ADBERT, 35508.

RECORD 2.26¼.

This stallion will make the season in Kent and Queen Annes counties this spring, 1908. His pedigree shows him to be one of the finest bred horses in the east. Last year he worked a mile in 2:22, last half 1:19, last quarter in 32. He shows plenty of speed and good finishing qualities.

Anyone wishing to breed for speed, high-class roadster or general purpose horses will find it to their best interests to use this stallion. He is a beautiful seal brown, 15½ hands high, weighs about 1000 lbs., well built, sound limbs. His colts are always of fine size, well colored and fine limbed. Many of these which have been handled for speed have shown plenty of it. All are good gaited trotters, none of them have ever paced.

TERMS—$15.00 single mare; $25.00 for two with privilege of returning until a living foal as long as Adbert is owned by me.

Anyone wishing services of this horse can obtain same by writing me.

What Do They Cure?

The above question is often asked concerning Dr. Pierce's two leading medicines, "Golden Medical Discovery" and "Favorite Prescription."

The answer is that "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most potent alterative or blood-purifier, and tonic or invigorator and acts especially favorably in a curative way upon all the mucous lining surfaces, as of the nasal passages, throat, bronchial tubes, stomach, bowels and bladder, curing a large per cent. of catarrhal cases whether the disease affects the nasal passages, the throat, larynx, bronchia, stomach (as catarrhal dyspepsia), bowels (as mucous diarrhœa), bladder, uterus or other pelvic organs. Even in the chronic or ulcerative stages of these affections, it is often successful in affecting cures.

The "Favorite Prescription" is advised for the cure of one class of diseases—those peculiar weaknesses, derangements and irregularities incident to women only. It is a powerful yet gently acting invigorating tonic and nervine. For weak worn-out, over-worked women—no matter what has caused the break-down, "Favorite Prescription" will be found most effective in building up the strength, regulating the womanly functions, subduing pain and bringing about a healthy, vigorous condition of the whole system.

A book of particulars wraps each bottle giving the formulæ of both medicines and quoting what scores of eminent medical authors, whose works are consulted by physicians of all the schools of practice as guides in prescribing, say of each ingredient entering into these medicines.

The words of praise bestowed on the several ingredients entering into Doctor Pierce's medicines by such writers should have more weight than any amount of non-professional testimonials, because such men are writing for the guidance of their medical brethren and know whereof they speak.

Both medicines are non-alcoholic, non-secret, and contain no harmful habit-forming drugs, being composed of glyceric extracts of the roots of native, American medicinal forest plants. They are both sold by dealers in medicine. You can't afford to accept as a substitute for one of these medicines of known composition, any secret nostrum.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets, small, sugar-coated, easy to take as candy, regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

Why He Concealed His Calling.

"I hope," said the young man, "that partial concealment of the truth is no lie. If it is, I am telling a whopper right now, and I'm a divinity student too. That is what I am lying about. I don't tell that I am studying theology. If I did I wouldn't find it so easy to hold this job. I'm one of the down-on-his-luck students who has to work his way through college. One of the first things I learned when I began to look for a position was that the average employer of labor has no use for the divinity student. Somehow every man engaged in business holds the opinion that a young fellow who is studying for the ministry lacks backbone, and he is afraid to trust him with important duties.

"After I had ingenuously explained my circumstances to about twoscore of employers and had been turned down by all of them I got wise. I am working now. The boss doesn't know I am pegging away nights on church history. If he did the chances are he'd discharge me, not because he has any grudge against parsons or church history, but because he, like everybody else, would think I hadn't pluck enough to earn my salary."—New York Times.

Staggered Webster.

In the somewhat famous case of Mrs. Bodgen's will, which was tried in the Massachusetts supreme court many years ago, Daniel Webster appeared as counselor for the appellant. Mrs. Greenough, wife of the Rev. William Greenough of West Newton, was a very self possessed witness. Notwithstanding Mr. Webster's repeated efforts to disconcert her she pursued the even tenor of her way until Webster, becoming quite fearful of the result, arose, apparently in great agitation, and, drawing out his large snuffbox, thrust his thumb and finger to the very bottom and, carrying a deep pinch to both nostrils, drew it up with gusto, and then, extracting from his pocket a very large handkerchief, he blew his nose with a report that rang distinct and loud through the crowded hall.

He then asked, "Mrs. Greenough, was Mrs. Bodgen a neat woman?"

"I cannot give you full information as to that, sir. She had one very dirty trick," replied the witness.

"What was that, madam?"

"She took snuff."

Most Popular of Pictures.

The best known picture in the world, it has been said, is Vandyke's portrait of James II. of England as an infant, popularly known as Baby Stuart. Two million copies of it are said to be in American homes, and it is equally popular in England and continental Europe. This is not because it is a portrait of a child who became king, but because it is a masterly piece of infant portraiture. The plump, round cheeks and tiny nose, surmounted by a tight fiting cap, appeal to every lover of children. The figure with which the world is familiar is the central one in a group of the eldest three children of Charles I. painted in 1635, when the baby, afterward known as the Duke of York, was only two years old and barely able to stand alone.—Youth's Companion.

She Told Him a Lie.

He had been dining well, but not too wisely, and the next morning his conscience as well as his head smote him pretty considerably. Yet he managed to struggle down to breakfast and to make an attempt to toy with the dainty and tempting dishes which his dear little wife had thoughtfully provided.

"Cecil," said his better half gently as she watched his ineffectual endeavors to do justice to the matutinal repast, "I am afraid that I told you a lie yesterday, and I want you to forgive me, dear."

"A lie?" he asked wonderingly.

"Yes. As you left the house you will remember I said to you, 'You'll be home early, darling?' Well, it wasn't true!"

And he went out a sadder and wiser man.

Mountains Had Not Moved.

The story is told that when Judge William Rogers was chairman of the school committee in a New England town one examination day he went around questioning pupils of the middle grade. He asked a boy named Rock where the Rocky mountains were. The boy answered correctly, but failed to be promoted that term.

The following year the judge asked the same question. Rock replied, "The same place they were last year."

Wholesome Fear.

Miss H., the principal of a grammar school, was investigating a case brought her by a pupil.

"Are you quite sure that was the way it happened, Mrs. P.?"

"Miss H., that was just the way. I'm telling you the truth. I wouldn't dare tell you a lie. I'm not well enough today."—Woman's Home Companion.

University Tests.

One might say that the first test at Oxford is athletic ability, the next sociability and the final scholastic ability. When you have passed the first two, you are the admiration of your friends; when you have shown yourself a scholar besides, you are the admiration of your college.—Rhodes Scholar in Sunset Magazine.

Disproved.

She—They say that a man becomes like that with which he continually associates. He—Ridiculous idea! I've been a fishmonger all my life and can't swim a yard yet!—London Opinion.

A patch on the trousers is not as bad as a stain on the soul.—Richmond Evening Journal.

The End Came Another Way.

A distinguished actor was one time engaged at one of our leading provincial theaters in a drama in which he attempts an escape from a convict prison, first by getting rid of his fetters by means of a file and lastly by getting over the prison wall. In the act of doing this he is shot at by a warder and killed.

One particular night the drama had run its usual course up to the point where the actor attempts the escape over the prison wall. The warder, as usual, presented his rifle, but instead of a loud report nothing but a faint clicking sound was heard. The rifle was lowered and after a brief delay again pointed, but with the same disappointing result.

The audience now began to hiss and jeer. The disgusted actor then got off the prison wall and, staggering toward the footlights, exclaimed, "It's all up—I've swallowed the file!" and fell prone on the stage amid the laughter and applause of the audience.—Pearson's Weekly.

Bachelor Seal Skin.

"This skin," said the furrier, "came from a young seal bachelor, a youth ignorant of love and of life."

"How do you know?" the lady asked.

"By its fineness, its perfection," he replied. "The pile, you will note, is like close cut velvet. Only bachelor seal skins have such a pile.

"The bachelor seal," he went on, "has a rather sad life. The big bull seals in the seal islands have each a household of fifteen or twenty wives, but the young bachelors must herd by themselves. Let one of them attempt to marry and straightway a bull slays him. Not till he is big enough to fight and conquer a bull—not till he is fourteen or fifteen years old—can he know the delight of settling down in a home of his own.

"He leads a hard, ascetic, celibate life, only in the end as like as not to make a lady a very fine coat. All the very fine coats, I repeat, are made from the unhappy bachelor seals."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Jack Tar and the Actor.

A famous Irish actor of the eighteenth century named John Moody early in life, before he went on the stage, had been to Jamaica and worked his passage home as a sailor before the mast. One night some time after he had been engaged at Drury Lane when he was acting Stephano in "The Tempest" a sailor in the front row of the pit got up and, standing upon the seat, hallooed out, "What cheer, Jack Moody—what cheer, messmate?"

This unexpected address rather astonished the audience. Moody, however, stepped forward and, recognizing the man, called out: "Tom Hullett, keep your jawking tacks aboard. Don't disturb the crew and passengers. When the show is over make sail for the stage door, and we'll finish the evening over a jug of punch. But till then, Tom, keep your locker shut." Moody, it is related, was as good as his word.—Cornhill Magazine.

Exchanging Amenities.

A blatant sample of the loud voiced, self conscious, look-at-me variety of man took his seat in a bus and called to the conductor:

"Does this bus go all the way?"

"Yes, sir," responded the conductor politely.

"Does it go as far as Oxford street? I want to get out there."

"Yes, sir," was the reply.

"Well, I want you to tell me when we get there. You'd better stick a stamp on your nose or put a straw in your mouth or tie a knot in one of your lips, so that you won't forget it."

"It would not be convenient for one in my position to do so," said the conductor courteously, "but if you will kindly pin your ears round your neck I think I shall remember to tell you."—London Scraps.

The Sins of Hatters.

If any tradesman has a lot to answer for it is surely the hatter. He will most unblushingly tell you that a certain type of hat is suited to your particular style of beauty, knowing that the information is false, and all the while you have a dull suspicion that you don't look well in it. Yet you are obliged to believe him. His persuasive powers are so cultivated that I firmly believe he would make a dwarf think himself "a fine figure of a man."—Fry's Magazine.

May Do It Now.

"In the olden times it is said that it was possible for a man to render himself invisible."

"Pshaw! That's not at all remarkable. Men in this country are doing it every day."

"You don't say so! How do they manage it?"

"By marrying famous women!"

How It Was Becoming.

"That dress is becoming, my dear," said the man who thinks he is a diplomat.

She looked at him coldly for a moment and then replied:

"Yes. It is becoming threadbare."

Brutally Frank.

Scribbles—When I take a dislike to a man I use him as the villainous character in one of my novels. Criticus—Ah, I see! You punish the poor fellow by burying him alive, as it were.

Why They Fly.

Bobby—Mamma, do the streets of heaven flow with milk and honey? Mamma—So the Bible says, dear. Bobby—And is that why the angels have wings, 'cause the walkin's so bad?

Obedience is better than sacrifice.—Shakespeare.

HARDWARE AND IMPLEMENTS.

I am now better prepared to accommodate the farmers and public at large than ever before.

FARM WAGONS

of my own make in stock, and DEARBORNS of the same, made to carry 38 baskets of peaches or tomatoes. I have the agency for

Deere and Black Hawk CORN PLANTERS

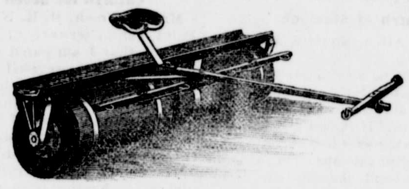

Two of the lightest running and most accurate Drop Planters on the market. They work where others fail. I have just received a large assortment of such as the Syracuse, Genuine Oliver, Roland, Ohio, Perfection, Oliver's Pattern, and REPAIRS of all kinds to fit the above-mentioned Plows. I have a large stock of "Iron Age" and Little Diamond WHEEL CULTIVATORS. They run light on the horses and do the work neater and cleaner than any other on the market. Hand Cultivators and also Cultivator Plates and Bolts constantly on hand.

1, 2 AND 3-HORSE PLOWS

I am still manufacturing my own make of

and have large stock on hand, and keep the Champion Field Roller also in stock. I will mention a List of Small Implements and Light Hardware, and any thing that you are in need of. Kindly give me a call. I will surprise you in price. IT IS NOW TIME to begin to think about spraying your orchards. Begin by buying an which is the most satisfactory spray pump made.

After we have supplied you with a spray pump then the next is something to use in it. We have Scalescide which has been tried and found very satisfactory by such farmers as Mr. John Bell, Mr. James Bell, Mr. J. Thos. Smith, Mr. James Newnam, Mr. John Newnam, Mr. James A. Lee and many others. Mr. James A. Lee, of Sudlersville, Md., tells us that the inspector from the Maryland Experiment Station tells him that he never saw a better job done by anything or anybody, as he could absolutely find no live scale in his orchard after the use of SCALESCIDE. What better recommendation can you want than that?

WE ALSO HAVE THE SUCCESSS MANURE SPREADER

which is a thorough roller bearing machine, the only manure spreader yet using roller bearings which is a much lighter draft spreader. It is undoubtedly best manure spreader made. See us before buying. We are also prepared to furnish you with

Anything That You May Need on the Farm

Oliver Plows, Farm Wagons, Hames, Traces, Lines, Collars, Brides, Halters, Backbands, Etc.

If You Need a Gasoline Engine either stationary or marine we are prepared to take care of you, for the stationary we have the McVICKER which is simplicity in itself, for the marine we have the FERRO which is too well-known here to need anything further said. Let us figure with you on your wants.
