Kindness of Mr. Jefferson.

Through the kindness of Mr. Harry F. Jefferson, proprietor of one of Chestertown's largest and best department stores, his advertisement of three full columns is omitted this morning to make room for reading matter that could not be omitted. We appreciate Mr. Jefferson's courtesy, and wish to say that he is always willing to assist in every worthy cause, and do his fellowman a good turn. He still has many bargains in his clearance sale of all summer goods.

Dishonest Commission Merchants.

A number of our farmers have suffered recently by the failures of commission merchants in Baltimore city and elsewhere. Especially is this true of one firm. A number of farmers of Rock Hall shipped their wheat crops to this firm and received worthless checks. There is a remedy for this. The law provides it. If commission merchants, when they know they are insolvent, take the crops of farmers and put the proceeds in their pockets they are guilty of embezzlement. The law provides a heavy fine and inprisonment. It is time to test this law and have somebody punished. The present failure seems to be the one with which to begin. We quote the law for the benefit of the TRANSCRIPT's readers and its provisions are as follows:

126. Any factor, commission merchant or consignee, or any person selling goods on commission, or the agent, clerk or servant of such person, who shall convert to his own use any provisions, fruits, flour, meat, butter, cheese or any other property, or the proceeds of the same, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon indictment and conviction in any court of this State having criminal jurisdiction shall be fined not more than one thousand dollars or be imprisoned not exceeding six months, or both, in the discretion of the court; and the failure to pay over the avails or proceeds received by any factor, commission merchant, consignee or person selling goods or produce on commission, less his proper charges, within five days after receiving the money or its equivalent from the purchaser or purchasers of said goods or produce and demand made therefore by the person entitled to receive the same, or his or her duly authorized agent, shall be prima facie evidence in any court of law in this State to establish the conversion of said goods or produce.

In view of the above let those who hold such worthless checks meet together and induce our Kent county State's Attorney to aid the State's Attorney for Baltimore city to secure indictments. Just think of it, a farmer's entire wheat crop, one year's hard work, made away with by commission merchants who have violated the law. Why cannot a Kent county grand jury also act? If it cannot the law should be so amended that rascally commission merchants can be tried in counties from which they receive shipments.

Sale Stopped.

(COMMUNICATED.)

The sale of cattle, from Chester county, Penn., advertised to be sold at public sale on the Walls farm at Price's station, Queen Annes county, by Klair & Hollingsworth last Friday did not come off, as the sale was stopped by Dr. G. Allen Jarman, by orders of Dr. F. H. Mackie, State veterinarian. The owners had not complied with the law passed by the last Legislature, and taking effect July 1, 1908, requiring all cattle coming into this State for dairy or breeding purposes to have a certificate, certifying that they have successfully passed the tuberculosis test. In lieu of such certificate they are required to be held in quarantine until they are tested with tuberculin by a veternarian acceptable to the Maryland authorities and released by said authorities. This lot of cattle was released from quarantine by Dr. Jarman the next morning, at the request of the owners, and were loaded and taken out of the State, which looks very much as though the owners had some doubt of their ability to successfully pass the tuberculin test. The provisions of this law meet with the hearty approval of the farmers of Queen Annes county and their only comment is that the law was not enacted sooner. This would have shut out many diseased cows that have been sold at such sales to our farmers in the last two or three years much to their sorrow. Anyone having knowledge of cattle coming into this State from other states will confer a favor upon their community by promptly notifying the State Veternarian 916 Cathedral street, Baltimore, or the State Live Stock Sanitary Board 506 Union Trust Building, Baltimore, Md.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving remembrance of our dear mother, WILHELMINA CROUCH, who died one year ago today, August 8th, 1907. Gone but not forgotten. How often at midnight do we think of thee, and we raise our heads and wake to the remembrance that our dear mother is dead.

Oh, mother, must we give you up,
Your presence we loved so well;
How can we drink the bitter cup
And say a last farewell?
What is home without our mother,
'Tis a cottage robbed of flowers,
Where our broken, bleeding hearts,
Will spend many lonely hours.

Oh, mother, thy gentle voice is hushed,
Thy warm, true heart is still,
And on thy pale and peaceful face
Is resting death's cold chill.
Thy hands are clasped upon thy breast
We have kissed thy lovely brow,
And in our aching hearts we know
We have no mother now.

She's been taken away, the one we loved best,
To the land of gladness and joy;
Earthly sorrows are past, joy has come at last,
Heaven has welcomed our loved one at home.

'Tis hard to be parted, oh, how we have missed her,
But God's will, not ours, be done;
Just a little while longer, what a glorious thought,
Then we'll meet our loved one at home.

Oh, never can another
In this cold world be found,
With a heart so warm and tender
And the voice of pleasing sound.

Forget thee! Oh, when life shall cease
To think, this heart of mine,
And not till then would I forget
One look or tone of thine.

Forget thee! 'Tis a bitter word;
I would it were unsaid;
Forgetfulness is not of life,
But with the silent dead.

BY HER CHILDREN.

TO GIVE LECTURES.

Interesting and Instructive Feature to be Introduced Into Washington College Life During the Winter.

President James W. Cain, with the consent of the Board of Visitors and Governors of Washington College is about to purchase a large projecting lantern. The lantern will be the best that can be made, and will be used by the college during the coming winter in giving a course of illustrated lectures. Dr. Cain proposes to secure the services of several noted lecturers to come to the college during the winter months and give illustrated lectures upon instructive and entertaining subjects, and it is for the purpose of making these lectures a part of the college course that the Board of Visitors and Governors has given the order for the powerful lantern. We are quite sure that this will be welcome news to the literary public, who have felt the need of such entertainments in the town, and as it is proposed to open the course of lectures to popular subscription, it is hoped and believed that the public generally will sustain this most worthy venture on the part of the college authorities. Dr. Cain is doing everything in his power to raise the standard of the college and to bring it into close touch with higher institutions of learning throughout the country and this last act is a powerful force in the right direction. The public will be fully apprised of the lectures later on, but meanwhile all should rest assured that Dr. Cain will provide a literary treat for the winter months.

Farm Notes.

Mr. Joseph R. Usilton and Mr. J. Romie Skirven received $1.20 per basket for peaches last week. They were Mountain Rose, and were colored up nicely.

George N. Brinsfield has purchased of Elizabeth and George W. Clark property near Crumpton for $300.

J. Thomas Morris, Esq., of Baltimore, has sold to Lydia A. and Bevins Morris his farm in Morgnec containing 260 acres for $8000.

Messrs. David and D. B. Stewsrt. of the Stewart Fruit Company, have been buying peaches and Keiffer pears in the county this and last week.

Mr. J. W. Copper, one of our best farmers, tenanting the J. W. Chapman farm near Lynch, will discontinue farming, and Mr. Lewis S. Price, of the First district, has rented the farm. This is one of the finest tracts of land in Kent county, and Mr. Chapman says that Mr. Copper is one of Kent's best farmers. Mr. Copper and his father had occupied the farm for the past thirty years, and Kent can ill afford to lose such farmers as is Mr. Copper.

Mr. Oliver Cleaver, now tenanting the Stewart farm, has rented the Cochran farm, near town, now tenanted by Mr. Thomas Faulkner. Mr. Faulkner is looking for a small farm, which he desires to purchase.

Among the farmers living near town who have good peach crops and are shipping good consignments every day are Messrs. John Bell, Sam'l G. Lee, A. S. Bacon, A. Earle Nicholson, B. F. Rash, Jos. Trew. Messrs. Jos. R. Usilton and Romie Skirven, and the farmers in the "peach belt," near Betterton and in Still Pond Neck have good crops. They are all getting good prices.

It is said by those in a position to known that one of our lady farmers puts $800 in bank every year as her net proceeds from the entertainment of summer boarders. It is a paying business when correctly managed, and there is no place in the world better adapted to such business than Kent county.

School Notes.

The Annual Teachers Institute for Kent county will be held Sept. 7-11, and the schools throughout the county will open on the 14th. Washington College will open Sept. 16th.

At a meeting of the Board of School Commissioners on Tuesday the following scholarships were awarded:

Miss Frances Morris to the Normal Department of Washington College. There were five applicants for this scholarship. Each member of the board had a candidate, and to settle the difficulty the name of each candidate was written on a slip of paper and placed in a hat. Prof. Melvin was asked to draw one slip, and it proved to be Miss Morris. That is the fairest and best way to settle such matters, and we are sure the public approve of it.

There were two candidates for the scholarship in St. Mary's Female Seminary which was awarded same as above.

Miss Emma E. DeCorse was the lucky one and secured the scholarship.

Miss Susan B. Hill was awarded a scholarship in the Baltimore State Normal School leaving one scholarship there still vacant.

Miss Mary R. Miller, of Chestertown, was awarded the scholarship in the Maryland Institute of Art and Design.

The scholarship at Maryland Agricultural College was awarded to Mr. Oswald Saunders.

All the vacancies in the county schools have been filled with the exception of the one at Coleman's.

The board has requested Prof. Melvin to purchase the best and most approved desks for the commercial course here and at Rock Hall.

Pro Bono Publico.

My, friend, help the editor in his wildeyed search for news. When your friends come to see you, if you are not ashamed of it, tell him; when your wife gives a tea party, if you have recovered from the effects of the gossip, drop in with the news; if you go to a party, steal some of the good things and leave them with the item in our sanctum. If your wife licks you, come in and let us see your scars and tender sympathy through the paper; if your mother-in-law has died, don't be bashful about it; give in all the commonplace news. In short, whatever makes you feel proud, sad, lonesome, or glad, submit it to our 24 karat wisdom and see our matted locks part and stand on end with gratitude, which will pour from every pore like moisture from the dew-besprinkled earth.—Belt Valley Times.
