Dear Sir,

Doctor Smyth, who will deliver you this, is a gentleman who has had the direction of the British hospital in this County, since the surrender of Lord Cornwallis. I have had the pleasure of an acquain:tance with him, and from every circumstance of his behaviour believe him to be a man of great worth and merit. I beg leave, Sir, to introduce him to your acquaintance, and do earnestly request that you will facilitate his return to New York, whither he is anxious to get, by every means that you can with propriety make use of. Whatever civilities you shall be pleased to shew Doctor Smyth, I shall consi:der as shown me, and shall ever retain the most grateful sense of.

I am, Dear Sir,
