Its main points are: Double drive, both ground wheels driving the feed. Vibrating Feed Hopper Bottom, insuring an even and steady flow of Potatoes. Adjustable Feed Gates. Variable Dropper, from 10 to 36 inches apart. One man operates the machine and he can see the potatoes dropping. Adjustable Picker Jaws for all size cuts of potatoes. Damage by Wind.

The heavy wind of Wednesday night and Thursday did much damage in this section. The green house on the farm of Mr. Rumsey Anthony near Chester bridge was wrecked, glass sash being shattered and blown away, and thousands of young plants exposed to the weather and lost by freezing. Mr. Anthony's loss is between $500 and $600.

On the Baughman farm owned by Mr. Wm. S. Collins, on Chester river, the barn was twisted from its foundation, meat house unroofed, and other extensive damage was done. So far as can be learned there has been no damage to shipping, and though Supt. G. E. Noland says the wind was terrific at Tolchester there was no damage to wharf or other property.

At Mr. Elliott's, across the river, a large chicken house was blown over on its roof and a number of chickens were killed. Mr. Owen Smith's new chicken house and stable were damaged, as was also the chicken house at Mr. J. D. Foster's new home.

In Morgnec, the barn 20x30 feet on Mr. E. J. Plummer's farm was twisted on its foundation, and the corn crib was blown over against the dwelling. At C. W. Copper's the wagon shed was torn down, and other damage done, while on the Wilmer-Story place, the windmill was wrecked, and trees were torn to pieces. Mr. Robert Wallis' chicken houses were also damaged. At all these places the wind assumed the force of a cyclone.
