Now You Can Buy 10-Acre Tracts

within walking distance of Chestertown, and it is the experience that such tracts near other towns have advanced wonderfully.

TEN ACRES is about 418 feet by 1045 feet, a good size piece of land, just right for TRUCKING, POULTRY AND FRUIT.

These tracts are on stone State road adjoining the lands of Mr. J.T. Anthony.

Being in walking distance of Washington College and Chestertown High School, they are doubly desirable.

One can erect a dwelling at $1,500 and his property would stand him a round $3,500.

You Don't Have to Buy 150 Acres & Tie Up $8,000 to $10,000 and "live out of the world," and have trouble with farm labor; with a tax of 90 cents and a road that is always good, these tracts will always be in demand.

I Predict these Tracts Will Bring $150 Per Acre In Two Years

This is not an idle assertion. Prices on these lots run from $100 to $150 per acre. One lot has been sold while writing this advertisement. For further information call or write.

WARWICK CHURCH A TOTAL LOSS.

By Hard Work the Rectory, Though Damaged, Was Saved.

At eight o'clock on Monday morning a fire broke out in the interior of St. Francis Xavier R. C. Church, Warwick, of which Rev. Charles A. Crowley is pastor, and who is also the pastor of the R. C. Church at Middletown, Del.

Father Crowley at once dismissed his Middletown congregation and hastened to Warwick, but on his arrival he found the entire church gutted and the fire fighters at work on the parochial residence, which adjoins the church.

The residence was saved, but was seriously damaged on one side. Several persons suffered from the heat and smoke in their efforts to save the residence when they found nothing could be done to save the church building.

Thomas D. Dorsey and John J. Dorsey, on whose farm the buildings are located, have charge of the church and buildings and their hired man was looking after the building of a fire in the heater, when the fire broke out from an overheated flue. A wind was blowing and in a short time the flames had spread to all parts of the building. The floors gave way and the entire roof soon fell in and nothing is left but the walls.

Some of the altar vestments and chalices were saved, but little else. The church is brick, two stories in height, and is one of the oldest on the Peninsula, being 225 years old.

The church was overhauled last year at a cost of several thousand dollars. The church has about 125 parishoners and a large Sunday school charge.

The building and contents were valued at between $10,000 and $15,000. There was insurance of $3,000 on the building $500 on contents. The church will be rebuilt.

Bishop Monaghan said the Warwick church site was the site of the original Georgetown College, which, however, was moved to Georgetown, D. C., about 10 years after it was started at Bohemia Manor. Archbishop John Carroll, the first archbishop of Baltimore, was one of the early students at the Bohemia Manor College. The Jesuit Fathers, founders of Georgetown College, first settled at what is now the site of the Warwick church and for 200 years after the college was moved they were domiciled at Bohemia Manor, which makes the location all the more historic.

PROTECT THE CRAB.

Industry Being Threatened by the Destruction of the Females.

Deputy Fish Commissioner Hugh M. Smith, of the Bureau of Fisheries is very much pleased with the agitation for the protection of the crab in Maryland.

"The people are gradually destroying the crab," said Mr. Smith, "by killing the females. This should be checked. I am glad that Maryland is becoming interested to the extent that laws to protect its crabs are proposed and strenuously advocated."

"Maryland furnishes by far a larger supply of crabs than any other State in the Union," declares a report of the Bureau of Fisheries, "and it is not improbable that its people were the first to discover the edible qualities of this crustacean and its value as a market product. The greatest crab shipping point in the United States is Crisfield, Md., near the extreme lower end of Somerset county, on the little Annemessex river, a tributary of Tangier Sound."

The total number of crab fishermen in Maryland 10 years ago was 5,388. Sixty-nine vessels, valued at $24,000, were employed. The catch was 12,910,746 soft crabs, valued at $202,563, and 29,474,379 hard crabs, valued at $85, 884. The industry has grown rapidly since 1901.

Mr. Smith is an authority on crabs and his interest in the Mayland situation is more than official.
