

The Dart Delivery Truck,

1500 lbs., $650 express body, $690 with top, fully equipped. I considered it to be the best Truck at the New York shows for the money, and believe you will agree with me when you look carefully over the truck. A 2-cylinder 16 to 20-horse power, 4 cycle water cooled, Remy Magneto and batteries, returned oiling system and throughout the entire car along line that I consider will give satisfaction, and a bargain at $650.

This car has been a 1000 lb. Truck, now for 1912, a 1500 lb.

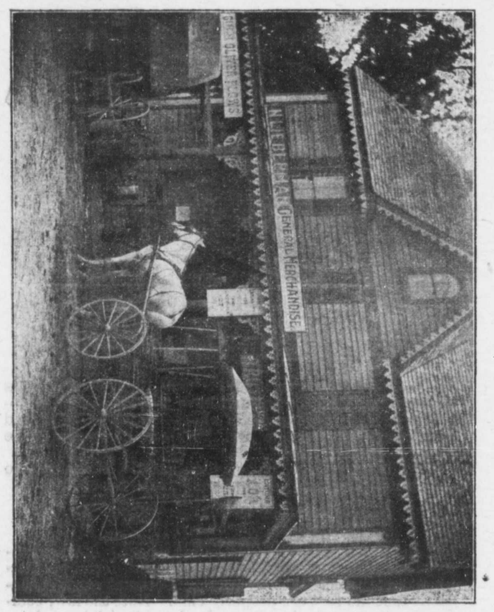

The factory assures me that the 1912 Truck costs over $650, and the price will be advanced to $750 on June 1st. I urge all parties considering a Truck of any make around 1500 lbs. to look the Dart over before the advanced rate on June the first.

Demonstrator at Easton.

The Rowe Truck, from 1500 lbs. to 6 tons. I also have Demonstrator in the 1 to 1½ ton Truck. A 4-cylinder, 35-horse power, returned oiling system, selective transmission and FULL SHAFT, NOISELESS SPIRAL DRIVE of the highest standard, fully guaranteed, and none better built. No side chains or sprockects open to mud.

The price of horse feed to-day is by far more than gasoline. Trucks are now practical and a necessity. A card will bring you either Truck. AGENTS WANTED.

THE OUTLOOK PRAISES WILSON

Upholds His Course Concerning Colonel George Harvey.

"BEST LEADER SINCE TILDEN"

Magazine on Which Colonel Roosevelt Is Contributing Editor Calls New Jersey Governor "a Progressive In Achievement" — "Apparently the Strongest Democratic Candidate." "Appeals to Voters Independent of Party."

By GILBERT T. STEPHENSON.
[Written for the Winston-Salem (N. C.) Sentinel.]

In view of the fact that Theodore Roosevelt is a contributing editor of the Outlook, it must be interesting to see what that magazine thinks of Woodrow Wilson and his candidacy. The following are some of the striking statements about Wilson made during the past fourteen months:

Speaking of the Smith-Martine senatorship fight in New Jersey and Governor Wilson's part in it, the Outlook says editorially under the title "A Victory For Popular Rule" (Feb. 4, 1911): "The election of James E. Martine as the United States senator from New Jersey is a double triumph for Governor Wilson. He has won a victory for the principle of popular rule, and he has given a convincing demonstration of the service which the governor of a state can render as a leader of his party. By the success of his campaign for the election of Mr. Martine Governor Wilson has strengthened the movement for the direct election of United States senators, has done much to establish himself as the real leader of New Jersey's Democracy and has made himself one of the most prominent figures in the field of national political life."

Contrasting the administration of Governor Dix of New York and Governor Wilson of New Jersey, the Outlook (March 25, 1911) says: "Governor Wilson is the proverbial 'Scholar in Politics,' a ready, witty and forceful speaker, equipped with knowledge in a wide range of historical and political topics, and accustomed to draw upon that knowledge for the purpose of instruction—emphatically a student, a man whose administrative capacity has been tested principally in an academic capacity. What is most interesting and significant is that the scholar' avows his belief that a governor should be a leader, and is showing his faith by his works, while the practical man (Dix) is basing his acts on theory, on doctrines of non-interference and non-relief by his passiveness. Dr. Wilson, the student, the scholar, the thinker, is the really 'practical man,' the real executive."

In its issue of April 29, 1911, the Outlook speaks of the Geran direct election law of New Jersey as "a clear instance of the way in which the broader and more intelligent view is finding expression in statutory law," and says: "The Geran act is one of the notable achievements of Governor Wilson, for its passage is due to his leadership. It is a wholesome sign that the people are not content with merely the name of self government, but are determined to use means to secure to themselves the substance."

Speaking of Governor Wilson's western tour, the Outlook (June 10, 1911) says: "The program of legislation secured under his leadership in a single session of the legislature has few parallels in American political history. The people of the United States value a man of deeds as well as words, and, without regard to section or party, have done honor to Governor Wilson because he is a progressive not only in principle, but also in achievement."

The Outlook of Aug. 26, 1911, said: "If he (Wilson) is nominated for the presidency, it will be because of a popular demand, not because of skillful political manipulation. As president of Princeton university he combined a resolve that the door of opportunity should be opened to the sons of the plain people with the resolve that the sons of the rich and poor alike should be tested by a high standard of scholarship. His democratic spirit has been well proved; he believes in the people. It is inconceivable that he should ever be found consciously supporting the special interest against the popular welfare."

Commenting upon the Harvey episode, the Outlook of Jan. 27, 1912, has the following to say: "On the published statements of facts, there is nothing in Governor Wilson's course that is incompatible with a sense of gratitude to a friend and appreciation of his services. If Colonel Harvey did not want his question answered he should not have asked it, and since he did ask it it is scarcely fair to him (Wilson) to give the impression that Governor Wilson 'made a statement' rather than answered a question. The delight with which certain Democrats, as well as Republicans, have welcomed this incident as an injury to Governor Wilson's prospects, is a measure of the impression which Governor Wilson has made on the American people as a progressive leader."

After the letters between Colonel Harvey and Governor Wilson were published the Outlook (Feb. 10, 1912) had the following to say: "There are
