Points of Excellence.

When you buy a vehicle buy a GOOD ONE. You can save a few dollars by buying a "Cheap John" vehicle but it isn't economy in the long run, nor good sense in the short run.

We can save you money on a Buggy or Carriage, but you don't always know it until afterwards.

There are POINTS OF EXCELLENCE about our vehicles that NEED ONLY TO BE SEEN to win your patronage.

Come in and look. Then buy where you please, but you will at least have learned where to get the most for your money.

We solicit your patronage,

A CARD OF APPRECIATION.

In retiring from business, which my failing sight compels, I wish to return my grateful thanks to the many friends and patrons who have stood by me so faithfully and some of them by my father before me. It is with much feeling and great regret that I have faced the inevitable and given up the business I have been engaged in so long, and in which I have achieved a reputation that any one may well envy.

Again thanking all my friends, I desire to recommend my successor, MR. CHARLES L. DODD, to their liberal patronage, feeling sure of his ability to coduct the business in the most acceptable manner.

Respectfully, JOHN N. DODD, Chestertown, Md.

The Transcript Complimented.

An esteemed patron and advertiser in the TRANSCRIPT residing in Baltimore, writes us this week: "We certainly must compliment you on your paper. Looks fine, advs. well displayed and perfect in every respect. Your paper we have every reason to believe has paid us well the past year. Your paper looks more like a New York sheet than a country weekly." We appreciate such a compliment, especially as it comes from a gentlemen fully qualified to judge.

An esteemed patron in renewing his subscription says:—"I enjoy reading your paper very much and wish you much success in your work of helping to enlighten the people of the county. You have always stood for whatever is best for the people, and I hope you will continue to stand for the right."

Kent's Biggest Merchant.—A perusal of the list of traders' licenses issued to date will disclose the fact that Wm. Medders & Co., the hustling Still Pond merchant, carries the largest stock of goods of any dry goods merchant in Kent county. The amount of Mr. Medders' license is $15,000, which represents the largest and most varied assortments of goods in the county. The entire State knows Medders. He advertises the big store; Clerk Dixon calls on him for the big license and the TRANSCRIPT calls on him for the big advertisement. Medders is big all right.

Rented Riverside.—Mrs. Austin, of Baltimore, has rented Riverside Hotel, at the other end of Chester bridge, for the summer, and this week has furnished the hotel. She has booked a large number of guests for the summer, some of whom will arrive about June 1.

EFFECTS OF BAD WHISKEY.

Officers of the Law Arrest Ten Men for Disorderly Conduct and Violation of Local Option Law on Saturday Night

For the second time within a month bad whiskey gotten from Baltimore and Philadelphia by the jug, has caused excitement on our streets late on Saturday night, and the sabbath day has been desecrated by rowdyism as well. The disorder last Saturday night was even worse than on the previous occasion, and officers Cooper, Getshall and Deputy Sheriff Startt had their hands full "running in" the violators of the law, and their work of making arrests was not completed until Sunday night. When the excitement was over, Samuel Sheppard, Walter Johnson, Charles Bell, Benj. Blake, John H. Johnson, Edw. Gibson, colored, and Spencer Robinson, white, had been lodged in jail for disorderly conduct, and Horace Johnson, Robt Clayton and George Hollins were arrested for violating the local option law The trials took place on Tuesday evening at the jail before Police Justice Cordray Loud and resulted as follows:

Samuel Sheppard was given four months in the House of Correction for disorderly conduct and for resisting officer Getshall. Two fingers on the officer's hand were pulled from their sockets by Sheppard in his attempt to break away from the officer. Walter Johnson, Charles Bell, and John H. Johnson were each fined $5 and costs for disorderly conduct. Blake and Gibson have not been tried yet.

Clayton, Horace Johnson, and George Hollins were held for court for violating the local option law. Johnson was released on bail.

Spencer Robinson, white, was fined $5 and cost for disorderly conduct. Robinson tried to tear up the jail after being locked up. He tore up a table, broke a window sash and panes, and tried to set fire to the jail. He was simply crazed by drink. James W. Coleman was badly cut on the arm on Saturday night by a colored man, whose name is not known. The doctor was compelled to take seven stitches in the wound.

These with the two prisoners accused of setting fire to Capt. Walmsley's house, who were also arrested on Saturday night, have greatly enlarged the sheriff's list of guests, but there is still room for more, and we trust that the officers will not stop until they succeed in arresting ever violator of the local option law. These damnable speakeasies that are being run by a lawless gang in this town should be broken up, and we heartily commend the officers of the law for their efforts to break up all lawlessness. Don't stop until you get them all. We trust the respectable colored people of the town will join with all right thinking people in endeavoring to put a stop to such occurrences on our streets.

Wedding Bells.

HINES—JESSUP.

A pretty home wedding took place on Wednesday evening when Miss Miriam Louise Jessup, daughter of the late George A. Jessup, of Kent county, was married to Dr. Frank Brown Hines, of Chestertown. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's sister, Miss Laura H. Jessup, 2107 St. Paul street, Baltimore.

To the strains of the "Lohengrin" wedding march, played by Mr. Walter W. Derr, the bridal party entered the front parlor, where the ceremony was performed by Rev. Peregrine Wroth, rector of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Messiah, and a cousin of the bride.

The bride was accompanied by Mr. George Beck, by whom she was given away. She was attired in a hand-embroidered gown of the Renaissance pattern, and her tulle veil was caught with a spray of orange blossoms and pearls. She carried a presentation bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. Arthur Bradley, of Chestertown, was the best man, and Miss Geraldine Wilmer, a niece of the bride, was flower girl. The ribbon-bearers were Masters Richard Gundry, Jr., and Mancolm Wilmer.

A reception, at which only the immediate families were present, followed the wedding. After a tour of the North Dr. and Mrs. Hines will make their future home in Chestertown.

Prize Winners.—Last week the well-known hardware firm of H. R. Graham & Bro. offered prizes of a $20 set of rubber mounted harness, one $8.50 oil stove and a $3.00 carving set to those guessing certain numbers in envelopes and also a name. The number of the harness was 999, and those who guessed the correct number are Mr. James T. Anthony, Mr. T. Bennett Willson and Otto L. Capel. The number of the oil stove was 100, and was guessed by Mr. Connelly Beauchamp and Mr. Geo. P. Hendrickson. No one guessed the girl's name which entitled one to the carving set. Her name was Gertrude. Who will get the harness and who the stove?

Twenty Years Filing Will.—The will of Pere Barroll, one of the best known colored men in this section of country, and who died about twenty years ago, was filed in the Register of Wills office last week by Jeff. Willson, colored. The will leaves all his property, consisting of real estate solely, situated near the Jarrell-Dodd farm, near town, to his children. It was written by the late Richard Hynson, and was witnessed by John F. Howard and the late George H. Cannan.
