No. 63.

An Ordinance granting permission to the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company to use a steam motor or dummy during certain hours in the night upon its tracks as now laid on Pratt street, and on its spur tracks on Howard, Patterson, Mill, Commerce and South streets.

Section 1. Be it enacted and ordained by the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore, That the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company be and it is hereby authorized and empowered to use a steam motor or dummy upon its tracks as now laid upon the bed of Pratt street, and upon its spur tracks laid on Howard, Patterson, Mill, Commerce and South streets, between the hours of twelve midnight and five A. M., for the purpose of hauling cars through said streets, provided that the speed of said steam motor or dummy while passing through the above mentioned streets shall not exceed six miles per hour, except where the grades require a greater speed.

Authority to use a steam motor or dummy on Pratt street and spur tracks.

Rate of speed.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted and ordained, That the said steam motor or dummy shall be enclosed in a covering so constructed that all the working parts of the engine shall be substantially concealed from view, and the said steam motor or dummy shall be provided with a bell and whistle, but neither shall be used upon the streets mentioned in the first section of this ordinance, except in cases of necessity; and said steam motor or dummy shall also be provided with a steam brake of an approved pattern of sufficient power to maintain perfect control over the cars to which it may be attached.
