FAIRFIELD FED FOWLS FEEL FINE

Firemen's Bazaar.

Those of our people who were in attendance at the great Firemen's Carnival in Stam's Hall last January, remember what a great success it was financially, socially and in every other particular. There was nothing like it ever held in Chestertown, but there is no reason to believe that nothing else can be held to equal it. The people of Chestertown never fail in any undertaking, and with the splendid committees of ladies in charge of the bazaar to be held next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, there is every reason to believe that the occasion will equal in every respect, if it does not surpass the great carnival of just one year ago. The ladies have been at work for weeks preparing for the bazaar, and it looks as if the various booths will be on a more elaborate scale and more attractive than ever. Contributions have been coming in from all quarters, and when the doors open next Tuesday evening, the scene that will be presented will remind one of fairyland. We make an appeal to all the people of the town and county to patronize this bazaar. Nothing has done so much to bring all elements of our community into close social relation, or to produce a common bond of social fellowship than did the carnival of last January, and when we remember the splendid object for which the bazaar is held—to protect your home—the dearest thing in the world to us all—we should not hesitate a moment to be liberal in the spending of our money. The fire company wants to make $1000 next week, and it can be done, if the people look at the thing in the proper light. The following are the Executive Committee, the various booths and the chairman of each:

Executive Committee—Mrs. Harry L. Boyd, Mrs. Wm. B. Usilton, Mrs. Geo. Brice, Mrs. F. H. Russell, secretary and treasurer.

Supper Committee—Mrs. Curtis E. Crane and Mrs. H. L. Boyd.

Ice Cream—"June"—Mrs. Charles N. Satterfield.

Cake—"May"—Mrs. A. M. Culp.

Fancy—"December"—Mrs. H. C. Hughes.

Candy—"October"—Miss Anna Smith

Country Store—"November"—Mrs. Thomas D. France.

Japan—Mrs. Allan A. Harris.

"Lady Bountiful" will dispense gifts from her mysterious box for 5 cents—Miss Fannie Stuart.

Tags—Mrs. Frank B. Hines and Miss Lillian Stam.

Grab Bag—Mrs. Mary B. Roberts.

A splendid entertainment consisting of monologue and tableaux entitled "His Sweethearts" will be given on Tuesday evening under the direction of Mrs. James H. Shuster and a beautiful cantata entitled "Violet in Fairyland," will be given on Wednesday evening under the direction of Mrs. David B. Ford.

A matinee will be given on Wednesday from 3 to 4.

A sumptuous supper will be served on Thursday evening, consisting of all the delicacies of the season for 50 cents. Admission at the door 10 cents.

Don't forget the dates,

STAM'S HALL, JANUARY 25, 26, 27, 1910.

At the mock trial held in the Jr. O. U. A. M. Hall last Monday, the evidence of Newton Kendall, acting as an expert in chemistry from the Johns Hopkins University, and S. B. Maslin as a nigger, caused much laughter and appaluse. This mock trial was the first of a series of entertainments to be held in the lodge room.

On Monday night last many were greatly alarmed at the thought of their boats which were imprisoned in the ice being carried away in the flow. The wind shifted to the east or southeast during the night and the ice in the creek started for the bay, but did not go very far on account of the flats which arrested its drifting.

Willard Rich has been indulging in the sport of boxing as you may see by his swollen lips. One of his pugilistic friends got in the lick which caused the trouble. Willard is gaining much headway in this art and will soon be able to get back at his adversary.

An Independent Element.

Carbon is an elementary substance widely diffused throughout nature. It occurs uncombined in two distinct forms or allotropic conditions—viz. graphite or blacklead and the diamond, which is pure crystallized carbon. It is, however, more commonly found in combination with other elementary substances than in the free state. United with oxygen, it occurs as carbonic acid gas (CO_2) and exists in the atmosphere, in natural waters, in limestone, dolomite and ironstone. In combination with hydrogen it forms the extensive series of chemical compounds known as hydrocarbons. It is also an important constituent of wood, starch, sugar, gum, oil, bone and flesh. No other element is so characteristic of the plant and animal world as carbon. In 1788 Lavoisier showed it to be an independent element. He furthermore proved the diamond to be the purest form of carbon and by combustion converted it into carbonic acid gas.—New York American.

Not the Usual Romance.

Recently one of our most fastidious young men bought a pair of overalls and found in them the name of the sewing girl who made them.

He very promptly wrote her a letter with all the effusiveness necessary in such a case and in due time received a reply, which, however, was void of the romance usual in such cases. Here it is: "I am a working girl, it is true, but I make a good living, and I do not care to support a husband, as I would do if I married some silly noodle who gets mashed on a girl he never saw. Permit me to say that I do not know how my card got in that pair of overalls and that when I do marry, if ever, it will be some fellow who can afford something better than a forty-seven cent pair of breeches."—Muscotah Recorder.

Improvement.

Bacon—How is your wife?

Egbert—Improving, thank you.

"Why, I didn't know she'd been ill!"

"She hasn't, but she bought a bonnet today for $4. She used to buy the sixteen dollar kind, you know."—Yonkers Statesman.

Blunt.

"I should like to go to my mother in law's funeral this afternoon, sir," said the bookkeeper to the "old man."

"So should I," replied the proprietor as he turned to his desk again.—London Tit-Bits.

Nautical.

"Cap, how many knots an hour can you make with this vessel?"

"Can't make any just now; we're tied up."—Baltimore American.

What is not necessary is dear at a penny.—Danish Proverb.
