upon it. Should any written protest be filed, the Inspector of Buildings shall investigate the same, and if, in his opinion, the objections are not well taken, he may, in the exercise of his discretion, grant the permit for the same, with the Mayor's approval, notwithstanding the protest which may have been filed to the granting of the same. When application is made for a permit, a sum sufficient to cover the cost of advertisement shall be deposited with the Inspector of Buildings.

Sec. 109. Any person or persons who shall introduce steam, gas or gasoline for power uses, or any other motive power, or an engine or machinery operated by such power on his, her or their premises, without first obtaining a permit for the same, shall forfeit and pay a fine of twenty-five ($25) dollars, and ten ($10) dollars additional for every day the same shall remain without a permit; said permit to be revocable by the Mayor, and the machinery, upon said permit being revoked, shall be removed within three months after notice from the Inspector of Buildings, approved by the Mayor; said fines to be collected as other fines.

Penalty for non-observance.

Sec. 110. Any person or persons who may have, or shall hereafter obtain, permission for power under the provisions of the preceding sections, and desiring to change to greater or less capacity, shall, before making any such change, proceed as in case of a new instalment, and any violation of this section will subject the offender to penalty, as provided in Section 109.

Proviso for changes.

Sec. 110A. The gasoline power, as named in Sections 106, 107, 108, 109 and 110 is not to conflict or nullify any existing ordinances regarding storage tanks for gasoline for gasoline engines.

Storage tanks.

Sec. 110B. Permits may be granted by the Inspector of Buildings for low-pressure steam boilers used for heating purposes only, in all cases where the power does not exceed ten pounds of pressure. The application shall be made in the same manner for the placing of low-pressure steam boilers as required for all other steam boilers under the provisions of the preceding sections, except no advertisement will be necessary before the issuance of the permit.

Ten pound pressure boilers.

Sec. 110C. Any person or persons placing upon their premises any low-pressure steam boiler, used for heating purposes as above designated, without having first obtained a permit therefor, will be subject to a fine of twenty ($20) dollars, and an additional fine of five ($5) dollars for each and every day thereafter, until the permit is obtained. If any person or persons having a low-pressure boiler or boilers, for which a permit has been properly issued, for heating purposes make any attachment for power purposes, or run any machinery of any kind whatever by said boiler, they shall be subject to a fine of five hundred ($500) dollars, and ten ($10) dollars additional for every day such attachments are permitted to remain connected.

Penalty for non-observance.

Sec. 110D. If any person or persons or corporation, after having placed a low-
