point landing on Tuesday with the assistance of the ice boat Latrobe. The Latrobe was compelled to break through piles of ice about five feet in thickness in order to make the wharf. The river has been covered from shore to shore with from three to five-inches of ice, and navigation on the rivers and bay has practically been closed. The Ericsson line steamers to and from Philadelphia and Baltimore got stuck in the ice which is very heavy in the upper bay, and one of their vessels had to be relieved by the Latrobe. The Groves is stuck in the ice somewhere in the C. & D. Canal. Capt. Clarke, who is running the Choptank to Love Point during repairs to the Love Point, rescued the crew of a schooner that was frozen in the ice near Baltimore, on Monday. The crew had been in their perilous condition since Saturday and were in a starving condition when picked up by Capt. Clarke. They were taken to Baltimore. Supt. G. E. Noland and his genial wife are hemmed in by the ice, and everything at Tolchester is in the clutches of winter. Many of the county roads are still blocked, and travel to town must be made at considerable risk through fields and snowdrifts. A young lady, who is attending Washington college, with her father, had an unpleasant experience while endeavoring to reach Chestertown on Monday morning. Their horse got stuck in the snowbanks several times, pulled himself loose from the shafts, and they were compelled to walk a considerable part of the way. They were pinched with the cold when they arrived in town. Another lady accompanied by her nephew, started to town on Monday with her butter to sell. She said she saw people driving past her road gate on their way to town, and she thought if they could reach here, she could also. She started, and did get here, but not without several big tussles with snowdrifts. Skating was very fine on the river and mill pond during the first of the week and crowds of young folks enjoyed the sport every afternoon. All those who have ice houses have succeeded in getting them filled, and February has established her claim to being the coldest month in the year for the past ten years. The thermometer has been as low as 9° during the week.

On Wednesday a big snowstorm set in and there has been some good sleighing. The ground hog is getting in his work.

Warning to Farmers.

Dr. John G. Dennis, veterinary of Cecil county, states that he fears a great loss of live stock during the next few months, due to the unwholesome character of corn and corn fodder. The doctor was called to see a valuable horse in the county last week, but the animal was dying from spinal meningitis. The doctor ascribed the cause of the disease to mouldy corn and fears there will be many more cases unless the farmers exercise great precaution. He would advise feeding only shelled corn, as the danger seems to lie largely in the cob. The ear will look smooth, hard and wholesome, but upon breaking it open the cob is found diseased; and it is the eating of this diseased cob which does much of the damage.

We mentioned last week that a prominent farmer of near Kennedyville has a valuable horse sick with meningitis, and it may be that the disease is caused from eating bad corn. The farmers would do well to consider the danger, and prevent the loss of their valuable stock.

Wedding Delayed by Blizzard.

Although stormstaid for a week, Cupid carried out his interrupted plans Saturday. When Ediwin T. Meredith, a rural mail driver of Queen Annes, and Miss May Ethelyn Gibson, a popular young lady of Centreville, were married at the Methodist Epicopal parsonage by the pastor, Rev. W. A. Wise. The ceremony was witnessed by only one person, W. Lee Clough, a friend of the groom. The ceremony was to have taken place the Saturday previous, January 25, but the blizzard of Thursday and Friday so blocked the roads that the groom could not get to town, so the wedding had to be postponed. The couple had considerable difficulty in reaching the home of the groom after the wedding, being delayed sometime by a breakdown on the road. They will reside near Hayden.

RELIGIOUS MATTERS.

Miss Mary Knight led the Christian Workers service in Christ M. P. Church last Sunday evening. A quartett was rendered by Mrs. J. H. Sides, Mrs. J. Hydie Thompson, Messrs. J. Hydie Thompson and Arlington L. Sparks.

The moving picture entertainment by the Great American entertainment Company of Baltimore, will be given in Worton M. E. church on Thursday Feb. 13, and in Salem M. E. church on Friday evening Feb. 14. It is said to be a fine entertainment.

Mr. M. A. Toulson has been elected delegate and Mr. H. H. Klinefelter, alternate, to the coming session of the M. E. Conference to be held in Wilmington in March.

Rev. Dr. H. B. Martin's fine articles in the TRANSCRIPT every Saturday morning on "Why I Am a Christian," are being widely read and very favorably commented upon. Read them.

Rev. Frank Robinson will begin a series of revival services in the Jarrell store room on High street next Wednesday.

We neglected to observe last week the fact the Rev. W. L. White, the faithful pastor of the M. E. church preached a strong sermon last Sunday morning week on the subject of temperance. Those who know Bro. White, know that he never allows any opportunity for doing good to pass, and that he is an ardent advocate of the Temperance cause. He did valuable service for the cause in Delaware last fall, and he may be depended upon to do the same for Maryland. He urged his audience to use their efforts to secure the passage of the local option bill now before the legislature.

There is a movement on foot in the Wilmington Conference to secure equal lay representation in the Annual Conference, of that denomination. It is likely the next session of their conference will memorialize the next General Conference which meets in Baltimore in May, to act upon the request.

A letter from Mr. and Mrs. James Brice, who are in Tampa, Florida, states that they attended a Methodist church last Sunday morning and participated in a communion service at which there were between 200 and 300 communicants. Individual cups and small wafers were used. In the afternoon Mr. Brice went over to Tampa Bay Hotel to see Carrie Nation. The great fair began this week, and Mrs. Brice says it is fine. They report missing Col. and Mrs. Evans, who usually accompany them every winter.

The biennial convention of the Maryland Conference Methodist Protestant Christian Endeavor Union was held in Alnutt Memorial church, Baltimore, on Thursday and yesterday. Delegates were present from Maryland, Delaware, parts of Pa., West Virginia, Virginia and New Jersey. There are about 225 senior and Junior societies in the conference, with a total membership of 8,000. Among the principal speakers were Mr. Wm. H. Anderson, Superintendent of the Maryland Anti-Saloon League and Rev. T. O. Crouse, of Georgetown, D. C., Rev. E. D. Stone, of Centreville, had charge of the music.

The good people of St. James and Lynch's M. P. Churches, gave their popular pastor, Rev. G. A. Morris, an old time Worton pounding yesterday evening. The members walked in, took possession and left the good parson and his family aghast at the great quantity of all the good things that one could desire for the inner man.

Real Estate Sales.

The "Vickers" farm, situated in Quaker Neck, on the Chester river, was offered at public sale on Tuesday by the trustee, Harrison W. Vickers, Esq. It was sold to Mr. George Vickers, of Goldfield, Nevada, for $6000. The farm contains 350 acres, and is beautifully situated on Chester river.

The lot adjoining Chester cemetery was purchased by J. Waters Russell for $500.

The lot at the head of town, a very desirable piece of property, containing about 1¼ acres of land, was purchased by J. Waters Russell for $1200. These two pieces of property also belonged to the Vickers estate. The above property was advertised exclusively in the TRANSCRIPT, and as is usually the case, the bidding was spirited. Auctioneer John H. Greenwood cried the sales.

J. Waters Russell, real estate broker, has sold the W. H. Hickey farm near Pomona to Mr. G. W. DeMoss, of Baltimore. The farm contains 75 acres, and is well located.
