Dear Sir

I had the honor to receive your favor of the 23 ult.o (by Dr. Stewart) yesterday. — It will give me great pleasure to execute your commands. — whenever I can, in any way, be useful to you, I hope you will not deprive me of the satisfaction of serving you; my dear Sir, to whom I am under infinite obligations. —

There will be an opportunity to London from Baltimore as soon as the frost breaks up. — I will then order the Joiner & Tools as you desire — I will write to Mr. Mollerson very particularly about the Mares, and also to Drusina. I flatter myself they will be able to procure such as will answer your description. — if possible, I mean to take a trip to London in the Summer, and as I shall return in the course of a few months, I can see that proper care is taken of them in the Passage out.

I have long intended to make an excursion to Prince George, to have the pleasure of seeing my Friends at Mellwood, but the long continuance of the bad weather has deprived me of that happiness. I hope however
