P.S. Your letter to Doctr. O'Brien, I forwarded the Nett. post.

Since yesterday, I called upon Mr. Morgan O'Brien, who is now pretty well recovered. I had a good deal of Discourse with him about Gorman, who can hear nothing of that gentl. mover. Therefore, he contradicts himself, if he wrote to Doctr. O'Brien as you mentioned in yrs.

What is required for to make out Mr. Carrolls Pedigree, is as follows to trace back as far it can be known, the names of the fathers and mothers their Place of abode, ~~their qualitys~~, or the titles they bore ~~in the country~~, the dates as close as possible of their births ~~and~~ marriages, and deaths, this being done, the records and other offices in Dublin may furnish proofs of such other descents as can't be known exactly, by Mr. Carrolls father, it ~~should~~ will be necessary to specify what Carroll first settled in Maryland, whether eldest or younger Son, whether of the eldest or younger branch of the family of the Carrolls, and from what Place in Ireland he came from.
