[illegible] wrote carelessly enough to enquire & hear what Messrs Rosier & Slater can say of you, for she thinks y[e] they know you not so well as y[e] Gent: who wrote y[e] Letter & may not have so good an opinion of their Discernment.
Pray who was y[e] Gent: who wrote y[e] Letter? You see y[e] trouble y[ou]r carelessness gives you & us — Your C[ousin] R: Darnall presents her humble service to you & returns you many thanks for your kind Compassion & Concern for her. I could not as I proposed send you all my Law Books by Capt Coxidge, & I am not absolutely certain he will carry those w[hi]ch I mention to you with him as they are lent out to Mr Darnall, who has promised to deliver them to Mr Dan[iel] Carroll at Marlbrô, who in Case he can get them will certainly ship them. The Books in y[e] other List I will send by y[e] 1st safe Conveyance with y[e] 4 Vols of y[e] Pruves de la Religion de Jesus Christ. You will see by ye Lists ye there are Duplicates of many of ye Law Books these & others you may sell in London & get new ones of later & better Editions — I would not have you spare Money if I want a Compleat Collection of Law Books. We are well hope you are so & daily pray to God to keep you so, & y[e] he would liberally bestow on you his Graces & Blessings you have ours & I am
