RARCLAY WOMAN HAS LONG WILL.

Makes Numerous, Individual and Philantrophic Bequests.

Mrs. Mary V. Cox, of Barclay, Distributes Property to Friends, Relatives, and Institutions. A Donation to the Town of Sudlersville.

The last will and testament of Mrs. Mary V. Cox, widow of the late James Cox, late of Barclay, Queen Annes county, Maryland, formerly of Kent county, was admitted to probate in the Orphan's Court for Queen Annes county recently.

Mrs. Cox leaves two farms, one near Barclay, and the other known as the Dixon Tavern farm, also about fifteen acres of woodland and a five acre lot.

The Dixon Tavern Farm is left in trust to the executors, Dr. Foster Sudler and Madison Brown, for Charles M. Jones, a brother of Mrs. Cox, he to receive all benefits from said tract of land during his life. The five acre lot is bequeathed to Susen Wyatt during her life and at her death to Frank Wyatt, Jr., in fee.

The following bequests are then left: $1,000 in trust to the executors, for her brother, Charles M. Jones; $500 to Thos. Cox; $500 to John Brewer Brown, son of Madison Brown; $200 to Dewey Whiteley; $75 each to William Whiteley, Wm. Whiteley, Jr., and Geo. Whiteley; $100 to J. W. Whiteley; $25 to Harry Whiteley, all of Kent; $50 each to the two children of Ray Cox Crossley $40 to Harry Jones and $40 to his wife, Annie Jones; $1,000 to Dr. Foster Sudler; $100 to her sister, Mattie J. Brown, and a gold watch to Lelia Sudler.

The residue of the estate is left to the Commissioners, of Sudlersville for the erection of a hall to be known as "Cox Memorial Building."

Road Commission a Failure.

Ogle Marbury, Esq, delegate from Prince George's county in the Maryland Legislature, and who frequently visits Harrison W. Vickers, Jr, Esq. here, is one member of his county delegation who is opposed to making the roads of his county the subjects of political patronage. It seems that certain politicians in his county are endeavoring to take the management of the roads of his county out of the hands of the County Commissioners and create a Road Commission, and a delegation went to Annapolis in the interest of a bill that has been prepared for that purpose. Speaking of the subject Mr. Marbury said:

"I could not be 'opposed to the bill,' because I have never seen it. I understand that it proposes to take from the County Commissioners the powers they now have and to vest them in a board of road commissioners, to be appointive, as usual, on recommendation of the chairman of the State Central Committee and the Senator from this section.

"The County Commissioners are elected by the people and are paid salaries for the purpose of caring for the roads, and I cannot see any use in creating another board—not elected by the people to do work for which we already have a board, unless it is to secure some political advantage. We tried the road commission system in Prince George's some time ago and it was so unsatisfactory that the bill was repealed.

"I certainly do not believe the people of the county want to go backward. I cannot at this time say what my attitude toward the Wells bill may be, but I am opposed to making the roads of Prince George's the subject of political patronage, and I think that the people of the county will look with great disfavor on any move to this end."
